

5 STEPS TO SAFER CYCLING

Bike during the day in low-traffic areas.

Does the Tour of Utah motivate you to dust off your bicycle? Michael Henrie, D.O., a sports medicine physician at University of Utah Health, offers these tips to stay safe while cycling:

Using a flashing LED headlight and tail light to increase your visibility.

Ditch the headphones. "Listening to music while biking can impair your ability to hear pedestrians and traffic," Henrie says.

Wearing a helmet reduces risk for head injury by up to 85%. Make sure yours fits properly. It should sit level and snug on your head, two finger widths above your eyes.

Wear bright colors, and use reflective gear so that others can see you KNOW THE RULES OF THE ROAD Obey traffic rules. Bike on the right side of the road, use hand signals and ride defensively.

Cycling Futures Regine Gerike, John Parkin, 2016-03-09 Pointing the way to the future of research and development in relation to cycling as a mode of transport, this book investigates some of the significant recent developments in the technology, provision for, and take-up of cycling in various parts of the world. Tensions at the heart of the nature of cycling remain: on the one hand, cycling is frequently viewed as being a risky activity, while on the other hand, it is seen as being a way of allowing populations to live healthier lives. Reviewing this dichotomy, the authors in this book consider the ways that cycling is planned and promoted. This is done partly in relation to these issues of risk and health, but also from the broader perspective of behavioural response to the changing nature of cycling. A section on methodologies is also included, which outlines the current state of the art and points a way to future research.
