Ireland James Heath,1676 In the Sultan's Salon: Learning, Religion, and Rulership at the Mamluk Court of Qāniṣawh al-Ghawrī (r. 1501-1516) (2 vols) Christian Mauder,2021-08-09 Christian Mauder's In the Sultan's Salon builds on his award winning research and constitutes the first detailed study of the Egyptian court culture of the Mamluk Sultanate 1250-1517. Based mainly on understudied Arabic manuscript sources describing the learned salons of the Mamluk Sultan al Ghawr, In the Sultan's Salon presents the first theoretical conceptualization of the term court that can be fruitfully applied to premodern Islamic societies. It uses this conceptualization to demonstrate that al Ghawr's court functioned as a transregionally interconnected center of dynamic intellectual exchange, theological debate, and performance of rule that triggered novel developments in Islamic scholarly, religious, and political culture. Selling Cromwell's Wars Nicole Greenspan,2015-10-06 Greenspan examines a selection of Cromwell's conflicts, policies, and imperial ventures to explore the ways in which the media was instrumental in developing, promoting, and legitimizing government actions. The End of War Paul K. Chappell,2010-05 Building on the powerful argument for peace laid out in his first book Will War Ever End, Paul K. Chappell now explains in detail how together we can end the wars between countries, our ongoing war with nature, and the suffering in our hearts. From the foreword by Gavin de Becker: Gandhi said, "The machineries of governments stand between and hide the hearts of one people from those of another." Paul K. Chappell reveals many hearts to us by revealing his own. He is a soldier and a warrior and a crusader for peace. The road to peace is not a straight one, he explains; it is like a vine: it winds. Telephony, 1909 Ringworld Throne Larry Niven,1997-03-30 Come back to the Ringworld, the most astonishing feat of engineering ever encountered. A place of untold technological wonders, home to a myriad of humanoid races and world of some of the most beloved science fiction stories ever written. The human Louis Wu, the puppeteer known as the Hindmost Acolyte, son of the Kzin called Chmee, legendary beings brought together once again in the defense of the Ringworld. Something is going on with the Protectors. Incoming spacecraft are being destroyed before they can reach the Ringworld. Vampires are massing. And the Ghouls have their own agenda if anyone dares approach them to learn. Each race on the Ringworld has always had its own Protector. Now it looks as if the Ringworld itself needs a Protector. But who will sit on the Ringworld Throne? Niven's work has been an intriguing and consistent universe, and this book is the keystone of the arch. His technique is wonderfully polished; his characters and their situations are nicely drawn; wraps up maybe a corner of a very interesting universe. Padraig Lenihan, 2014-05-22. This groundbreaking and controversial new study tells the story of two nations in Ireland: an Irish Catholic nation and a Protestant nation emerging from a blood-stained century. This survey confronts the violence and enmity inherent in the consolidation of conquest. Lenihan contends that the overriding grand narrative of this period was one of conflict and dispossession as the native elite was progressively displaced by a new colonial ruling class. This struggle was not confined to war but also had cultural, religious, economic, and social reverberations. At times the darkness was relieved throughout the period by episodes of peaceful cooperation. Consolidating Conquest places events in Ireland in the context of three Stuart kingdoms, religious rivalry within and between those kingdoms, and the shifting balance of power as monarchy and commonwealth, Whitehall and Westminster fought for ultimate power. Corilia: Return of the Protector

Joseph Hunninghake, 2012-01-04. Tyler Haysgard had just dealt with the sudden deaths of his parents when a mysterious golden key takes him to Corilia, known as the sister planet of Earth by the natives. There he is forced to adapt to a whole new lifestyle full of countless dangers he never could have imagined. This is the first part of the Corilian Trilogy detailing the struggles of young Tyler as he faces the challenge of becoming one of the legendary guardians known as the Akorats. The Rudi Mackenzie has journeyed long and far across the land that was once the United States of America, seeking the shore where the sun rises, hoping to find the source of the world-altering event that has come to be known as the Change. His quest ends in Nantucket, an island overrun with forest, inhabited by a mere two hundred people who claim to have been transported there from out of time. Only one odd stone house remains standing. Within it, Rudi finds a beautifully made sword seemingly waiting for him. And once he takes it up, nothing for Rudi or for the world that he knows will ever be the same. England Under Protector Somerset Albert Frederick Pollard, 1900

The notion of citizenship is complex; it can be at once an identity, a set of rights, privileges, and responsibilities, an elevated and exclusionary status, a relationship between individual and state, and more. In recent decades, citizenship has attracted interdisciplinary attention, particularly with the transnational growth of Western capitalism Yet citizenship's relationship to gender has gone relatively unexplored despite the globally pervasive denial of citizenship to women historically and in many places ongoing today This highly interdisciplinary volume explores the political and cultural dimensions of citizenship and their relevance to women and gender Containing essays by a well known group of scholars including Iris Marion Young Alison Jaggar Martha Nussbaum and Sandra Bartky this book examines the conceptual issues and strategies at play in the feminist quest to give women full citizenship status The contributors take a fresh look at the issues going beyond conventional critiques and examine problems in the political and social arrangements practices and conditions that diminish women's citizenship in various parts of the world
