Emblematic Structures in Renaissance French Culture Daniel Russell,1995-12-15 The emblem and the device or impresa as it was called in Italy were the most direct and telling manifestations of a mentality that played a significant role in the discourse and art in Western Europe between the late Middle Ages and the mid eighteenth century In the history of Western symbolism the emblematic sign forms a bridge between late medieval allegory and the Romantic metaphor These intricate combinations of picture and text where the picture completes the ellipses of an epigrammatic text and where the text fixes the intention of the pictured signs provide useful clues to the way pictures in general were read and textual descriptions visualized in early modern Europe Daniel Russell demonstrates how the emblematic forms emerged from the way illustrations were used in late medieval French manuscript culture how the forms were later disseminated in France and how they functioned within early modern French culture and society He also attempts to show how the guiding principles behind the composition of emblems influenced the production of courtly decoration ceremony and propaganda as well as the composition of literary texts as different as Maurice Scève's Delie Montaigne's Essais and Du Bartas's Sepmaine Secrets of Pinar's Game (2 vols) Roger Boase, 2017-06-06 In Secrets of Pinar's Game Roger Boase is the first to decipher a card game completed in 1496 for Queen Isabel Prince Juan her daughters and her 40 court ladies This game offers readers access to the cultural memory of a group of educated women revealing their knowledge of proverbs poetry and sentimental romance their understanding of the symbolism of birds and trees and many facts ignored in official sources Boase translates all verse into English reassesses the jousting invenciones in the Cancionero general 1511 reinterprets the poetry of Pinar's sister Florencia and identifies Acevedo author of some poems about festivities in Murcia c 1507 He demonstrates that many of Pinar's ladies reappear as prostitutes in the anonymous Carajicomedia two decades later the period between the Exeter Book and the Harley Lyrics Medieval Song from Aristotle to Opera Sarah Kay, 2022-07-15 Focusing on songs by the troubadours and trouvères from the twelfth to the fourteenth centuries Medieval Song from Aristotle to Opera contends that song is not best analyzed as words plus music but rather as a distinctive way of sounding words. Rather than situating them in their immediate period, Sarah Kay fruitfully listens for and traces crosscurrents between medieval French and Occitan songs and both earlier poetry and much later opera. Reflecting on a song's songlike quality, as for example the sound of light in the dawn sky as breathed by beasts as sirenlike in its perils, Kay reimagines the diversity of songs from this period which include inset lyrics in medieval French narratives and the works of Guillaume de Machaut as works that are as much desired and imagined as they are actually sung and heard. Kay understands song in terms of breath, the constellations, the animal soul, and life itself. Her method also draws inspiration from opera, especially those that inventively recreate medieval song, arguing for a perspective on the manuscripts that transmit medieval song as instances of multimedia quasi-operatic performances. Medieval Song from Aristotle to Opera features a companion website, cornellpress.manifoldapp.org/projects/medieval-song, hosting twenty-four audio or video recordings realized by professional musicians specializing in early music of pieces discussed in the book, together with performance scores, performance reflections, and translations of all recorded texts. These audiovisual materials represent an extension in practice of the research aims of the book to better understand the sung dimension of medieval song.
