Longterm Care In Transition The Regulation Of Nursing Homes:

Long-Term Care in Transition David Barton Smith, 2000-09-30 Long Term Care in Transition is a carefully documented case study of the changes that took place in the regulation of nursing homes in New York between 1975 and 1980. It covers the history of the regulatory offensive in New York and strategies of control and their effectiveness touching on such subjects as professional standards, rate setting, reimbursement, criminal prosecution, and consumers. Invaluable reading for health care professionals involved in the management of nursing homes, it concludes with some of the lessons learned from this experience for the health sector as a whole. While regulations have changed since 1980, David B. Smith has written a new preface which puts the study in perspective. Book jacket NHSQIC Annual Bibliography National Health Standards and Quality Information Clearinghouse (U.S.), 1981 Long-Term Care Medicine Pamela Ann Fenstemacher, Peter Winn, 2010-11-23 Long Term Care Medicine: A Pocket Guide lessens the uncertainty involved in caring for patients in a long term care facility. This practical pocket guide is divided into four sections: Introduction, Common Clinical Conditions, Psychosocial Aspects, and Special Issues in Long Term Care. The chapters address all the varied components of the LTC system as well as how to take care of the patients and residents living within it. The contributors to this easy to read guide are passionate about LTC and many have worked within the American Medical Directors Association to create and disseminate a knowledge base for practitioners. Long Term Care Medicine: A Pocket Guide is an invaluable resource for clinicians, practitioners, and educators who are seeking to optimize the care and living experience of residents in LTC by providing resident centered care as well as resident choice, well being, dignity, and an improved quality of life. Handbook of Long-Term Care Administration and Policy Cynthia Massie Mara, Laura Olson, 2008-03-27 Attitudes toward long term care contain a strong residue of negativity in today's society and current problems with the system augment such perceptions. Unless dealt with now, this will only get worse as the 85 and older crowd is the fastest growing part of the population and the first wave of Baby Boomers is approaching 60. The Erosion of Autonomy in Long-Term Care Charles

W. Lidz,Lynn Fischer,Robert M. Arnold,1992-09-24 In few places in American society are adults so dependent on others as in nursing homes Minimizing this dependency and promoting autonomy has become a major focus of policy and ethics in gerontology Yet most of these discussions are divorced from the day to day reality of long term care and are implicitly based on concepts of autonomy derived from acute medical care settings Promoting autonomy in long term care however is a complex task which requires close attention to everyday routines and a fundamental rethinking of the meaning of autonomy This timely work is based on an observational study of two different types of settings which provide long term care for the elderly The authors offer a detailed description of the organizational patterns that erode autonomy of the elderly Their observations lead to a substantial rethinking of what the concept of autonomy means in these settings The book concludes with concrete suggestions on methods to increase the autonomy of elderly individuals in long term care institutions
