Nikolay Leskov:

Nikolay Leskov K. A. Lantz, 1979 Biography and literary analysis of Nikolai Semyonovich Leskov Russian novelist short story writer playwright and journalist who also wrote under the pseudonym M Stebnitsky Lady Macbeth of Mtsensk Nikolai Leskov, 2020-10-13 A new collection of the renowned Russian writer's best short work including a masterful translation of the famous title story Nikolai Leskov is the strangest of the great Russian writers of the nineteenth century His work is closer to the oral traditions of narrative than that of his contemporaries and served as the inspiration for Walter Benjamin's great essay The Storyteller in which Benjamin contrasts the plotty machinations of the modern novel with the strange melancholy but also worldly wise yarns of an older slower era that Leskov remained in touch with The title story is a tale of illicit love and multiple murder that could easily find its way into a Scottish ballad and did go on to become the most popular of Dmitri Shostakovich's operas The other stories all but one newly translated present the most focused and finely rendered collection of this indispensable writer currently available in English The Organic Worldview of Nikolai Leskov Irmhild Christina Sperrle, 2002 Although little studied in the West Nikolai Semenovich Leskov 1831-95 is accorded a place among major nineteenth century writers in his native Russia Irmhild Christina Sperrle's The Organic Worldview of Nikolai Leskov draws on previously unavailable archival and primary sources to offer English speaking readers the opportunity to appreciate the work of this neglected author Leskov remarked to his contemporary Anatolii Faresov People talk about my language about its colorfulness and its national traits about the richness of my plots about my condensed way of writing about similarity and so on but they do not notice the most important thing It is this most important thing Leskov's consistent thematic adherence to an organic philosophical model that Sperrle traces and elaborates here Focusing on movement and transformation in an organic manner a manner in which death and rebirth alternate and condition each other Sperrle develops Leskov's notion of organicity and explores his relationship to the organic tradition in philosophy and literature Her reading of key texts among his more than five hundred works entails a close look at Leskov's ideas about the Divine as freedom of belief about truth as a continual renewal of previously held theories and about death in both a physical and a spiritual sense She examines Leskov's vexed relation to Tolstoyan ideas and shows how the notion of heresy as a questioning rather than rejection of authority is a crucial element in his worldview and his work The Steel Flea Nikolay Leskov, 2015-02-26 He gave orders that they were not to get any hot glum pudding in flames for fear the spirits in their innards might catch fire The Steel Flea is an uproarious and alcohol soaked shaggy dog story from one of Russia's great comic masters Introducing Little Black Classics 80 books for Penguin's 80th birthday Little Black Classics celebrate the huge range and diversity of Penguin Classics with books from around the world and across many centuries They take us from a balloon ride over Victorian London to a garden of blossom in Japan from Tierra del Fuego to 16th century California and the Russian steppe Here are stories lyrical and savage poems epic and intimate essays satirical and inspirational and ideas that have shaped the lives of millions Nikolay Leskov 1831 1895 Leskov s works are available in Penguin Classics in Lady Macbeth of Mtsensk and Other Stories and Russian Short Stories from Pushkin to Buida The Enchanted Wanderer and Other Stories Nikolai Semenovich Leskov,2013 Presents newly translated versions of seventeen of Leskov s short stories inspired by oral storytelling traditions that range from the fantastical to the satirical to the tragic Nikolai Leskov Hugh McLean,1977 The Lady Macbeth of the Mzinsk District Nikolai Leskov,2023-12-13 Nikolai Leskov s The Lady Macbeth of the Mzinsk District is a masterfully crafted novella that explores the tumultuous interplay of passion ambition and societal constraints within rural Russian life The narrative follows the tragic trajectory of Katerina Izmailova a woman ensnared in a loveless marriage who seeks liberation through illicit love and power Leskov s vivid prose characterized by a keen eye for local color and a deep psychological insight captures the stark realities of peasantry and the moral dilemmas ensnaring its characters all while invoking the rich tapestry of Russian folklore and tradition The novella stands as a poignant critique of the patriarchal norms of 19th century Russian society resonating with themes of betrayal desire and the quest for agency Nikolai Leskov a prominent figure in Russian literature drew upon his diverse experiences including his background as a clerk and an upbringing steeped in provincial customs to inform his writing His keen observation of social hierarchies and moral complexities enables him to probe the depths of human emotions and ethical conflicts The juxtaposition of high ideals and grim realities manifests powerfully in this work reflecting his concerns with the changing Russian landscape of his time The Lady Macbeth of the Mzinsk District is highly recommended for readers interested in a compelling exploration of gender and power dynamics within a richly drawn cultural context Leskov s work not only captivates with its dramatic narrative but also offers profound insights into the human condition inviting readers to reflect on their own perceptions of morality and freedom The Enchanted Wanderer and Other Stories Nikolai Semenovich Leskov,2001-03 The few short stories collected in this volume portray old world Russia with the motley composition of its society the authentic minutiae of everyday life and the complexity of human relations A gallery of characters from all walks of life pass before our eyes the petty bourgeoisie merchants priests servants minor officials and the elite Life s riddles intrigued the author and he attempted to solve these riddles by giving the floor to his heroes and letting them tell their own story In the Enchanted Wanderer in The Make up Artist and many other of his stories the author only starts the narrative and then let his heroes carry on with it Each Leskov s characters has his own inimitable personality his own face and voice and tells everything about himself in an ingenuously natural way In Lady Macbeth of Mtsensk 1865 we are taken into the world of a merchant class family of that period with its crude moral of slavish obedience and its killing boredom By a whim of fate a passionate impulsive woman whose strength of character can be well likened to that of Shakespeare s Lady Macbeth finds herself in this bleak world This story suggests that is indeed a freakish world where the finest aspirations become so perverted and people who are full of strength and passionate vitality come to such bad end The Enchanted Wanderer 1873 describes the life of Ivan

Severyanovich Flyagin a serf peasant and his wanderings about the towns and villages of his native land The Sentry 1889 was written in an entirely different manner The main character here is Postnikov a private who has rescued a drowning man He is one of those men with an obsessive responsiveness to the needs of others and a simple hearted readiness for self sacrifice The Old Genius 1884 is based on one such anecdote With subtle irony the author tells the story of the rascally aristocrat who has to hide from his creditors and of the old genius who gets the better of a crook and recovers the poor old woman's modest savings The story of Lefty who had shod a flea has long been a popular legend in Russia and Lefty himself a symbol of brilliant craftsmanship Till the end of his days Lefty remembers his homeland and all he wants is to help his countrymen before he dies But his wish is not to come true Nikolai Semyonovich Leskov 1831-1895 was born in Gorokhovo a small village in Orel Gubernia central Russia All the efforts of his mind and heart were inspired by his desire to lay his life down for the good of Russia and all the universe These words belonging to one of his characters are a perfect definition of the tenor of his work Nikolai Leskov fully deserves the privilege of standing in line with such makers of Russian literature as Tolstoi Gogol Turgenev and Goncharov In power and beauty Leskov's talent cedes only a little to the talent of any one of these men I have named the creators of the Holy Bible of the Russian land but in breadth of exposition in depth of understanding of life's riddles and in knowledge of the Russian language he very often surpasses his predecessors and fellow writers Maxim Gorky
