get to the original edition just as Kipling wrote it without having an actual first edition book in one's hand Just So Stories. by Rudyard Kipling, 2017-01-22 Just So Stories for Little Children is a 1902 collection of origin stories by the British author Rudyard Kipling. Considered a classic of children's literature, the book is among Kipling's best-known works. Kipling began working on the book by telling the first three chapters as bedtime stories to his daughter Josephine. These had to be told just so exactly in the words she was used to or she would complain. The stories describe how one animal or another acquired its most distinctive features such as how the Leopard got his spots. For the book, Kipling illustrated the stories himself. The stories have appeared in a variety of adaptations including a musical and animated films. Evolutionary biologists have noted that what Kipling did in fiction they have done in reality, providing explanations for the evolutionary development of animal features. The stories first published in 1902 are origin stories, fantastic accounts of how various features of animals came to be. A forerunner of these stories is Kipling's How Fear Came in The Second Jungle Book 1895. In it, Mowgli hears the story of how the tiger got his stripes. The Just So Stories each tell how a particular animal was modified from an original form to its current form by the acts of man or some magical being. For example, the Whale has a tiny throat because he swallowed a mariner who tied a raft inside to block the whale from swallowing other men. The Camel has a hump given to him by a djinn as punishment for the camel's refusing to work; the hump allows the camel to work longer between times of eating. The Leopard's spots were painted by an Ethiopian after the Ethiopian painted himself black. The Kangaroo gets its powerful hind legs, long tail, and hopping gait after being chased all day by a dingo sent by a minor god responding to the Kangaroo's request to be made different from all other animals. The Just So Stories began as bedtime stories told to his daughter Effie Josephine Kipling's firstborn when the first three were published in a children's magazine a year before her death. Kipling explained in the evening there were stories meant to put Effie to sleep and you were not allowed to alter those by one single little word. They had to be told just so or Effie would wake up and put back the missing sentence. So at last they came to be like charms, all three of them: the whale tale, the camel tale, and the rhinoceros tale. Joseph Rudyard Kipling 30 December 1865 18 January 1936 was an English journalist, short story writer, poet, and novelist. Kipling's works of fiction include The Jungle Book 1894, Kim 1901, and many short stories including The Man Who Would Be King 1888. His poems include Mandalay 1890, Gunga Din 1890, The Gods of the Copybook Headings 1919, The White Man's Burden 1899, and If 1910. He is regarded as a major innovator in the art of the short story; his children's books are classics of children's literature, and one critic described his work as exhibiting a versatile and luminous narrative gift. Kipling was one of the most popular writers in the United Kingdom in both prose and verse in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Henry James said Kipling strikes me personally as the most complete man of genius as distinct from fine intelligence that I have ever known. In 1907, at the age of 42, he was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature, making him the first English language writer to receive the prize and its youngest recipient to date. He was also sounded out for the British Poet Laureateship and on several occasions for a knighthood, both of which he declined Kipling's subsequent reputation has changed according to the political and social climate of the age and the resulting contrasting views about him continued for much of the 20th century

The Jungle Book by Rudyard Kipling \(illustrated Edition\) Rudyard Kipling, 2022-02-26 The Jungle Book 1894 is a collection of stories by English author Rudyard Kipling. The stories were first published in magazines in 1893-94. The original publications contain illustrations, some by Rudyard's father John Lockwood Kipling. Kipling was born in India and spent the first six years of his childhood there. After about ten years in England, he went back to India and worked there for about six and a half years. These stories were written when Kipling lived in Vermont. There is evidence that it was written for his daughter Josephine, who died in 1899, aged six, after a rare first edition of the book with a poignant handwritten note by the author to his young daughter was discovered at the National Trust's Wimpole Hall in Cambridgeshire in 2010. The tales in the book, and also those in The Second Jungle Book which followed in 1895 and which includes five further stories about Mowgli, are fables using animals in an anthropomorphic manner to give moral lessons. The verses of The Law of the Jungle, for example, lay down rules for the safety of individuals, families, and communities. Kipling put in them nearly everything he knew or heard or dreamed about the Indian jungle. Other readers have interpreted the work as allegories of the politics and society of the time. The best known of them are the three stories revolving around the adventures of an abandoned man-cub Mowgli, who is raised by wolves in the Indian jungle. The most famous of the other stories are probably Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, the story of a heroic mongoose, and Toomai of the Elephants, the tale of a young elephant handler. As with much of Kipling's work, each of the stories is preceded by a piece of verse and succeeded by another.
