

GESTALT LAW OF PROXIMITY

The law of proximity states that individual elements that are placed close to each other are perceived as belonging together.

ILLUSTRATION

The image below demonstrates grouping based on proximity.

So, when looking at the image above, we see the dots on the left as belonging to one group, and the dots on the right as belonging to a separate group.

EXAMPLES

- Stars clustered together are seen as a formation in the sky, leading to their interpretation as star signs in astrology.
- Putting a blank space between paragraphs in a report or academic paper helps the reader understand that the next set of sentences will present a new idea.

Ecosystems Sophie Boutillier,Denis Carré,Nadine Levratto,2016-05-09 In today s rapidly changing business landscape entrepreneurship is growing and actively promoted by policy makers Several reports explore the influence of entrepreneurship on the economy and put some emphasis on its positive influence GDP per capita unemployment and exports However entrepreneurship does not go per se and it is now broadly admitted that the decision of the entrepreneur is narrowly connected with its environment the so called entrepreneurial ecosystem This book show why policymakers entrepreneurship supporters and entrepreneurs themselves should keep in mind the locally structured nature of entrepreneurial networks Even if the notion of Entrepreneurial Ecosystem has become quite popular among the international organization development agencies and public administrations this concept is often considered as a new one having its origins in very recent publications This books aims at showing that entrepreneurial ecosystems have their roots in the history of economic thought and that scholars have long been conscious of their importance Instead of insisting upon the diversity of agents involved in these organizations it also put some emphasis on the importance of the linkages and sharing between them and suggests some orientations in view of a performing evaluation system The Pictorial World of the Child Maureen Cox,2005-11-17 This lavishly illustrated book gives a comprehensive and scholarly account of children s understanding and appreciation of art and their developing ability to produce their own pictures It discusses the main influences on children s picture making and considers the intriguing question does children s art follow the same pattern of development as the history of art As well as discussing the artistic development of typically developing children the book also includes a discussion of children with intellectual disabilities and those with a talent for art some of whom are children with autism

Territories Cara Nine, 2022-03-24 In Sharing Territories Cara Nine defends a river model of territorial rights. On a river model, groups are assumed to be interdependent and overlapping. If we imagine human settlements and territorial rights as established in river catchment areas, not on lands with walls and borders, the primary features of group life are not independence and distinctness. Drawing on natural law philosophy, Nine's theory argues for the establishment of foundational territories around geographical areas like rivers. Usually, lower scale political entities, foundational territories, overlap with and serve as the grounding blocks of larger territorial units. Examples of foundational territories include not only river catchment areas but also urban areas drawn around individuals who hold obligations to collectively manage their surroundings. Foundational territorial authorities manage spatially integrated areas where agents are interconnected by dense and scaffolded physical circumstances. In these areas, individuals cannot fulfil their natural obligations to each other without the help of collective rules. As foundational territories overlap the territories of other political units, Nine frames a theory of nested and shared territorial rights and argues for insightful changes to the allocation of resource rights between political groups and individuals. ICIE 2016 Proceedings of the 4th International Conference on Innovation and Entrepreneurship Dr Kenneth A. Grant and Dr Sean Wise, 2016 Reconceptualising Multilingualism on African Radio Limukani Mathe, Gilbert Motsaathebe, 2025-01-31 This book redefines multilingualism via the concept of radio in Africa. Africa presents unique challenges of lingual diversity which the media still struggles to accommodate, particularly when it comes to indigenous languages. Contributors argue that the linguistic realities of African radio reflect ethnic co-existence and fluidity of identity in pre-colonial, colonial, and post-colonial contexts. They argue that communities consist of several majorized and minoritized indigenous languages which, if closely analysed, reflect a commonality of multilingualism. The book also suggests practical measures through which linguistic co-existence could be achieved and explores cases that redefine, reconceptualize, and reframe multilingualism on African radio. Theories of Visual Perception Ian E. Gordon, 2004-09-30 A clear, critical account of the major approaches to understanding visual perception. It explains why approaches to theories of visual perception differ so widely and places each theory into its historical and philosophical context. Standardizing Pharmacology: Assays and Hormones Michael J. Parnham, Clive Page, Jacques Bruinvels, 2023-02-23 Standardizing Pharmacology: Assays and Hormones Volume Two in the Discoveries in Pharmacology series presents selected articles from historic discoveries that are enhanced with commentary from contemporary scholars who present discussions on the importance of each chapter along with an updated bibliography on the subject and contributions from a Nobel Prize winner and other pioneers in pharmacology. Sections cover key discoveries in receptor theory, pharmacological methods, and the development of hormone therapy, including J. Parascandola on the development of receptor theory, R. S. Yalow on radioimmunoassay, M. van Rossum and J. T. L. A. Hurkmans on bioassays, M. Tausk on androgen
