Proust The Body And Literary Form:

Proust, the Body and Literary Form Michael R. Finn, 1999-03-25 This 1999 study examines the connections between Proust's fin de siècle nervousness and his apprehensions regarding literary form Michael Finn shows that Proust's anxieties both about bodily weakness and about novel writing were fed by a set of intriguing psychological and medical texts and were mirrored in the nerve-based afflictions of earlier writers including Flaubert Baudelaire Nerval and the Goncourt brothers Finn argues that once Proust cast off his concerns about being a nervous weakling he was freed to poke fun both at the supposed purity of the novel form Hysteria as a figure and as a theme becomes a key to the Proustian narrative and a certain kind of wordless bodily copying of gesture and event is revealed to be at the heart of a writing technique which undermines many of the conventions of fiction

Nathalie Sarraute, Fiction and Theory Ann Jefferson, 2000-07-03 Nathalie Sarraute 1900-99 is regarded as one of the major French novelists of the twentieth century Initially hailed as a leading theorist and exemplar of the nouveau roman she has come to be regarded as an important author in her own right with her own distinctive concerns In this major 2000 study of Sarraute the first in English since her death Ann Jefferson offers a fresh perspective on Sarraute's entire oeuvre her novels her outstanding autobiography Enfance and her influential critical writings by focusing on the crucial issue of difference which emerges as one of her central preoccupations Drawing on a variety of critical approaches Jefferson explores Sarraute's fundamental ambivalence to differences of various kinds including questions of gender and genre She argues that difference is simultaneously asserted and denied in Sarraute's work and that the notion of difference so often celebrated by other writers and thinkers is shown in Sarraute's work to be inseparable from ambiguity and anxiety

Proust's Duchesses Caroline Weber, 2019-11-26 PULITZER PRIZE FINALIST A brilliant look at turn of the century Paris through the first in depth study of the three women Proust used to create his supreme fictional character the Duchesse de Guermantes Weber has done a remarkable job of bringing to life a world of culture glamour and privilege The Wall Street Journal Geneviève Halévy Bizet Straus Laure de Sade Comtesse de Adhémar de Chevalign and Lisabeth de Riquet de Caraman Chimay the Comtesse Greffulhe these were the three superstars of fin de siècle Parisian high society who as Caroline Weber says transformed themselves and were transformed by those around them into living legends paragons of elegance nobility and style All well but unhappily married these women sought freedom and fulfillment by reinventing themselves between the 1870s and 1890s as icons At their fabled salons they inspired the creativity of several generations of writers visual artists composers designers and journalists Against a rich historical backdrop Weber takes the reader into these women's daily lives of masked balls hunts dinners court visits nights at the opera or theater But we see as well the loneliness rigid social rules and loveless arranged marriages that constricted these women's lives Proust as a twenty year old law student in 1892 would worship them from afar and later meet them and create his celebrated composite character for The Remembrance of Things Past

