Chinese Foreign Policy Think Tanks and China's Policy Towards Japan Xuanli Liao, 2006 Examines Chinese foreign policy think tanks and their influence in China's foreign policy towards Japan between the late 1970s and late 1990s Through case studies this book demonstrates a growing pluralistic trend in post Mao China's foreign policy making process China - U.S. relations in the 21st century fostering cooperation preventing conflict., Making Foreign Policy John T. Rourke, 1990 This book should be of interest to undergraduate courses in international politics China - U.S. Relations in the 21st Century, 1996 Great Power Strategies - The United States, China and Japan Quansheng Zhao, 2022-09-05 This book provides a comparative study of the strategies of great powers in the Asia Pacific namely the United States China and Japan known as the Pacific Three It examines the evolution of each power's strategic thinking and analyzes the three powers respective foreign policies and internal debates in the policymaking process It analyzes the three countries conflict and cooperation from past to the present It stresses the importance of the interactions between internal and external factors in the policymaking process and emphasizes the great significance of these interactions for international relations theory For example it highlights the role of strategic advisers in think tanks and government agencies in the United States Japan's informal and balanced policymaking process and the impact of traditional culture in China especially Confucianism and the part played by Chinese think tanks A Companion to American Foreign Relations Robert Schulzinger, 2008-04-15 This is an authoritative volume of historiographical essays that survey the state of U S diplomatic history The essays cover the entire range of the history of American foreign relations from the colonial period to the present They discuss the major sources and analyze the most influential books and articles in the field Includes discussions of new methodological approaches in diplomatic history Image, Perception, and the Making of U.S.-China Relations Hongshan Li, 1998-06-25 Image Perception and the Making of U S China Relations examines major events in the history of the relationship between the U S and China to show the development and effects of national images and perceptions These essays expose the effects of ideology as represented through foreign policy and the actions of leaders as well as the role of the media and governments in shaping public opinion and attitudes They show the evolution of the influential forces from the nineteenth century through the twentieth century In each country a small group of people has always controlled these forces by manipulating the power of the media and governments The nature of this situation changed national perceptions as power often moved from one small group to another As a result of manipulating the images and perceptions of each country these biased and untrue views have inevitably led to conflict between the two countries Examining US-China-Russia Foreign Relations Gregory O. Hall, 2023-03-03 Examining US China Russia Foreign Relations explores the changing nature and function of the US China Russia strategic triangle from the end of the Cold War up to the present Gregory Hall uses neoclassical realist international relations IR theory to argue that since the mid 2000s the politics of the strategic triangle have been increasingly influenced by factors related to the Big3 countries respective domestic environments Hall utilizes agency and context for each of the three great powers expanding on previously established frameworks to include a comparative analysis of each actor s domestic environment for foreign policy and the interplay between the domestic and external contexts In IR terms the book identifies and illustrates how factors including systemic state and societal individuals and small groups influence the foreign relations of the Big3 Hall concludes by exploring the future prospects for great power relations and for global affairs Incorporating both theoretical and empirical data to offer a fresh and timely look at the myriad challenges facing the three powers this book provides an excellent companion to students of foreign policy international security and post Cold War international politics Special Bibliography Series ,1957 Special Bibliography Series politics Foreign Relations of the PRC Robert G. Sutter, 2018-07-12 Now in a fully updated edition this cogent but comprehensive book examines the international relations of the People's Republic of China since its founding in 1949. Noted scholar Robert G. Sutter provides a balanced assessment of the country's recent successes and advances as well as the important legacies and constraints that hamper it, especially in nearby Asia. Long the focus of China's foreign policy attention, Sutter demonstrates how Beijing has carefully created an image of a China that follows consistent policies based on morally correct principles, but its record shows repeated episodes of sometime surprising change and frequent use of violence, intimidation, and coercion. China's leaders, he argues, still fail to manage the desire for productive foreign relations with their aspirations to build Chinese security and sovereignty interests. Image-building efforts condition Chinese public and elite opinion to be extraordinarily sensitive, self-righteous, and often alarmist in dealing with the many disputes China has with its Asian neighbors and the United States. Advances that the PRC has made in other parts of the world focus mainly on commercial interests, limiting its actual impact on world affairs. Sutter shows readers how to use China's rise in nearby Asia as a reliable barometer of how important and effective the country will actually become internationally. Newsletter, 1978

News Letter United States. Department of State, 1978 Department of State News Letter United States. Department of State, 1978 Japan Report, 1980 China and America: Destined for Conflict? Wenzhao Tao, 2022-09-25 This book explores the possibility and feasibility of building a new model of major country relations between China and the United States, which is of great significance to the sound interaction between the two countries and the preservation of peace and stability of the world. In early June 2013, Chinese President Xi Jinping and US President Barack Obama reached a consensus on building a new model of major country relations at the historical Sunnylands meeting in California. In the years that followed, the two leaders were committed to that goal despite the different interpretations of its substance. How is the new model of major country relations conceptualized and developed? What renders it possible? Is the major country conflict inevitable? These are the basic issues addressed in this book. Now China-US relations are at a critical juncture. The international community is watching the world's two largest economies and is quite concerned about the future of one of the world's most complicated bilateral relationships. This timely publication of Professor Tao Wenzhao provides us with a realistic approach to managing this vital relationship in a candid and balanced way. China, the United States and the Soviet Union Robert S. Ross, 2016-09-16 This text considers the importance of various factors which influenced the policies of each country during the Cold War, including strategic considerations, domestic politics, and ideology. Encyclopedia of American Foreign Policy Glenn P. Hastedt, 2014-05-14 Presents an A to Z reference guide that examines United States foreign policy.
