Long Long Ago In Jerusalem:

Long Ago God Spoke William Lee Holladay,1995 How can we get beyond perceived barriers and find in the Old Testament the speech of God for today What do we do with the battles the worldview the wonders and wrath of God Holladay offers clear guidance for these and a host of other questions and topics in this most useful book which functions as an innovative introduction to the Old Testament and its theology

Long Long Ago Alexander Woollcott,2022-08-16 In Long Long Ago Alexander Woollcott crafts an engaging narrative that seamlessly blends memoir and reflection celebrating the richness of past experiences while exploring the evolution of personal and cultural identity Woollcott s literary style is characterized by his distinctively sharp wit keen observations and eloquent prose drawing readers into a vivid tapestry of memories that traverse time place and emotion Set against the backdrop of a rapidly changing America during the early 20th century this work offers both a nostalgic homage and a critical lens through which to understand the social fabric of Woollcott s era Alexander Woollcott a prominent figure of the New York literary scene and a member of the Algonquin Round Table was known for his astute commentary on society and culture His experiences as a journalist theater critic and radio personality informed his perspectives on the human condition and the stories we share Woollcott s life was marked by his adventurism and immense curiosity elements that resonate deeply throughout the chapters of this book creating a personal connection that many readers will find relatable Highly recommended for those interested in literary history and the interplay of personal narrative with broader cultural themes Long Long Ago invites readers to reflect on their own pasts while engaging with the complexities of memory itself Woollcott s unique storytelling will not only entertain but also provoke thought about the intersections of life art and society

Long Time Passing Susan Galleymore,2009-02-20 Susan Galleymore the mother of a US soldier chose not to wait at home for her son to return or to die Instead she left for Iraq to visit him at the base where he was stationed This is a remarkable portrait of what it means to be a mother in a time of war She tells of her continuing journey through the Middle East interviewing mothers in war zones including Iraq Israel and the West Bank Lebanon Syria Afghanistan and the United States In exploring how mothers cope with war Galleymore confronts many issues including the treatment of veterans alarming US military recruitment techniques conscientious objection and AWOL courts martial and the failures of military leadership She explores cultural differences and examines common assumptions civilians hold about war and why troops themselves are hesitant to share their own stories for fear of psychological breakdown Long Time Passing gets to the heart of war and warriors mothers and children and explores the limits of courage and fear national we group as a way of counteracting Israeli attempts to sow divisions among them whether through Israeli politics or through the dominant public discourse in Israel. However, a closer look reveals the fragility of this homogenizing we image which masks a variety of internal tensions and conflicts. By applying methods and concepts from biographical research and figurational sociology, the articles in this volume offer an analysis of the Middle East conflict that goes beyond the polar opposition between Israelis and Palestinians. On the basis of case studies from five urban regions in Palestine and Israel: Bethlehem, Ramallah, East Jerusalem, Haifa, and Jaffa, the authors explore the importance of belonging, collective self-images, and different forms of social differentiation within Palestinian communities. For each region, this is bound up with an analysis of the relevant social and socio-political contexts and family and life histories. The analysis of locally different figurations means focusing on the perspective of Palestinians as members of different religious, socio-economic, political, or generational groupings and local group constellations, for instance between Christians and Muslims or between long-time residents and refugees. The following scholars have contributed to this volume: Ahmed Albaba, Johannes Becker, Hendrik Hinrichsen, Gabriele Rosenthal, Nicole Witte, Arne Worm, and Rixta Wundrak. Gabriele Rosenthal is a sociologist and professor of Qualitative Methodology at the Center of Methods in Social Sciences, University of Göttingen. Her major research focus is the intergenerational impact of collective and familial history on biographical structures and actional patterns of individuals and family systems. Her current research deals with ethnicity, ethno-political conflicts, and the social construction of borders. She is the author and editor of numerous books, including The Holocaust in Three Generations (2009), Interpretative Sozialforschung (2011), and together with Artur Bogner, Ethnicity, Belonging, and Biography (2009). Franks and Saracens Avner Falk, 2024-11-29. Franks and Saracens is the first and only book to examine the Crusades from the viewpoint of psychoanalysis, studying the hidden emotions and fantasies that drove the Crusaders and the Muslims to undertake their terrible wars. Using original documents as well as secondary sources, Avner Falk demonstrates that the deepest and most powerful motives for the Crusades were not only religious or territorial or the quest for lands, wealth, or titles, but also unconscious emotions and fantasies about one's country, one's religion, one's enemies, God, and the Devil. Us and Them. The book demonstrates the collective inability to mourn large group losses and the collective needs of large groups, such as nations and religions, to develop a clear identity, to have boundaries, and to have enemies and allies. Falk investigates the unconscious dynamics of the Crusades both on the individual and on the collective level to understand why the Crusading fantasies persisted for nearly two centuries and why the northern Crusades went on until the early fifteenth century. This updated edition adds a new chapter on collective trauma, both as cause and as consequence of the Crusades, and has been fully revised to include literature on trauma and other psychological aspects of the Crusades. Franks and Saracens will be of great interest to historians, political scientists, medievalists, psychologists, psychiatrists, psychoanalysts, anthropologists, and sociologists interested in questions of conflict, fantasy, and identity, collective psychological processes, and to academics of the
