Protest, Power, and Change Christopher Kruegler, 1997 First Published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company     A Theory of Nonviolent Action Stellan Vinthagen, 2015-11-15 In this ground breaking and much needed book Stellan Vinthagen provides the first major systematic attempt to develop a theory of nonviolent action since Gene Sharp's seminal The Politics of Nonviolent Action in 1973 Employing a rich collection of historical and contemporary social movements from various parts of the world as examples from the civil rights movement in America to anti Apartheid protestors in South Africa to Gandhi and his followers in India and addressing core theoretical issues concerning nonviolent action in an innovative penetrating way Vinthagen argues for a repertoire of nonviolence that combines resistance and construction Contrary to earlier research this repertoire consisting of dialogue facilitation normative regulation power breaking and utopian enactment is shown to be both multidimensional and contradictory creating difficult contradictions within nonviolence while simultaneously providing its creative and transformative force An important contribution in the field A Theory of Nonviolent Action is essential for anyone involved with nonviolent action who wants to think about what they are doing     Psychology of Liberation Maritza Montero, Christopher C. Sonn, 2009-04-28 Since the mid 1980s the psychology of liberation movement has been a catalyst for collective and individual change in communities throughout Latin America and beyond and recent political developments are making its powerful transformative ideas more relevant than ever before Psychology of Liberation Theory and Applications updates the activist frameworks developed by Ignacio Martin Baro and Paulo Freire with compelling stories from the frontlines of conflict in the developing and developed worlds as social science and psychological practice are allied with struggles for peace justice and equality In these chapters liberation is presented as both an ongoing process and a core dimension of wellbeing entailing the reconstruction of social identity and the transformation of all parties involved both oppressed and oppressors It also expands the social consciousness of professionals bringing more profound meaning to practice and enhancing related areas such as peace psychology as shown in articles such as these Philippines the role of liberation movements in the transition to democracy Venezuela liberation psychology as a therapeutic intervention with street youth South Africa the movement for representational knowledge Muslim world religion the state and the gendering of human rights Ireland linking personal and political development Australia addressing issues of racism identity and immigration Colombia building cultures of peace from the devastation of war Psychology of Liberation demonstrates the commitment to overcome social injustices and oppression The book is a critical resource for social and community psychologists as well as policy analysts It can also be used as a text for graduate courses in psychology sociology social work and community studies     Nonviolent Social Movements Stephen Zunes, Sarah Beth Asher, Lester Kurtz, 1991-01-16 Nonviolent Social Movements is the first book to offer a truly global overview of the dramatic growth of popular nonviolent struggles in recent years     Power and Protest Lisa Leitz, 2021-03-02 Examining how marginalized groups use their identities resources cultural traditions violence and non violence to assert power and exert pressure this volume shines a light on the interaction of these groups with governments international organizations businesses and universities

The Design of Protest Tali Hatuka, 2018-08-02 Public protests are a vital tool for asserting grievances and creating temporary yet tangible communities as the world becomes more democratic and urban in the twenty first century While the political and social aspects of protest have been extensively studied little attention has been paid to the physical spaces in which protests happen Yet place is a crucial aspect of protests influencing the dynamics and engagement patterns among participants In The Design of Protest Tali Hatuka offers the first extensive discussion of the act of protest as a design that is a planned event in a space whose physical geometry and symbolic meaning are used and appropriated by its organizers who aim to challenge socio spatial distance between political institutions and the people they should serve Presenting case studies from around the world including Tiananmen Square in Beijing the National Mall in Washington DC Rabin Square in Tel Aviv and the Plaza de Mayo in Buenos Aires Hatuka identifies three major dimensions of public protests the process of planning the protest in a particular place the choice of spatial choreography of the event including the value and meaning of specific tactics and the challenges of performing contemporary protests in public space in a fragmented complex and conflicted world Numerous photographs detailed diagrams and plans complement the case studies which draw upon interviews with city officials urban planners and protesters themselves

Research in Social Movements, Conflicts and Change Patrick G. Coy, 2008-06-16 Presents a series of papers focused on the complex dynamics of coalitions and the interorganizational relations within social movements This volume includes a section which focuses on strategic decision making in social movements including with regard to strategic alliances

Human Rights, Human Dignity, and Cosmopolitan Ideals Matthias Lutz-Bachmann, Amos Nascimento, 2016-05-13 This book makes a significant contribution to the on going international dialogue on the meaning of concepts such as human rights humanity and cosmopolitanism The authors propose a new agenda for research into a Critical Theory of Human Rights Each chapter pursues three goals to reconstruct modern philosophical theories that have contributed to our views on human rights to highlight the importance of humanity and human dignity as a complementary dimension to liberal rights and finally to integrate these issues more directly in contemporary discussions about cosmopolitanism The authors not only present multicultural perspectives on how to rethink political and international theory in terms of the normativity of human rights but also promote an international dialogue on the prospects for a critical theory of human rights discourses in the 21st century

Nonviolent Struggle Sharon Erickson Nepstad, 2015-09-01 From Gandhi s movement to win Indian independence to the Arab Spring uprisings of 2011 an expanding number of citizens have used nonviolent action to win political goals While such events have captured the public imagination they have also generated a new surge of scholarly interest in the field of nonviolence and civil resistance studies Although researchers have produced new empirical data theories and insights into the phenomenon of nonviolent struggle the field is still quite unfamiliar to many students and scholars In Nonviolent Struggle Theories Strategies and Dynamics sociologist Sharon Nepstad provides a succinct introduction to the field of civil resistance studies detailing its genesis key concepts and debates and a summary of empirical findings Nepstad depicts the strategies and dynamics at play in nonviolent struggles and analyzes the factors that shape the trajectory and outcome of civil resistance movements The book draws on a vast array of historical examples including the U S civil rights movement the Indonesian uprising against President Suharto the French Huguenot resistance during World War II and Cesar Chavez s United Farm Workers Nepstad describes both principled and pragmatic nonviolent traditions and explains various categories of nonviolent action concluding with an assessment of areas for future research A comprehensive treatment of the philosophy and strategy of nonviolent resistance Nonviolent Struggle is essential reading for students scholars and anyone with a general interest in peace studies and social change

