Herrington,2014-01-01 Cornelia Hahn Oberlander is one of the most important landscape architects of the twentieth century yet despite her lasting influence few outside the field know her name Her work has been instrumental in the development of the late twentieth century design ethic and her early years working with architectural luminaries such as Louis Kahn and Dan Kiley prepared her to bring a truly modern and audaciously abstract sensibility to the landscape design tradition In Cornelia Hahn Oberlander Making the Modern Landscape Susan Herrington draws upon archival research site analyses and numerous interviews with Oberlander and her collaborators to offer the first biography of this adventurous and influential landscape architect Born in 1921 Oberlander fled Nazi Germany at the age of eighteen with her family going on to become one of the few women to graduate from Harvard University's Graduate School of Design in the late 1940s For six decades she has practiced socially responsible and ecologically sensitive planning for public landscapes including the 1970s design of the Robson Square landscape and its adjoining Provincial Law Courts one of Vancouver's most famous spaces Herrington places Oberlander within a larger social and aesthetic context chronicling both her personal and professional trajectory and her work in New York Philadelphia Vancouver Seattle Berlin Toronto and Montreal Oberlander is a progenitor of some of the most significant currents informing landscape architecture today particularly in the area of ecological focus In her thorough biography Herrington draws much deserved attention to one of the truly important figures in landscape architecture

Rubens Alexander Vergara,Herlinda Cabrero,Museo del Prado,2004 In 1609 Rubens painted a large Adoration of the Magi for the Antwerp Town Hall The painting made its way to the King of Spain and Rubens arriving at the Spanish court in 1628 repainted extended and refashioned the picture to his own satisfaction incorporating a self portrait The painting now in the collection of the Prado incorporates a dialogue by the painter himself The picture has been newly conserved and following the dialogue has been made easier by the existence of a copy in a private collection of the 1609 version of the much altered work It has been the fascinating task of Prado curator Alejandro Vergara and the Prado conservation department to investigate the changes Rubens made and their motivation while Joost vander Auwara provides a new analysis employing new documents and rereading known ones of the intentions and iconography of the original Antwerp commission

Mapping American Culture Wayne Franklin,Michael C. Steiner,1992 Dry Place Patricia L. Price,2004 Landscape is the space of negotiation between human beings and the physical world and rarely are the negotiations more complex and subtle than those conducted through the desert landscape along the Mexico U S border Patricia L Price views the shaping of the landscape on and around the border through various narratives that have sought to establish claims to these dry lands Most prominent are the accounts of Anglo American expansionism and Manifest Destiny juxtaposed with the Chicano nationalist tale of Aztlan in the twentieth century all constituting collective contending claims to the U S Southwest

Demonstrating how stories can become vehicles for reshaping places and identities Price considers characters old and new who inhabit the contemporary borderlands between Mexico and the United States ranging from longstanding manifestations of good and evil in the figures of the Virgin of Guadalupe and the Devil to a collection of lay saints embodying current concerns Dry Place weaves together theoretical insights with field based inquiry autobiography and creative writing to arrive at a textured understanding of the bordered landscape of late modern subjectivity Patricia L Price is associate professor of geography in the Department of International Relations at Florida International University in Miami Forthcoming Books

City of Forests, City of Farms Lindsay K. Campbell, 2017-10-15 City of Forests City of Farms is a history of recent urban forestry and agriculture policy and programs in New York City Centered on the 2007 initiative PlaNYC this account tracks the development of policies that increased sustainability efforts in the city and dedicated more than 400 million dollars to trees via the MillionTreesNYC campaign Lindsay K Campbell uses PlaNYC to consider how and why nature is constructed in New York City Campbell regards sustainability planning as a process that unfolds through the strategic interplay of actors the deployment of different narrative frames and the mobilizing and manipulation of the physical environment which affects nonhuman animals and plants as well as the city's residents Campbell zeroes in on a core omission in PlaNYC's original conception and funding Despite NYC having a long tradition of community gardening particularly since the fiscal crisis of the 1970s the plan contained no mention of community gardens or urban farms Campbell charts the change of course that resulted from burgeoning public interest in urban agriculture and local food systems She shows how civic groups and elected officials crafted a series of visions and plans for local food systems that informed the 2011 update to PlaNYC City of Forests City of Farms is a valuable tool that allows us to understand and disentangle the political decisions popular narratives and physical practices that shape city greening in New York City and elsewhere Whitaker's Books in Print, 1998

Methodological Challenges When Exploring Digital Learning Spaces in Education Greta Björk Gudmundsdottir, Kristin Beate Vasbø, 2014-08-08 Over the last decade the practices by which scholarly knowledge is produced both within and across disciplines have been substantially influenced by the appearance of digital information resources communication networks and technology enhanced research tools Viewed from a methodological perspective the rich ICT based environment in educational settings influences research methods ethics and the general conduct of research Methodological Challenges When Exploring Digital Learning Spaces in Education represents a collection of work of established academics as well as emerging early career researchers all of whom focus on various methodological challenges From numerous perspectives the chapters in this volume deal with three particularly demanding challenges for educational research in digital learning contexts The first challenge concerns how research manages to explore networked learning within a multi faceted ICT environment What kind of research designs and forms of data collection are able to grasp this complexity of multiple learning taking place within these contexts The second challenge deals with how researchers experience the research context and interact with various actors within these settings How to capture and understand interaction between contexts and across different dimensions of contexts in time and space And finally the third challenge is about exploring how children make meaning across physical places and virtual spaces All together these challenges are questioning the traditional research methods that we use and are familiar with This volume is devoted to stimulating debate about the various methodological challenges facing the researcher in the digital sphere of educational research and furthermore exploring what kind of new methodological approaches these challenges impose It is aimed at students researchers and academics within education and those working with learning across disciplines and contexts interested in methodological issues Greta Björk Gudmundsdottir lives and works in Oslo where she is a Researcher at the Norwegian Centre for ICT in Education Kristin Beate Vasbø also works and lives in Oslo where she is an Associate Professor at the Department of Teacher Education and School Research University of Oslo Mapping the Unmappable? Ute Dieckmann, 2021-04-16 How can we map differing perceptions of the living environment Mapping the Unmappable explores the potential of cartography to communicate the relations of Africa's indigenous peoples with other human and non human actors within their environments. These relations transcend Western dichotomies such as culture/nature, human/animal, natural/supernatural. The volume brings two strands of research, cartography and relational anthropology, into a closer dialogue. It provides case studies in Africa as well as lessons to be learned from other continents, e.g. North America, Asia and Australia. The contributors create a deepened understanding of indigenous ontologies for a further decolonization of maps and thus advance current debates in the social sciences.

The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Education Liam Francis Gearon, Arniika Kuusisto, 2025-04-29. The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Education offers a multi-disciplinary work of scholarship and research highlighting the global significance of a critical interface of cultural and social, political and theological importance. Drawing on historical perspective and contemporary reflection, the collection provides a uniquely transformative analysis of why the interface of religion and education is of such critical significance. With contributions from some of the leading thinkers in the field, this Handbook presents a cumulatively powerful argument to reassess the complexities of the intersection of religion and education. With ambitious and yet accessible intellectual engagements, the Handbook here furthers a central thesis that the interface of religion and education is not merely a matter of arcane disputation about a domain of ancient origin or a rudimentary matter of formal educational process, but a vibrant domain of critical contestation fundamental to knowing, understanding and living in the modern world.