A Life Composed André Schüller, 2002 The modern literary critic T S Eliot wrote in 1929 must be an experimenter outside of what you might at first consider his own province there is no literary problem which does not lead us irresistibly to larger problems This book follows Eliot's principle and situates his literary and critical work in a wide context that reveals manifold links between aesthetics ethics politics and epistemology the historical context of early twentieth century idealism vitalism and pragmatism especially the intensely political Bergsonian controversy and the modern context of the philosophies of Charles Taylor Michel Foucault and Richard Rorty Knowledge it argues was verbalised in the modernist age individualised into the act of knowing an act with motives and goals and thus introduced into the realm of ethics a process central to twentieth century thought Eliot's poems especially constructed as a life composed a literary lifetime linking composition and composure ponder the virtue of precision the sins of pride and mental sloth the temptation of prejudice and the need for conviction Decidedly tentative Eliot's poems solve the problem of morally significant literature In a century of suspicion they ask the crucial question of where one should start to rely      Zola, The Body Modern Susan Harrow, 2017-07-05 Emile Zola's reputation as a landmark European novelist is undisputed His monumental achievement the novel cycle Les Rougon Macquart Histoire sociale et naturelle d'une famille sous le Second Empire 1871-1893 fixed his status as a major writer in the naturalist tradition Is there any more to be said Susan Harrow answers boldly in the affirmative challenging the commonplace view that Zola's writing is predictable prolix and transparent what Barthes called readerly for which read tedious Harrow exposes the modernist and postmodernist strategies which surface in the Rougon Macquart novels and reveals Zola's innovatory representation of the body captured here at work at war at play at rest and in arresting abstraction Informed by critical thought from Barthes and Deleuze to Michel de Certeau and Anthony Giddens Zola the Body Modern offers a model for how we can revitalize our understanding of the canonical nineteenth century European novel and learn to travel more flexibly between parameters of century style and aesthetics      Proust's Imaginary Museum Gabrielle Townsend, 2008 This study of Marcel Proust's creative imagination examines an aspect of the novel that has hitherto been largely overlooked the author's dependence on secondary visual sources Gabrielle Townsend argues that reproductions play a key role in the work's complex multi-layered structure      A Reader's Guide to Proust's 'In Search of Lost Time' David Ellison, 2010-02-18 A detailed analysis of Proust's masterpiece aimed at students coming to the work for the first time      The 20th Century O-Z Frank N. Magill, 2013-05-13 Each volume of the Dictionary of World Biography contains 250 entries on the lives of the individuals who shaped their times and left their mark on world history This is not a who's who Instead each entry provides an in-depth essay on the life and career of the individual concerned Essays commence with a quick reference section that provides basic facts on the individual's life and achievements The extended biography places the life and works of the individual within an historical context and the summary at the end of each essay provides a synopsis of the individual's place in history All entries conclude with a fully annotated bibliography      The Proustian Mind Anna Elsnar, Thomas Stern, 2022-12-30 When Marcel Proust started to work on In Search of Lost Time in 1908 he wrote this question in his notebook Should I make it a novel a philosophical study am I a novelist Throughout his famous multi volume work Proust directly engages several philosophers and few novels are as thoroughly saturated with philosophical themes and concepts as In Search of Lost Time The Proustian Mind is an outstanding reference source to the rich philosophical range of Proust's work and the first major volume of its kind Including 31 chapters by an international team of contributors the volume is divided into seven clear parts Proust's life and works metaphysics and epistemology mind and language aesthetics ethics gender and sexuality predecessors contemporaries and successors Within these sections key Proustian themes are explored from a philosophical standpoint including time the self memory imagination jealousy beauty love subjectivity and desire The final section considers Proust in relation to important philosophers such as Schopenhauer Nietzsche Bergson Merleau Ponty Sartre de Beauvoir and Deleuze The Proustian Mind is essential reading for those studying aesthetics philosophy of literature phenomenology and ethics and will also be of interest to those in literature studying modernism French literature and the relationship between literature and philosophy

Mourning and Creativity in Proust Anna Magdalena Elsner, 2017-03-09 This study explores Proust's answers to some of the fundamental challenges of the inevitable human experience of mourning Thinking mourning and creativity together allows for a fresh approach to the modernist novel at large but also calls for a reassessment of the particular historical and social challenges faced by mourners at the beginning of the twentieth century The book enables the reader to acknowledge loss and forgetting as an essential part of memory and it proposes that this literary topos has seminal implications for an understanding of the ethics aesthetics and erotic in Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu Drawing on the works of Sigmund Freud and Jacques Derrida Anna Magdalena Elsner develops an original theory of how mourning and creativity are linked by emphasizing that ethical dilemmas are central to an understanding of the novel's final aesthetic apotheosis This sheds new light on the enigmatic and versatile nature of mourning but also pays tribute to those fertile tensions and paradoxes that have made Proust's novel captivating for readers since its publication

Proust's Deadline Christine M. Cano, 2010-10-01 Marcel Proust's multivolume masterpiece la recherche du temps perdu began to appear in 1913 Over the next fifty years it gained a reputation as one of the greatest literary works of the twentieth century But the novel's classic image as a completed work was later shattered by the discovery of unpublished drafts and the war of the Prousts has kept scholars arguing over its definitive form ever since Christine M Cano's Proust's Deadline presents a concise history of the publishing and reception of la recherche du temps perdu and sorts out the most important issues that have arisen from the ensuing debates about the text She ultimately shows how this quintessential book about time tells another story about time's passage the story of Proust's mortal confrontation with the temporality of writing publishing and reading

