Protectionism And World Welfare:

Protectionism and World Welfare Dominick Salvatore, 1993-09-23 This volume addresses highly topical issues at a crucial time in international economic relations. The world has never been closer to dismantling the liberal multilateral trading system which has been painstakingly established and successfully operated since the Second World War. In this volume many of the world's most distinguished economists examine the movement toward protectionism, bilateralism and regionalism and its causes, effects and possible solutions. The contributors are theorists, researchers and advisors to governments and international organizations who are at the forefront of trade theory, policy and practice and whose analyses have a real impact on international trade. By collecting together these analyses in a single volume, this book provides a unique survey for students and scholars of economics and all those concerned with trade theory and policy in business and government. The New Protectionist Threat to World Welfare Dominick Salvatore, 1987 The New Protectionism Melvyn B.

The New Protectionism and the Threat to World Welfare Dominick Salvatore, 1985 US Hegemony and International Organizations Rosemary Foot, S. Neil MacFarlane, Michael Mastanduno, 2003-02-27 The relationship between a powerful United States of America and some of the central multilateral organizations in global society is an essential feature of contemporary international relations. US Hegemony and International Organizations brings together a range of leading scholars to examine this crucial phenomenon. Its aims are two-fold: to describe and explain US behaviour in and towards a wide range of significant global and regional institutions and secondly to examine the impact of US behavior on the capacity of each organization to meet its own objectives. The study explores US behavior and its consequences for organizations based at the regional as well as the global levels for those located in different regions of the world and for such issue areas as security, economics and the environment. Although focusing on the period since the 1990s, each chapter places its findings in a broader historical context. Governing Cross-Border Data Flows Svetlana Yakovleva, 2024-02-27 Governing Cross Border

Data Flows explores how the European Union can simultaneously reconcile and pursue two important legal and policy objectives: namely protecting fundamental rights guaranteed under the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights (EU Charter) concerning privacy and personal data while also maintaining and developing a binding rules-based global trading system to ensure appropriate access to foreign digital markets for EU businesses. The book demonstrates a significant conflict between international trade law and European data privacy law when it comes to the governance of cross-border flows of personal data. To resolve the tensions caused by this clash, the book proposes concrete and detailed ways to ameliorate the situation from both ends: international trade and personal data protection, specifically through reforms of both international trade and chapter V of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). To explain how such reforms could be effectuated, Yakovleva examines the role of discourse in the evolution of trade law in the last two decades. The book also paves the way for the further research necessary to design a fully fledged reform proposal of the EU framework for the transfer of personal data outside the European Economic Area

Privatization Processes in Eastern Europe Mario Baldassarri, Luigi Paganetto, Edmund S. Phelps, 1993-12-15 Privatizing firms and liberalizing their market environment generates in Eastern Europe a variety of problems many of which are not common to the analogous attempts in industrialized countries A first difference between the two experiences resides in establishing the value of the firm or of the assets that are being privatized A second main difference concerns the lack of the record of market performance for the firm The book explores these open questions through an overview of on going and proposed processes in Section 1 In Section 2 theoretical foundations of privatization processes are proposed with respect to the financial market industrial relations and foreign trade A final key question is faced in Section 3 is there any alternative to privatization
