Protracted Contest:

Protracted Contest John W. Garver, 2001 Drawing upon interviews with key figures who have shaped the diplomatic history of China and India as well as the extensive record of government documents and media reports Garver offers a scrupulous examination of the Sino Indian relationship over the last 50 years North American Review, 1862 The North American Review, 1862 The North American Review Jared Sparks, Edward Everett, James Russell Lowell, Henry Cabot Lodge, 1862 Vols 277 230 no 2 include Stuff and nonsense v 5 6 no 8 Jan 1929 Aug 1930 The American Journal of Education and College Review Henry Barnard, 1857 How the United States Would Fight China Franz-Stefan Gady, 2025-08-15 This book dissects precisely how the United States imagines fighting the People's Republic of China and why it risks failing Franz Stefan Gady contends that the US military approach to a potential conflict over Taiwan is unlikely to succeed relying heavily on both rapidly established information superiority and a decisive victory This may increase the threat of nuclear escalation between the world's only superpowers The more likely scenario is a prolonged war of attrition across land sea air space and cyberspace America's society armed forces and industrial capacity are ill prepared for this a deficiency stemming from a military culture that prioritises advanced technology over mass and from a lack of public or political will for the sacrifices required by such a conflict Gady's superb research and analysis based on US doctrine force structure and general ways of war reveal the significant risks to the United States in a potential conflict with China whether in the 2020s or 2030s Regional Conflict Management Paul Francis Diehl, Joseph Lepgold, 2003 This collection of original essays is one of the first to examine the implications and efficacy of regional conflict management in the new world order Nepal and the Geo-Strategic Rivalry between China and India Sanjay Upadhyaya, 2012-02-27 The importance of the Himalayan state of Nepal has been obscured by the international campaign to free Tibet and the vicissitudes of the Sino Indian rivalry This book presents the history of Nepal's domestic politics and foreign relations from ancient to modern times Analysing newly declassified reports from the United States and Britain published memoirs oral recollections and interviews the book presents the historical interactions between Nepal China Tibet and India It discusses how the ageing and inevitable death of the 14th Dalai Lama the radicalization of Tibetan diaspora and the ascendancy of the international campaign to free Tibet are of increasing importance to Nepal With its position between China and India the book notes how the focus could shift to Nepal with it being home to some 20 000 Tibetan refugees and its chronic political turmoil deepened by the Asian giants rivalry Using a chronological approach the past and present of the rivalry between China and India are studied and attempts to chart the future are made The book contributes to a new understanding of the intricate relationship of Nepal with these neighbouring countries and is of interest to students and scholars of South Asian studies politics and international relations The Clash of Ideas in World Politics John M. Owen IV, 2010-07-19 Some blame the violence and unrest in the Muslim world on Islam itself arguing that the religion and its history is inherently bloody Others blame the United States arguing that American attempts to spread democracy by force have destabilized the region and that these efforts are somehow radical or unique Challenging these views The Clash of Ideas in World Politics reveals how the Muslim world is in the throes of an ideological struggle that extends far beyond the Middle East and how struggles like it have been a recurring feature of international relations since the dawn of the modern European state John Owen examines more than two hundred cases of forcible regime promotion over the past five centuries offering the first systematic study of this common state practice He looks at conflicts between Catholicism and Protestantism between 1520 and the 1680s republicanism and monarchy between 1770 and 1850 and communism fascism and liberal democracy from 1917 until the late 1980s He shows how regime promotion can follow regime unrest in the eventual target state or a war involving a great power and how this can provoke elites across states to polarize according to ideology Owen traces how conflicts arise and ultimately fade as one ideology wins favor with more elites in more countries and he demonstrates how the struggle between secularism and Islamism in Muslim countries today reflects broader transnational trends in world history

The US Pivot and Indian Foreign Policy H. Pant, Y. Joshi, 2015-11-05 China's exponential rise and America's relative decline have led to a transition of power in contemporary Asia The US pivot towards Asia is the most evident manifestation of such a transition and Indian foreign policy shows signs of a hedging strategy with attempts to strengthen ties with both China and the US

China and India Waheguru Pal Singh Sidhu, Jing Dong Yuan, 2003 The hardline view of Sino Indian relations found in the published reports of Indian and Chinese security analysts is often at considerable odds with the more tempered opinions those same analysts express in private interviews and conversations What is the reality of the increasingly important security relationship between the two countries The authors of this new study address that question in depth Sidhu and Yuan explore a range of key issues including mutual distrust and misperception perhaps the most important factor the undemarcated border the status of Tibet and Sikkim trade the tussle over various nonproliferation treaties terrorism the regional roles of the U S and Pakistan and the impact of domestic public opinion and special interests They do see a trend toward a more pragmatic approach in Beijing and New Delhi to managing differences and broadening the agenda of common interests Nevertheless they conclude significant obstacles remain to the amicable relationship necessary for regional peace and stability posing a daunting challenge to policymakers in these two rising powers
