Rural Transformation in Hungary György Enyedi, 1976 Rural Transformation in Hungary P. C. Joshi, 1979 The Modernization of Agriculture Joseph Held, 1980 The Modernization of Agriculture: Rural Transformation in Hungary, 1848-1945, 1980 The Transition to Democracy in Hungary Dae Soon Kim, 2013-07-18 Unlike in other countries of Eastern Europe where the opposition to communism came in the form of single mass movements led by charismatic leaders such as Václav Havel and Lech Wałęsa in Hungary the opposition was very fragmented brought together and made effective only by the authoritative significant but relatively unknown Imre Nagy who subsequently became Hungary's first post communist president This book charts the political career of Imre Nagy outlining the outstanding contribution he made to Hungary's transition to democracy Drawing on a wide range of sources including archives and interviews with Nagy himself and others it shows how Nagy unlike Havel who was a playwright and whose political role was largely symbolic was a campaigning politician all his life consistently advocating social democratic but not communist values Imprisoned from 1956 for his participation in the 1956 uprising Nagy was a highly effective political operator in the transition period around 1989 and as president wielded real power effectively As politics in Hungary are again marred by deep division and fragmentation Nagy's success in bringing rival groups together is even more pronounced Agriculture and Economic Development in Europe Since 1870 Pedro Lains, Vicente Pinilla, 2008-09-11 Whilst many books on the European economy have focused on the analysis of its industrial sectors this book draws attention to the often ignored contribution made by the development of European agriculture over the past two centuries In doing so the authors adopt a revisionist perspective on the subject addressing the lack of coherent study of the agricultural sector and reassessing old theories about the links between agricultural and economic development In focusing on those countries which by 1870 still had a large agricultural sector namely France Germany Italy Denmark The Netherlands Sweden Spain Portugal Poland Hungary Greece and Turkey this book determines the role of the agricultural sector in the economic development of Europe These chapters demonstrate how the rate of development in the agricultural sector depended on specific industrial political and market conditions the diversity of ways and timings through which transformation was achieved is also considered Tazlar, a village in Hungary C.M.
