Protecting The Homeland Insights From Army Wargame:

Protecting the Homeland. Insights from Army Wargames, 2002 The Army After Next AAN Project and more recently the Army Transformation Study Wargames and Analysis Project have identified issues relating to homeland security Over the course of five major wargames a counterterrorism workshop and a homeland security symposium U S Army Training and Doctrine Command TRADOC has brought together senior civilian and military personnel to wrestle with hard questions about emerging threats to the United States during the period 2015 to 2020 The initial insights about homeland security emerged unexpectedly Although the study of homeland security was not a primary area of interest for TRADOC all wargames and workshops were partially designed to examine specific research questions relating to this topic This report analyzes four wargames a counterterrorism workshop and a homeland security symposium all conducted between 1996 and 2000 in an effort to better understand and prepare for future warfare At the time the games were conducted there was a lack of clarity concerning both the future threats to the homeland and the evolving role of the Army in homeland security Indeed within the various agencies of the U S government there continues to be a lack of uniformity in definitions for such terms as homeland defense homeland security weapons of mass destruction crisis management consequence management combating terrorism counterterrorism and antiterrorism While some progress has been made on these fronts there remains a need to build a consensus within the U S government concerning all aspects of homeland security Part of this consensus must include the definition of key terms associated with this mission area Finally such a review must explicitly state the assumed limitations imposed by U S law and policy and how those differences might affect the decisionmaking process in the event of a declared war against an adversarial regime

Science and Technology for Army Homeland Security National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Army Science and Technology, Committee on Army Science and Technology for Homeland Defense, 2003-04-08 The confluence of the September 11 2001 terrorist attack and the U S Army s historic role to support civil authorities has resulted in substantial new challenges for the Army To help meet these challenges the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Research and Technology requested the National Research Council NRC carry out a series of studies on how science and technology could assist the Army prepare for its role in homeland security HLS The NRC s Board on Army Science and Technology formed the Committee on Army Science and Technology for Homeland Security to accomplish that assignment The Committee was asked to review relevant literature and activities determine areas of emphasis for Army S denial and survivability recovery and consequence management and attribution and retaliation The study sponsor asked the Committee to use these four areas as the basis for its assessment of the science and technology S T that will be important for the Army s HLS role Overall the Committee found that There is potential for substantial synergy between S T work carried out by the Army for its HLS responsibilities and the development of the next generation Army the Objective Force The Army National Guard ARNG is critical to the success of the Army s HLS efforts

The Discourse Trap and the US Military J. Michaels, 2013-03-19 This book proposes the idea of a discourse trap in which the discourses and associated terminology devised for political or military reasons can entrap policymakers by motivating or constraining their actions Meeting the Challenge of 9/11: Blueprints for More Effective Government Thomas H. Stanton, 2014-12-18 9 11 revealed serious public sector shortcomings in such areas as border security and immigration control cybersecurity and first responses to hostile acts This book focuses on how to make government more effective especially in our post 9 11 era of heightened concern for national and homeland security Meeting the Challenge of 9 11 is a top to bottom guidebook for improving government organization and performance While it specifically addresses the key issues of homeland security biodefense border security immigration control and infrastructure protection it has a broader agenda the renewal of an effective well managed government The chapter authors have extensive senior level experience in managing government organizations or in analyzing government organization and management Most are Fellows of the National Academy of Public Administration and active participants in NAPA's Standing Panel on Executive Organization and Management Tactical Media Rita Raley, 2009 Tactical media describes interventionist media art practices that engage and critique the dominant political and economic order Rather than taking to the streets and staging spectacular protests the practitioners of tactical media engage in an aesthetic politics of disruption intervention and education In Tactical Media Rita Raley provides a critical exploration of the new media art activism that has emerged out of and in direct response to postindustrialism and neoliberal globalization Social Computing, Behavioral-Cultural Modeling, and Prediction Nitin Agarwal, Kevin Xu, Nathaniel Osgood, 2015-03-16 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 8th International Conference on Social Computing Behavioral Cultural Modeling and Prediction SBP 2015 held in Washington DC USA in March April 2015 The 24 full papers presented together with 36 poster papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 118 submissions The goal of the conference was to advance our understanding of human behavior through the development and application of mathematical computational statistical simulation predictive and other models that provide fundamental insights into factors contributing to human socio cultural dynamics The topical areas addressed by the papers are social and behavioral sciences health sciences engineering computer and information science Annual Report Rand Corporation, 2002 Winning the Long War James Jay Carafano, Paul Rosenzweig, 2005 The war on terrorism like the Cold War will be a protracted conflict requiring a long term strategy for victory In this book experts on homeland security civil liberties and economics examine current U S Policy and map out a strategy Rand Review, 2002 CML Army Chemical Review, 2001 The Engineer, 2002 Terrorism Bruce Maxwell, 2003 A timely reference on the history of terrorism from 1972 to the present Terrorism A Documentary History is a new ready reference that provides definitive documents which demonstrate what terrorism is how it has been used why groups engage in it and the methods used to defeat it This important volume includes 100 entries on the topic of terrorism from 1972 to the present Each document begins with a

Lessons Unlearned Pat Proctor,2020-03-09 Colonel Pat Proctor s long overdue critique of the Army s preparation and outlook in the all volunteer era focuses on a national security issue that continues to vex in the twenty first century Has the Army lost its ability to win strategically by focusing on fighting conventional battles against peer enemies Or can it adapt to deal with the greater complexity of counterinsurgent and information age warfare In this blunt critique of the senior leadership of the U S Army Proctor contends that after the fall of the Soviet Union the U S Army stubbornly refused to reshape itself in response to the new strategic reality a decision that saw it struggle through one low intensity conflict after another some inconclusive some tragic in the 1980s and 1990s and leaving it largely unprepared when it found itself engaged seemingly forever in wars in Afghanistan and Iraq The first book length study to connect the failures of these wars to America s disastrous performance in the war on terror Proctor s work serves as an attempt to convince Army leaders to avoid repeating the same mistakes
