Psychiatric Hospitalization Of School Age Children:

Psychiatric Hospitalization of School-age Children Richard Dalton, Marc A. Forman, 1992 The psychiatric hospitalisation of the school age child from making the initial decision to planning treatment to providing for aftercare is fraught with potential pitfalls In this guidebook the special needs of children ages 6-12 are balanced against the stark realities of hospitalisation The authors address the key issues facing clinicians Is hospitalisation the best course for a particular patient When are psychological and or laboratory tests most useful in making an assessment How does one design a treatment plan that optimises the care during the hospital stay authors discuss hospital admission evaluation treatment planning the phases of hospitalisation discharge planning and aftercare They also review the role of individual psychotherapy the uses of behavioural techniques group therapy and family approaches and the integration of pharmacotherapy into the total treatment process For each chapter the authors outline obstacles that confound delivery of optimal care within various inpatient settings and administrative issues It aims to be a useful tool for the clinician seeking practical advice on the inpatient treatment of children

Psychiatric Hospitalization of School-Age Children Richard Dalton, Child Psychiatry in the Soviet Union Nancy Rollins, 1972 In the first extensive American study of child psychiatry in the Soviet Union Dr Nancy Rollins explains that her aim is two fold to expand knowledge of the theory diagnosis and treatment of psychiatric disorders of children and adolescents and to stimulate a professional dialogue Her attainment of this goal is clearly evidenced here by means of her astute assessment of the findings of her four month visit to Russia as an individual investigator on the Medical Cultural Exchange program The author's basic concern about the relationship between a society's child rearing practices character formation and psychiatric disorder propelled her to ponder such questions as Is there a describable difference between the Soviet conscience and the American conscience as it develops during the years of childhood and adolescence What about the problems of sexual identity in the two societies Identity crises Why have Soviet psychiatrists and educators remained so consistently anti Freudian In addressing herself to the various questions that intrigued her Dr Rollins first considers the history of Soviet psychiatric thought with the major influences shaping the direction of Soviet child psychiatry and the social perspective with personal impressions of Soviet culture and society Ensuing chapters based upon first hand observations and case material take a close look at such topics as the organization of psychiatric services diagnosis general treatment methods special psychotherapy research and psychiatric training programs The author's reactions to the people she encountered in children's psychoneurological hospitals polyclinics sanatoria and research institutions contributes a lively dimension to this impressive work The study points out some differences between Soviet and American treatment methods for example Soviet treatment aims at inducing peace and relaxation in the patient whereas American methods encourage exposure to and mastery of conflicts and tolerance of anxiety Dr Rollins also offers suggestions for further study and reflects on the relation of psychiatry and culture in the two countries Handbook of

Steele, Michael C. Roberts, 2006-03-30 Social economic and theoretical changes in the current clinical landscape are adding up to profound changes in children s services not the least of which is an expanded need for mental health services Professionals novices and veteran clinicians alike wonder how to fill this demand in the present climate of turf wars reorganizations and budget cuts The Handbook of Mental Health Services for Children Adolescents and Families cogently analyzes the issues and provides the answers from current issues and emerging therapeutic trends to new avenues of treatment Thoroughly researched and documented by industry experts it presents the widest range of mental health services available to youth and their families Areas of coverage include Specific modalities in service delivery including inpatient and day treatment facilities pediatric hospitals and community mental health centers as well as rural school and primary care settings Services tailored to special populations such as adolescent sex offenders homeless children and their families children with chronic illness oppositional teens abuse situations and children exposed to traumatic events Details on preventative programs for child abuse substance abuse STD s and gang violence An in depth examination of the latest developments in children s services including therapeutic camping and Internet based treatment Approaches and methods for evaluating service organization delivery and efficacy Few areas of mental health care demonstrate the need for complementary services as much as child and family practice does With this need firmly in mind the Handbook encourages creativity and collaboration within practice settings and across agencies For clinicians administrators school practitioners and advanced level students this is a reference certain to have lasting impact on the field

Violence and Trauma in the Lives of Children Joy D. Osofsky, Betsy McAlister Groves, 2018-08-09 Explains the neurological emotional and behavioral impacts of violence and trauma experienced by newborns infants children and teenagers Traumatic events known as adverse childhood experiences ACEs can affect children physically mentally and emotionally sometimes with long term health and behavioral effects Abuse neglect exposure to community and domestic violence and household dysfunction all have the potential to alter brain development and behavior but few people are able to recognize or respond to trauma in children Given the prevalence of childhood exposure to violence with one in four children ages 5 to 15 living in households with only moderate levels of safety and nurturance and infants and children ages 0 to 3 comprising the highest percentage of those maltreated it is imperative that students and professionals alike be able to identify types and consequences of violence and trauma This book provides readers with the information they need in order to know how to detect and prevent ACEs and to help children who have lived through them Residential and Inpatient

Treatment of Children and Adolescents Stewart Gabel, Robert D. Lyman, S. Prentice-Dunn, 2013-06-29 Residential and inpatient treatment of children and adolescents is a field that is still in the process of defining itself and of demonstrating its effectiveness Because of the continuous nature of the field s development it is especially important that a broad range of its theoretical orientations and therapeutic techniques be considered and critically appraised Residential and inpatient treatment is unique in its potential for both positive and negative outcomes No other interventions can bring about the major changes in all aspects of a child s environment that inpatient hospitalization or residential treatment can These changes may result in rapid and significant improvements in a child's condition or they may conceivably lead to additional maladaptive behavioral patterns or inappropriate emotional and cognitive responses. Therefore the obligation to consider the entire range of treatment alternatives and to empirically determine the effectiveness of specific interventions is particularly great. Residential and inpatient treatment is also an expensive and limited resource and our wise utilization of it should be guided by a comprehensive understanding of its benefits and limitations.

The Mental Health Needs of Children and Young People: Guiding You to Key Issues and Practices in CAMHS Jane Padmore, 2016-01-16 This book is an accessible and practical guide to all of the key issues and practices in mental health care for children and young people aimed at all health and social care professionals working with this age group and partner agencies who work alongside child and adolescent mental health services. Written by an expert in the field the book brings clarity to practice by exploring and explaining the context, role and processes involving child and adolescent mental health services. It also sets out the specific mental health difficulties young people and their families present to services as well as how to make good health assessments, plans and interventions used in the treatment of children and young people including managing risk and safeguarding. Features of the book include Questions to encourage your reflection on different key issues in your own practice. Up to date information on current policy. Key points summaries and suggested further reading at the end of each chapter. This text will be an invaluable tool for all students and practitioners working with children and young people in a health context. This book should become a key textbook of choice for a wide range of health care professionals and students. It encourages autonomous learning and helps develop critical analytical skills. Each chapter follows a logical progression using key objectives which relate to a range of activities and up to date evidenced based sources of information. The range of depth and breadth of material is contemporary and as such should meet the academic, managerial and clinical background of the reader. Helen Matthews, Senior Lecturer in Health and Community Care, University of West London, UK. This book is a fantastic tool for students, CAMHS Practitioners who are new in the field and professionals from partner agencies. It provides a comprehensive overview of CAMHS. This book is very informative and easy to read. Not only does it further CAMHS knowledge but poses excellent questions to the reader in order to encourage reflection on practice. I would recommend this book highly to anybody who would like to further their knowledge and understanding of CAMHS as I believe it is an invaluable resource. Celina Grant, Previous Service manager, CAMHS Designated Nurse for Safeguarding Children, Ashford and Canterbury Coastal CCG, UK.
