Today is an effort by students of curriculum studies along with their professor to interpret and understand curriculum texts and theorists of the 1960s in contemporary terms The authors explore how key books authors from the curriculum field of the 1960s illuminate new possibilities forward for us as scholars educators today How might the theories practices and ideas wrapped up in curriculum texts of the 1960s still resonate with us allow us to see backward in time and forward in time all at the same time How might these figurative windows of insight thought ideas fantasy and fancy make us think differently about curriculum teaching learning students education leadership and schools Further how might they help us see more clearly even perhaps put us on a path to correct the mistakes and missteps of intervening decades and of today The chapter authors and editor revisit and interpret several of the most important works of the 1960s by Louise Berman Jerome Bruner WEB DuBois Elliot Eisner John Goodlad James Herndon John Holt Philip Jackson Herb Kohl Robert Mager A S Neill Philip Phenix Neil Postman Joseph Schwab Hilda Taba and Sidney Walton The book's Foreword is by renowned curriculum theorist William H Schubert

How Knowledge Moves John Krige, 2019-01-25 Knowledge matters and states have a stake in managing its movement to protect a variety of local and national interests The view that knowledge circulates by itself in a flat world unimpeded by national boundaries is a myth The transnational movement of knowledge is a social accomplishment requiring negotiation accommodation and adaptation to the specificities of local contexts This volume of essays by historians of science and technology breaks the national framework in which histories are often written Instead How Knowledge Moves takes knowledge as its central object with the goal of unraveling the relationships among people ideas and things that arise when they cross national borders This specialized knowledge is located at multiple sites and moves across borders via a dazzling array of channels embedded in heads and hands in artifacts and in texts In the United States it shapes policies for visas export controls and nuclear weapons proliferation in Algeria it enhances the production of oranges by colonial settlers in Vietnam it facilitates the exploitation of a river delta In India it transforms modes of agricultural production It implants American values in Latin America By concentrating on the conditions that allow for knowledge movement these essays explore travel and exchange in face to face encounters and show how border crossings mobilize extensive bureaucratic technologies
