Online Collective Action Nitin Agarwal, Merlyna Lim, Rolf T. Wigand, 2014-08-01 This work addresses the gap in the current collective action literature exposed by the new Information and Communication Technologies ICTs landscape by bringing together qualitative and quantitative studies from computational and social sciences The book offers a rigorous and systematic investigation of both methodological and theoretical underpinnings and thus collectively promotes a symbiotic and synergistic advancement of the multiple interconnected disciplines in studying online collective actions More specifically the book is intended to illuminate several fundamental and powerful yet theoretically undeveloped and largely unexplored aspects of collective action in the participatory media e.g. social media Through in depth exploration of relevant concepts theories methodologies applications and case studies the reader will gain an advanced understanding of collective action with the advent of the new generation of ICTs enabled by social media and the Internet The developed theories will be valuable and comprehensive references for those interested in examining the role of ICTs not only in collective action but also in decision and policy making understanding the dynamics of interaction collaboration cooperation communication as well as information flow and propagation and social network research for years to come Further the book also serves as an extensive repository of data sets and tools that can be used by researchers leading to a deeper and more fundamental understanding of the dynamics of the crowd in online collective actions Beautiful Beaded & Embroidered Fabric

A bold reorientation of art history that bridges the divide between fine art and material culture through an examination of objects and their uses Art history is often viewed through cultural or national lenses that define some works as fine art while relegating others to the category of craft Global Objects points the way to an interconnected history of art examining a broad array of functional aesthetic objects that transcend geographic and temporal boundaries and challenging preconceived ideas about what is and is not art Avoiding traditional binaries such as East versus West and fine art versus decorative art Edward Cooke looks at the production consumption and circulation of objects made from clay fiber wood and nonferrous base metals Carefully considering the materials and process of making and connecting process to product and people he demonstrates how objects act on those who look at use and acquire them He reveals how objects retain aspects of their local fabrication while absorbing additional meanings in subtle and unexpected ways as they move through space and time In emphasizing multiple centers of art production amid constantly changing contexts Cooke moves beyond regional histories driven by geography nation state time period or medium Beautifully illustrated Global Objects traces the social lives of objects from creation to purchase and from use to experienced meaning charting exciting new directions in art history