Responses to Nonviolent Campaigns Majken Jul Sørensen, 2015-08-09 This booklet introduces a model that can be used to analyse responses to a variety of civil resistance campaigns whether they are aimed at overthrowing dictatorships ending occupations or are social movements in democracies The model includes five main types of response with several subcategories from Introduction page 3

Unarmed Insurrections Kurt Schock, 2005 In the last two decades of the twentieth century a wave of people power movements erupted throughout the nondemocratic world In South Africa the Philippines Nepal Thailand Burma Myanmar China and elsewhere mass protest demonstrations strikes boycotts civil disobedience and other nonviolent actions were brought to bear on a rigid political status quo Kurt Schock compares the successes of the antiapartheid movement in South Africa the people power movement in the Philippines the pro democracy movement in Nepal and the antimilitary movement in Thailand with the failures of the pro democracy movement in China and the anti regime challenge in Burma Schock develops a synthetic framework that allows him to identify which characteristics increase the resilience of a challenge to state repression and which aspects of a state s relations can be exploited by such a challenge By looking at how these methods of protest promoted regime change in some countries but not in others this book provides rare insight into the often overlooked and little understood power of nonviolent action

Nonviolence Senthil Ram, Ralph Summy, 2008 The so called war on terror has gone badly for the West playing directly into the strategy of al Qaeda and the rest of the terrorist network Why did this happen Were there other approaches that might have been implemented with better prospects of success This edited collection of perspectives on the non violent counter to terrorism opens the topic to serious consideration The development of a non violent paradigm brings into sharp focus the deficiencies of present thinking and paves the way for comprehending how non violence might overcome those deficiencies and introduce viable alternatives Since there is a general ignorance about the history theory and operational dynamics of non violence these aspects are featured throughout the book and related to the special case of terrorism To understand empathetically the background and mind set of the opponent without condoning his actions to study his culture to avoid the strategic trap he has set to examine the different gender reactions of a Muslim Society to differentiate between non violent Islam and Islamic Terrorism to jettison the misinformed baggage we carry about violence to appreciate the positive role education and aesthetics can play and to investigate ways in which a non violent counter to terrorism might be staged including a Gandhian response These are just some of the tasks that the contributors have collectively pursued Their ideas excitingly open up a whole new set of possibilities for a more peaceful world

Peace and Conflict Studies Ho-Won Jeong,2017-07-05 Ho Won Jeong explains and assesses major approaches to dealing with ethnic conflict communal violence inter state war and social injustice The book analyses not only the sources of violence and conflict but also how to manage and prevent them As peace is relevant to improvement in human well being and the future survival of humanity the volume encompasses a variety of themes ranging from alternative security policies methods of peaceful settlement human rights self determination environmental politics global governance and non violence Reflecting on the current thinking and drawing lessons from the past the book can be considered as the most authoritative introduction to the field since the end of the Cold War

Green Politics Dustin Mulvaney,2010-05-04 A hallmark of the past 100 years has been the greening of political thought and practice Today there are green political parties green organizations and green consumer goods all of which show how our decisions to organize donate and consume have been infused with green politics which in many ways is all about values Green politics has grown in the popular imagination as well Every day there are headlines about climate change impacts of resource extraction or chemical pollution in poor neighborhoods Underlying all of these stories are classic political questions about power representation and ultimate values Green Politics An A to Z Guide covers the availability and distribution of such resources as energy and how they impact economic development domestic politics and international cooperation and conflict Other issues of equal importance to be covered include watershed resources what happens when countries share a river and one country siphons off or pollutes waters before they reach other countries other natural resources for instance industrialized countries attempting to dictate to developing countries about rainforest resources whaling countries versus those seeking total bans on whaling as an industry air pollution global health and epidemiology e g constraining the spread of potential pandemics radioactive fall out across countries from nuclear accidents like Chernobyl From A to Z the politics of these and similar green issues are thoroughly explored via 150 signed entries Vivid photographs searchable hyperlinks numerous cross references an extensive resource guide and a clear accessible writing style make the Green Society volumes ideal for classroom use as well as for research

Civil Society, Peace, and Power David Cortright,Melanie Greenberg,Laurel Stone,2016-10-12 Civil society plays an increasingly powerful role in the global landscape emerging as key actors in preventing and managing conflict and building more peaceful and sustainable societies The multiple case studies featured in this volume illustrate the growth of civil society involvement in national regional and international peacebuilding policy The focus is on multi stakeholder systems based approaches to peacebuilding and human security that involve diverse civil society groups NGOs religious organizations media etc government agencies intergovernmental organizations and security forces This unique comprehensive approach encompasses diverse stakeholders seeking to understand the drivers of conflict and the possibilities for working together to build peace The book illustrates how the involvement of civil society can result in better informed more inclusive more accountable government decision making and more effective peacebuilding policies Importantly a number of the case studies provide a gender perspective on peacebuilding and civil society issues voicing and giving attention to women s perspectives without being focused only on gender issues Further authors from the Global South offer the perspectives of those directly immersed in ongoing struggles for justice and peace Progressive Community
