portrait of London explored at night by some of the city's most iconic writers throughout history Cities like cats will reveal themselves at night wrote the poet Rupert Brooke Before the age of electricity the nighttime city was a very different place to the one we know today home to the lost the vagrant and the noctambulant Matthew Beaumont recounts an alternative history of London by focusing on those of its denizens who surface on the streets when the sun's down If nightwalking is a matter of going astray in the streets of the metropolis after dark then nightwalkers represent some of the most suggestive and revealing guides to the neglected and forgotten aspects of the city In this brilliant work of literary investigation Beaumont shines a light on the shadowy perambulations of poets novelists and thinkers Chaucer and Shakespeare William Blake and his ecstatic peregrinations and the feverish ramblings of opium addict Thomas De Quincey and among the lamp lit literary throng the supreme nightwalker Charles Dickens We discover how the nocturnal city has inspired some and served as a balm or narcotic to others In each case the city is revealed as a place divided between work and pleasure the affluent and the indigent where the entitled and the desperate jostle in the streets With a foreword and afterword by Will Self Nightwalking is a fascinating literary exploration of the writers who traverse the city at night and the people they meet

The city guide for Xi'an (西安) YouGuide Ltd,      A Companion to Pablo Neruda Jason Wilson, 2014-08 Pablo Neruda was without doubt one of the greatest poets of the twentieth century but his work is extremely uneven There is a view that there are two Nerudas an early Romantic visionary and a later Marxist populist who denied his earlier poetic self By focussing on the poet's apprenticeship and by looking closely at how Neruda created his poetic persona within his poems this Companion tries to establish what should survive of his massive output By seeing his early work as self exploration through metaphor and sound as well as through varieties of love and direct experience the Companion outlines a unity behind all the work based on voice and a public self Neruda's debt to reading and books is studied in depth and the change in poetics re examined by concentrating on the early work up to Residencia en la tierra I and II and why he wanted to become a poet Debate about quality and representativity is grounded in his Romantic thinking sensibility and sincerity Unlike a Borges or a Paz who accompanied their creative work with analytical essays Neruda distilled all his experiences into his poems which remain his true biography Jason Wilson is Professor Emeritus in the Department of Spanish and Latin American Studies University College London      Luminous Night's Journey A. H. Almaas, 2000-09-05 In Luminous Night's Journey Almaas shares excerpts from his personal journal which describe a certain thread in his own journey of realization and the processes involved in integrating that realization This publication marks a fortunate development in our knowledge of how Being is realized in and through the human soul The process of realization and integration of true nature described in the voice of one who articulates precisely and vividly the psychological and epistemological barriers which confront the individual consciousness as realization is integrated in the context of personal life Almaas describes how his participation in the unfolding manifestation of Being ushers him into realms that expose and transform increasingly deep ego structures and attachments Luminous Night s Journey clarifies how the unveiling of Being and the exposure of ego structures constitute one process leading to the soul s integrated realization of absolute nature and the manifestation of the human being as a personal embodiment of that nature      Consumer Society and the Post-modern City David B Clarke,2004-03 Working through the often controversial ideas of the consumer society s most influential theorists Jean Baudrillard and Zygmunt Bauman this book assesses the ways in which consumerism is reshaping the nature and meaning of the city      The Grotesque in the Fiction of Charles Dickens and Other 19th-century European Novelists Isabelle Hervouet-Farrar,Max Vega-Ritter,2015-01-12 This book provides an overview of the literary grotesque in 19th century Europe with special emphasis on Charles Dickens whose use of this complex aesthetic category is thus addressed in relation with other 19th century European writers The crossing of geographical boundaries allows an in depth study of the different modes of the grotesque found in 19th century fiction It provides a comprehensive analysis of the reasons behind the extensive use of such a favoured mode of expression Intertextuality and comparative or cultural analysis are thus used here to shed new light on Dickens s influences both given and received as well as to compare and contrast his use of the grotesque with that of key 19th century writers like Hugo Gogol Thackeray Hardy and a few others The essays of this volume examine the various forms taken by the grotesque in 19th century European fiction such as for example the fusion of the familiar and the uncanny or of the terrifying and the comic as well as the figures and narrative techniques best suited for the expression of a novelist s grotesque vision of the world These essays contribute to an assessment of the links between the grotesque the gothic and the fantastic and more generally the genres and aesthetic categories which the 19th century grotesque fed on like caricature the macabre and tragicomedy They also examine the novelists grotesque as contributing to the questioning of society in Victorian Britain and 19th century Europe echoing its raging conflicts and the shocks of scientific progress This study naturally adopts as its theoretical basis the works of key theorists and critics of the grotesque namely Victor Hugo Charles Baudelaire and John Ruskin in the 19th century and Mikhail Bakhtin Wolfgang Kayser Geoffrey Harpham and Elisheva Rosen in the 20th century
