Christ, Shepherd of the Nations Jon Morales, 2017-12-28 Does John's Apocalypse envision destruction or salvation for the nations of the world Scholarly views on this issue range from extreme total destruction to extreme universal salvation Jon Morales maintains that the question must be reframed to highlight not only the destiny of the nations but also their dilemma within the drama of world history Using narrative methodology Morales asks four key questions concerning the nations What is John's story of the nations How does he tell this story What is John's message to the nations And what is his message to the church concerning the nations Literary characters cannot be understood in the abstract but must be rather discovered sequentially in the development of an entire narrative The nations in Revelation are no exception Understanding that previous studies have neglected to situate the nations within Revelation's larger plot or in interaction with other narrative characters Morales concludes that John's purpose is to show that the nations belong to God John achieves his purpose in part by deploying a novel metaphor virtually unexplored until now Christ shepherd of the nations Priesthood and Temple in

John's Apocalypse Timothy B. Tse, 2024-12-12 Timothy B Tse argues that while John uses language drawn from the Hebrew Bible's descriptions of YHWH's dwelling place, scholarship has overlooked the importance of his spatial transformation of that language. Tse thus uses theories relating to Relevance Resistance Theory, Critical Space Theory, and Conceptual Metaphor to demonstrate that a significant part of John's apocalyptic strategy of resistance is to re-present his vision to his audience spatially so that they can experience a divinely ordained alternative to the world in which they live. Tse first demonstrates John's attempts to relegate his audience's experience of space to his own revelation. John's description of the visionary world creates the metaphors: the earth is a Sanctuary and the Saints are its priests. Tse argues that under this view, life on earth must be evaluated according to the concerns of the Sanctuary, which by definition requires the removal of everything impure, and the Saints, namely all Christians in both the historic and visionary worlds, must take priestly responsibility for the earth. John therefore portrays the Saints joining in the removal of all impurity upon the earth by fighting as priests in God and the Lamb's war against Satan, Babylon, and all her impurities. Tse concludes that overall, John means to realign the church's experience of space so that they understand themselves as priests of the Sanctuary and live according to that reality. The
