6

- ❖ These are synthesized by structure based drug design. These peptidomimetics are closely similar to peptide backbone while retaining functional groups that makes important contacts with binding sites of the receptors.
- ❖ Some units mimic shortportions of secondary structure of peptide for example β -turns and have been used to generate lead compounds. Many early protease inhibitors were designed from substrate/product mimetics of the peptide bond in a transition state or product state for the enzyme-catalyzed reaction.
- ❖ For example Pyrrolinones contains peptide-like side-chains that fit the active sites of most peptidases and also these are resistant to normal proteolysis because they replace amide bonds with metabolically stable units on amino acid unit of parent peptides
