Mow, Anthony Ratcliffe, Savio L-Y. Woo, 2012-12-06 Historical folklore indicates that Asklepios circa 900 BC the first western doctor of ancient Greece treated many patients with rheumatic diseases of 1 joints 2 Later Hippocrates circa 400 BC who claimed to have learned from Asklepios used the term arthritis in reference to joint diseases When the disease of arthritis strikes acute inflammation and pain attacks the joints of the body Indeed arthritic joint disease dates much farther back into antiquity than Asklepios Many modern anthropologists have noted degenerative joint disease in the fossils of Neanderthal man archanthropus europaeus petraloniensis and even in those of dinosaurs More recent scientific studies on joints date back to the work of the great English anatomist Hunter who wrote The Structure and Diseases of Articular Cartilage in the Philosophical Transactions of London in 1743 The notion that osteoarthritis results from the wearing away of cartilage was copiously documented by the histological observations of the German physician Ecker in 1843 This idea was further supported by Pommer 1927 who felt that mechanical stresses played important roles in the initiation and propagation of cartilage lesions leading to osteoarthritis This same conclusion was reached by the assembled distinguished experts at a National Institutes of Health Workshop 3 held in 1986 Comprehensive Biochemistry Marcel Florkin, Elmer Henry Stotz, 1982 Comprehensive Biochemistry Marcel Florkin, Elmer Henry Stotz, 1962 Books in Print Supplement, 1984 Medical and Health Care Books and Serials in Print, 1997 The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1985 Present Knowledge in Nutrition Myrtle Laurestine Brown, International Life Sciences Institute-Nutrition Foundation, 1990 Abstract This collection of papers discusses a broad range of subjects concerning nutrition Each of the 59 chapters was specifically written for this publication Topics include energy macronutrients fat soluble vitamins water soluble vitamins macrominerals microminerals special physiological needs chronic diseases evaluation of nutritional status and special topics and continuing issues in nutrition Sialic Acids, Part I: Historical Background and Development and Chemical Synthesis, 2018-11-30 Sialic Acids Volume 75 a recent release in the Advances in Carbohydrate Chemistry and Biochemistry series is the first volume of a two volume set devoted to the sialic acids Vol 75 includes a broad based historical overview of the field by two pioneers in the identification structural development and chemistry and biochemistry of the sialic acids A second chapter is devoted to the finer aspects of the modern up to date chemical synthesis of the all important glycosides of N acetylneuraminic acid a class of sialic acid derivatives with a myriad of functions Features contributions from leading authorities and industry experts who specialize in carbohydrate chemistry biochemistry and research Integrates the

Clarke,Ian A. Wilson,2013-03-09 Carbohydrate as the primary product of photosynthesis has a vital role in the maintenance of life on this planet Until relatively recently interest in complex carbohydrates focussed on their structural role in the extracellular matrix cell wall of animal plant and microbial cells and on their role as energy sources e g starch and glycogen and structural components e g cellulose in natural products There was however indirect evidence that carbohydrates could play an informational role this evidence was from the finding last century that plant lectins caused specific agglutination of certain animal cells and more recently that the agglutination was mediated by interactions between the plant lectin and cell surface carbohydrates It is now clear that endogenous carbohydrate binding proteins are important in cell cell recognition phenomena in animal systems Recently impressive evidence has been presented that complex oligosaccharides derived from cell walls are also important in plant recognition events for example in signalling the defence mechanisms of a plant to respond to attack by insects and microbial pathogens
