The First Twenty-One Ray Warden,2016-11-21 Many years ago probably around thirty or forty I used to relate to friends and family some of the happenings to me when I was very young and when I was growing up and they seemed amazed that I was able to remember so far back and also in such detail Now to me it seemed normal as I ve always thought that when one has some sort of incident or situation that is profound in its entirety then it is impressed into the brain Whether it is something traumatic or joyful it stamps itself into your memory bank So as Ive said I was always being asked to try and write down my memories of certain times in my childhood and youth but of course the biggest drawback was finding the time to be able to do it when you have a family and are engaged in earning a livingwhich was of course the priorityand other things took precedence his tragic defection to the rebel Indian Cricket League in 2008 a defection forced upon him many believe by the self serving intransigence of New Zealand's cricketing administrators For a period of six years Bond was one of the most feared bowlers in world cricket The quickest New Zealander to reach 50 one day international wickets including a national best of 6 for 22 against Australia in the 2003 World Cup his potential was only limited by his susceptibility to injury having suffered crippling stress fractures in his feet and back His fast inswinging yorker commanded the respect of the best batsmen in the game but only when he's fit He took 13 wickets at 9.23 against Zimbabwe in 2005 including 10 for 99 in the second Test at Bulawayo his first ten wicket haul and in the process became the quickest among all New Zealand bowlers to get to 50 Test wickets achieving the mark in only his 12th match His 5 for 23 in the first game of the Chappell Hadlee Trophy in February 2007 augured well for Bond's second World Cup He picked up 13 wickets in the tournament and finished as the most economical bowler Signed up with the unsanctioned ICL T20 tournament in 2007 and was controversially precluded from representing New Zealand for 18 months However he severed his ties with the ICL in 2009 and was signed welcomed back to the international fold Made a sensational return to test cricket in 2009 with a match winning performance against Pakistan in Dunedin Retired from test cricket after that match and from all international cricket after the 2010 T20 World Cup in the West Indies
