Connor the laird's brother is rumored to be vicious and cruel Tsk tis just rumors Her father waved dismissively his face reddening Dinnae pay them any mind Connor married that Finnigan lass and by all accounts she seems well enough Besides Ewan MacNeil is spoken of favorably and he appears to be a reasonable sort of man Lileas clasped her hands before her chest her eyes wide with hope But will he allow me to create things to continue studying with the nuns Her father whirled around to face her his expression thunderous As if any husband would allow that This is all my fault After your mother's death I indulged your peculiar ways too long But now tis time to do your duty for the clan Perhaps there is another woman he could marry Lileas reached out toward him her voice trembling No Her father's voice boomed through the chamber as he resumed his agitated pacing Tis you and you alone We need this alliance Lileas He stopped abruptly and pointed at her Dinnae be so selfish as to deny the entire clan good fortune for once Lileas moved closer gesturing toward the window and the lands beyond But I can help the clan in other ways Who told the farmers to rotate their crops for better yield I did and now we have grain aplenty She swept her arm toward her inventions scattered about the room Who created a better system for bringing water to the fields That was me Father Her father's shoulders sagged slightly before he straightened again his jaw set Aye ye did well lass but only because there were men who could do the work He shook his head his voice growing stern Without them your ideas would be nothing Lileas's hands clenched into fists at her sides her face flushing with indignation Without me they would have no ideas and we would have starved last winter Och enough Her father slammed his hand down on her work table making the bottles rattle I will not be contradicted on this You've been allowed too much freedom His eyes blazed as he leaned forward Now tis time you submit The marriage will proceed and that's final He turned on his heel and strode toward the door his cloak billowing behind him Lileas was seething as she paced the length of her chamber after her father departed All she could see before her were years of despair living under a tyrant's rule for it was true that any man she married would never understand her Even her own clan thought her daft She had watched her dearest friends succumb to arranged marriages babies and the never ending monotony of creating comfortable lives for their husbands She had long ago concluded that men were the beneficiaries of marriage rarely women Lileas knew in her very bones that if she were stifled from her creativity her soul would wither and die The lord had made her this way Surely he would not have given her such a curious mind if he had not intended her to use it With that conviction burning in her heart she made a plan It was really the only option left to her Exactly one week before her wedding day Lady Lileas MacDonald ran away
