Nigerian Kaleidoscope Memoirs Of A Colonial Servant:

Nigerian Kaleidoscope Rex Niven, 1982-01 Animality and Colonial Subjecthood in Africa Saheed Aderinto, 2022-05-17 With this multispecies study of animals as instrumentalities of the colonial state in Nigeria Saheed Aderinto argues that animals like humans were colonial subjects in Africa Animality and Colonial Subjecthood in Africa broadens the historiography of animal studies by putting a diverse array of species dogs horses livestock and wildlife into a single analytical framework for understanding colonialism in Nigeria and Africa as a whole From his study of animals with unequal political economic social and intellectual capabilities Aderinto establishes that the core dichotomies of human colonial subjecthood indispensable yet disposable good and bad violent but peaceful saintly and lawless were also embedded in the identities of Nigeria's animal inhabitants If class religion ethnicity location and attitude toward imperialism determined the pattern of relations between human Nigerians and the colonial government then species habitat material value threat and biological and psychological characteristics among other traits shaped imperial perspectives on animal Nigerians Conceptually sophisticated and intellectually engaging Aderinto's thesis challenges readers to rethink what constitutes history and to recognize that human agency and narrative are not the only makers of the past The Making of Museums in Nigeria Amanda H. Hellman, 2023-10-16 In November 1927 Kenneth Crosthwaite Murray 1902-1972 left his family home in West Sussex England to develop the art program in the British colony of Nigeria As he traveled the country Murray saw the cultural practices and craft production of Nigerian visual material under threat and decided to collect these pieces in order to preserve understand and perhaps console during a period of great change Murray and a few of his colleagues including Edward H Duckworth Bernard E B Fagg and Ekpo Eyo and the antiquities department that they founded built seven museums before independence established export policies began calling for the return of cultural heritage and developed excavation protocol This book captures the life and legacy of Murray whose efforts helped foster an understanding of Nigerian art and culture and explores the tension that arose among the colonial government officers and Nigerians who sought to build these cultural institutions during the twilight years of the British Empire and the transition to a newly independent Nigeria Nigerian Kaleidoscope Sir Rex Niven, 1982 Guns and Society in Colonial Nigeria Saheed Aderinto, 2018-01-06 Guns are an enduring symbol of imperialism whether they are used to impose social order create ceremonial spectacle incite panic or to inspire confidence In Guns and Society Saheed Aderinto considers the social political and economic history of these weapons in colonial Nigeria As he transcends traditional notions of warfare and militarization Aderinto reveals surprising insights into how colonialism changed access to firearms after the 19th century In doing so he explores the unusual ways in which guns were used in response to changes in the Nigerian cultural landscape More Nigerians used firearms for pastime and professional hunting in the colonial period than at any other time The boom and smoke of gunfire even became necessary elements in ceremonies and political events Aderinto argues that firearms in the

Nigerian context are not simply commodities but are also objects of material culture. Considering guns in this larger context provides a clearer understanding of the ways in which they transformed a colonized society. Colonial Subjects Philip Serge Zachernuk, 2000. West African intellectuals have a long history of engaging with European intrusion by reflecting on their status as colonial and postcolonial subjects. Against the tendency to view this engagement as a confrontation between the modern west and traditional Africa, Philip S. Zachernuk argues that the interaction is far more fluid and diverse. Challenging the frequent denigration of western educated Africans as a culturally barren kleptocratic elite, Colonial Subjects shows that they occupied a shifting medial position between colonizers and colonized. In the process they created a distinctive intellectual culture grounded in indigenous and European sources. Looking carefully at southern Nigeria from 1840 to 1960, Zachernuk locates intellectuals in the contours of their society as it changed from late precolonial times to the beginning of independence. He examines their engagement with British and Black Atlantic assumptions and assertions about Africa's place in the world. These ideas, shaped by the needs of others, became the often awkward material with which these intellectuals endeavored to construct their own image of their home continent. In this context, a group of Nigerian intellectuals created a dynamic intellectual tradition motivated by self interest and marked by innovation, counter invention, and imitation within the confines of the Atlantic world. At different times they opposed and supported the colonial state, adopted and rejected notions of racial destiny, and advocated free market principles, cooperative self help, and state socialism. Colonial Subjects provides a historical framework for connecting these divergent ideas, thereby recovering the complexity of an intellectual tradition both colonial and modern. Veils, Turbans, and Islamic Reform in Northern Nigeria Elisha P. Renne, 2018-10-16. Veils, Turbans, and Islamic Reform in Northern Nigeria tells the story of Islamic reform from the perspective of dress, textile production, trade, and pilgrimage over the past 200 years. As Islamic reformers have sought to address societal problems such as poverty, inequality, ignorance, unemployment, extravagance, and corruption, they have used textiles as a means to express their religious positions on these concerns. From first to the early indigo trade and later to a thriving textile industry, northern Nigeria has been a center for Islamic practice as well as a place where everything from women's hijabs to turbans, buttons, zippers, short pants, and military uniforms offers a statement on Islam. Elisha P. Renne argues that awareness of material distinctions, religious ideology, and the political and economic contexts from which successive Islamic reform groups have emerged is important for understanding how people in northern Nigeria continue to seek a proper Islamic way of being in the world and how they imagine their futures spiritually, economically, politically, and environmentally. A History of Borno Vincent Hiribarren, 2017-02-17. A history of an ancient Sahelian kingdom whose hinterland is now being laid waste by the Boko Haram insurgency. The Last Imperialist Bruce Gilley, 2021-09-21. The British Empire, one of the most powerful forces in history, was also one of the most humane. Yet at its twilight, few were willing to defy the anti colonial reaction that condemned millions to despotism under the regimes that replaced it. Sir Alan Burns was among them In this lively and provocative work of history Bruce Gilley vindicates Sir Alan s view that decolonization was poorly managed and too swiftly executed a view based not on imperialist nostalgia but on a sober assessment of the ravages of the twentieth century Gilley demonstrates that Burns understood the benefits of colonial rule and correctly foretold the chaos that accompanied its rapid dissolution Relying on previously unavailable documentation from Burns s family The Last Imperialist dethrones the revisionist historians and shatters their unbalanced accusations against European colonialism This is history writing at its most courageous Afropolitan Horizons Ulf Hannerz, 2022-02-11 Nigeria is a country shaped by internal diversity and transnational connections past and present Leading Nigerian writers from Chinua Achebe Amos Tutuola and Wole Soyinka to Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie and Teju Cole have portrayed these Nigerian issues and have also written about some of the momentous events in Nigerian history Afropolitan Horizons discusses their work alongside other novelists and commentators as well as describing the ways in which Nigeria has appeared in foreign news reporting It is all interwoven with the author s own anthropological field research in a town in Central Nigeria
