Love, Desire and Identity in the Theatre of Federico García Lorca Paul McDermid,2007 Physical desire and metaphysical love in the theatre of Federico García Lorca A dialectical tension between physical desire and metaphysical love lies at the heart of the theatre works of Federico García Lorca and the deployment of queer theory s critique of gender and identity is surprisingly effective in this discussion of love versus desire Seldom is enough attention paid to the poet s early works and so this book offers a timely review of the religious tragedy Cristo as well as Mariana Pineda uncovering in these early offerings an explicit proposal of the supremacy of love over desire A meditation on the fragmentary and challenging El p blico yields a vivid panorama of identity in crisis and a paradigmatic Lorcan sacrifice of self for love The ostensibly more conventional tragedies of Amor de Don Perlín and Belisa en su jardín and Yerma are also reassessed in terms of self sacrifice and self love The study concludes with an argument for a practical re reading of La casa de Bernarda Alba which emphasises how the play might be saved from puffed realism with music humour and drag performance PAUL McDERMID

Yours Truly Margarita Mayo, 2018-02-22 At the heart of contemporary corporate leadership lies a crisis of confidence Since the financial crash of 2008 distrust of employers among the workforce has dramatically increased due to a lack of authentic leadership But how can leaders become and remain authentic Yours Truly draws on a host of inspirational examples from executives of multinational corporations to political leaders and sports leaders as well as more than two decades of research in order to examine and explain the missing link in research into authentic leadership how leaders strive for success excellence and constant renewal whilst remaining true to themselves Margarita Mayo introduces the three characteristics Heart Habits and Harmony that differentiate authentic from non authentic leaders Presented within a practical framework the book provides a measurable guide to developing your own authentic power Contagious passion that wins the hearts of others Setting new habits of learning to empower others And Enhancing harmony by building authentic contexts Ideal for managers senior executives and aspiring leaders Yours Truly captures the value of authentic leadership in transforming organizations The book strips away the seemingly magical innate charismatic qualities of leaders in order to showcase a less mysterious and more practical process that can be followed by anyone

Scientific Modeling and Simulations Sidney Yip, Tomas Diaz Rubia, 2010-04-07 Although computational modeling and simulation of material deformation was initiated with the study of structurally simple materials and inert environments there is an increasing demand for predictive simulation of more realistic material structure and physical conditions In particular it is recognized that applied mechanical force can plausibly alter chemical reactions inside materials or at material interfaces though the fundamental reasons for this chemomechanical coupling are studied in a material specific manner Atomistic level simulations can provide insight into the unit processes that facilitate kinetic reactions within complex materials but the typical nanosecond timescales of such simulations are in contrast to the second scale to hour scale timescales of experimentally accessible or technologically relevant timescales Further in complex materials these key unit processes are rare events due to the high energy barriers associated with those processes Examples of such rare events include unbinding between two proteins that tether biological cells to extracellular materials 1 unfolding of complex polymers stiffness and bond breaking in amorphous glasses and gels 2 and diffusive hops of point defects within crystalline alloys 3

Development of executive function during childhood Yusuke Moriguchi, Philip D Zelazo, Nicolas Chevalier, 2016-04-01 Executive function refers to the goal oriented regulation of one's own thoughts actions and emotions Its importance is attested by its contribution to the development of other cognitive skills e.g. theory of mind social abilities e.g. peer interactions and academic achievement e.g.

mathematics and by the consequences of deficits in executive function which are observed in wide range of developmental disorders such as attention deficit hyperactivity disorder and autism Over the last decade there have been growing interest in the development of executive function and an expanding body of research has shown that executive function develops rapidly during the preschool years with adult level performance being achieved during adolescence or later This recent work together with experimental research showing the effects of interventions targeting executive function has yielded important insights into the neurocognitive processes underlying executive function Given the complexity of the construct of executive function however and the multiplicity of underlying processes there are often inconsistencies in the way that executive function is defined and studied This inconsistency has hampered communication among researchers from various fields This Research Topic is intended to bridge this gap and provide an opportunity for researchers from different perspectives to discuss recent advances in understanding childhood executive function Researchers using various methods including behavioral experiments neuroimaging eye tracking computer simulation observational methods and questionnaires are encouraged to contribute original empirical research In addition to original empirical articles theoretical reviews and opinions perspective articles on promising future directions are welcome We hope that researchers from different areas such as developmental psychology educational psychology experimental psychology neuropsychology neuroscience psychiatry computational science etc will be represented in the Research Topic
