Psychiatric Services In The Community Developments And Innovations:

Psychiatric Services in the Community John Reed, Gillian Lomas, 1984-01-01 Innovating in Community Mental Health Rockwell Schulz, James R. Greenley, 1995-11-14 Innovating in Community Mental Health presents lively examples of successful attempts to change mental health service systems in innovative ways to achieve the goal of providing care for persons with severe mental illness. These examples are drawn from such diverse national settings as Italy, Russia, Germany, England, China, and the United States and involve a range of strategies from treatment teams of professionals, grassroots community organizations, consumer cooperatives, professional volunteer teamwork, and housing based alternatives. The stories of these varied innovations are told by established knowledgeable scholars from each of the featured countries. The editors help us understand the triumphs and pitfalls involved in these innovations through the presentation of a broad research based theory of innovation and change which is used to guide the presentation of the examples and subsequently to determine their similarities and differences. Through the theoretical framework presented, the nuances of the process of innovation are highlighted, including the importance of the type of innovation itself, the wider environmental influences, place of internal organizational structures, and the role of the individual change agent. Through this framework and the examples presented, the reader is given indications of how innovation and change may be possible in such diverse and seemingly difficult situations and also of how effective strategies for change might be chosen by administrators, providers, and other policymakers.

Professor Chiu and Dr Ames provide us with the first comprehensive text to deal with all the non dementing psychiatric disorders in a practical guide and exhaustive reference. Interfacing psychiatry and somatic medicine and confronting the issues of co morbidity, this text clearly outlines our core knowledge about clinical problems, discussing appropriate treatments and highlighting areas for future research. Along with case histories which bring much of the detail into lively focus, chapters are neatly cross referenced and are rich in practical advice for multidisciplinary management strategies. A unique group of contributors of international renown includes members of a number of allied health disciplines relevant to old age psychiatry. This text is sure to be of widespread interest.