Framing and Imagining Disease in Cultural History G. Rousseau, M. Gill, D. Haycock, M. Herwig, 2003-07-03 Throughout human history illness has been socially interpreted before its range of meanings could be understood and disseminated Writers of diverse types have been as active in constructing these meanings as doctors yet it is only recently that literary traditions have been recognized as a rich archive for these interpretations These essays focus on the methodological hurdles encountered in retrieving these interpretations called framing by the authors Framing and Imagining Disease in Cultural History aims to explain what has been said about these interpretations and to compare their value      Experimentation and the Lyric in Contemporary French Poetry Jeff Barda,2019-10-17 Experimentation and the Lyric in Contemporary French Poetry offers a new theoretical approach and historical perspective on the remarkable upsurge in creative poetic practices in France that have challenged traditional definitions of poetry and of the lyric Focusing on the work of Pierre Alferi Olivier Cadiot Emmanuel Hocquard Franck Leibovici Anne Portugal and Denis Roche this book provides an analysis of the most influential poets in French poetry of the last few decades It contextualizes the theoretical models that inform their investigations analyzing them alongside the history of the avant garde and the heated theoretical debates that have taken place over whether to continue or bring an end to the lyric Systematically addressing the various strategies employed by these poets and drawing on reception theory and cognitive studies Jeff Barda argues that French radical poetics re evaluates the lyric in cognitive terms beyond the personal This book is essential reading for anyone interested in twenty first century forms of experimental writing and the connections between literature and the arts today      Sounds of Modern History Daniel Morat,2014-09-01 Long ignored by scholars in the humanities sound has just begun to take its place as an important object of study in the last few years Since the late 19th century there has been a paradigmatic shift in auditory cultures and practices in European societies This change was brought about by modern phenomena such as urbanization industrialization and mechanization the rise of modern sciences and of course the emergence of new sound recording and transmission media This book contributes to our understanding of modern European history through the lens of sound by examining diverse subjects such as performed and recorded music auditory technologies like the telephone and stethoscope and the ambient noise of the city      Marcel Proust in Context Adam Watt,2013-12-05 This volume sets Marcel Proust s masterwork la recherche du temps perdu In Search of Lost Time 1913 27 in its cultural and socio historical contexts Essays by the leading scholars in the field attend to Proust s biography his huge correspondence and the genesis and protracted evolution of his masterpiece Light is cast on Proust s relation to thinkers and artists of his time and to those of the great French and European traditions of which he is now so centrally a part There is vivid exploration of Proust s reading his attitudes towards contemporary social and political issues his relation to journalism religion sexuality science and travel and how these figure in the Recherche The volume closes with a comprehensive survey of Proust s critical reception from reviews during his lifetime to the present day including assessments of Proust in translation and the broader assimilation of his work into twentieth and twenty first century culture      The Dreyfus Affair and the Crisis of French Manhood Christopher E. Forth,2004-02-06 Finally he examines the relation of the Dreyfus Affair to the culture of forcethat marked French society during the prewar years thus accounting for the rise of the youthful athlete as a more compelling manly ideal than the bookish and sedentary intellectual      Proustian Passions Ingrid Wassenaar, 2000 A la recherche du temps perdu occupies an undisputed place in the unfolding intellectual history of the moi in France There is however a general tendency in writing on this novel to celebrate the wonders of the moi sensible uncritically This effaces all that is morally dubious or frankly experimental about Proust's account of selfhood It denies the rigour with which Proust tries to understand exactly why it is so difficult to explain one's own actions to another The great party scenes for example or the countless digressions read like manuals on how acts of self justification take place Proust however is not merely interested in some kind of taxonomy of excuses hypocrisy disingenuousness and Schadenfreude He wants to know why self justification tends to be interpreted as indicative of moral or psychological weakness He asks himself whether self justification informs isolated moments of everyday existence or whether it endures in an overall conception of self that lasts an individual's lifetime He investigates whether it dictates the functioning of an entire social group Can we decide he asks whether justifying one's self should be written off as morally repugnant or taken seriously as evidence of moral probity      Literature, Art and the Pursuit of Decay in Twentieth-Century France Timothy Mathews, 2006-01-19 Mathews examines work by writers and painters working in France in the twentieth century      Hysterical Men Mark S MICALE, Mark S Micale, 2009-06-30 Over the course of several centuries Western masculinity has successfully established itself as the voice of reason knowledge and sanity the basis for patriarchal rule in the face of massive testimony to the contrary This book boldly challenges this triumphant vision of the stable and secure male by examining the central role played by modern science and medicine in constructing and sustaining it      The Mind of Modernism Mark S. Micale, 2004 This vanguard collection of original and in depth essays explores the intricate interplay of the aesthetic and psychological domains during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and considers the reasons why a common Modernist project took shape when and in the circumstances that it did These changes occurred precisely when the distinctively modern disciplines of psychology psychiatry and psychoanalysis established their scientific foundations and achieved the forms in which we largely know them today This volume examines the dense web of connections joining the aesthetic and psychological realms in the modern era charting historically the emergence of the ongoing modern discussion surrounding such issues as identity formation sexuality and the unconscious The contributors form a distinguished and diversified group of scholars who write about a wide range of cultural fields including philosophy the novel and poetry drama dance film and photography as well as medicine psychology and the occult sciences
