Białowieża Primeval Forest: Nature and Culture in the Nineteenth Century Tomasz Samojlik, Anastasia Fedotova, Piotr Daszkiewicz, Ian D. Rotherham, 2020-03-30 Understanding the current state and dynamics of any forest is extremely difficult if not impossible without recognizing its history Białowieża Primeval Forest BPF located on the border between Poland and Belarus is one of the best preserved European lowland forests and a subject of myriads of works focusing on countless aspects of its biology ecology management BPF was protected for centuries 15th 18th century as a game reserve of Polish kings and Lithuanian grand dukes Being at that time a part of the Grand Duchy of Lithuania BPF was subject to long lasting traditional multi functional utilisation characteristic for this part of Europe including haymaking on forest meadows traditional bee keeping and fishing in rivers flowing through forest This traditional model of management came to an abrupt end due to political change in 1795 when Poland and Grand Duchy of Lithuania ceased to exist in effect of partitioning by neighbouring countries and the territory of BPF was taken over by the Russian Empire The new Russian administration influenced by the German trends in forestry attempted at introducing the new science based forestry model in the BPF throughout the 19th century The entire 19th century in the history of BPF is a story of struggle between new trends and concepts brought and implemented by new rulers of the land and the traditional perception of the forest and forest uses culturally rooted in this area and originating from mediaeval or older practices The book will show the historical background and the outcome of this struggle the forest's history in the long 19th century focusing on tracking all cultural imprints both material artificial landscapes introduced alien species human induced processes and immaterial traditional knowledge of forest and use of forest resources the political and cultural significance of the forest that shaped the forest's current state and picture Our book will deliver a picture of a crucial moment in forest history relevant not only to the Central Europe but to the continent in general Moment of transition between a royal hunting ground traditional type of use widespread throughout Europe to a modern managed forest Looking at main obstacles in the management shift the essential difference in perceptions of the forest and goods it provides in both modes of management and the implications of the management change for the state of BPF in the long 19th century could help in better understanding the changes that European forests underwent in general

Song of the Forest Stephen Brain, 2011-11-13 The Soviets are often viewed as insatiable industrialists who saw nature as a force to be tamed and exploited Song of the Forest counters this assumption uncovering significant evidence of Soviet conservation efforts in forestry particularly under Josef Stalin In his compelling study Stephen Brain profiles the leading Soviet era conservationists agencies and administrators and their efforts to formulate forest policy despite powerful ideological differences By the time of the revolution of 1905 modern Russian forestry science had developed an influential romantic strand especially prevalent in the work of Georgii Morozov whose theory of stand types asked forest managers to consider native species and local conditions when devising plans for regenerating forests After their rise to power the Bolsheviks turned their backs on this tradition and adopted German methods then considered the most advanced in the world for clear cutting and replanting of marketable tree types in artificial forests Later when Stalin s Five Year Plan required vast amounts of timber for industrialization forest radicals proposed flying management an exaggerated version of German forestry where large tracts of virgin forest would be clear cut Opponents who still upheld Morozov s vision favored a conservative regenerating approach and ultimately triumphed by establishing the world s largest forest preserve Another radical turn came with the Great Stalin Plan for the Transformation of Nature implemented in 1948 Narrow belts of new forest planted on the vast Russian steppe would block drying winds provide cool temperatures trap moisture and increase crop production Unfortunately planters were ordered to follow the misguided methods of the notorious Trofim Lysenko and the resulting yields were abysmal But despite Lysenko agency infighting and an indifferent peasant workforce Stalin s forestry bureaus eventually succeeded in winning many environmental concessions from industrial interests In addition the visionary teachings of Morozov found new life ensuring that the forest s song did not fall upon deaf ears

European Russian Forests Olga V. Smirnova, Maxim V. Bobrovsky, Larisa G. Khanina, 2018-03-23 The European Russian forests are described within the boreal hemiboreal and nemoral forest regions floodplain forests are also characterized The book presents a classification and description of forest vegetation soil characteristic and assessments of plant diversity and successional status of forest plant communities Structure and composition of vegetation in early and late successional forests are analyzed with an emphasis on forests in State Nature reserves Features of the historical land use such as slash and burn forest cutting grazing influence of fires on forest ecosystems etc are discussed for each forest region The book contains an analysis of the general dynamics of the forest cover during the last two decades based on satellite image processing The main stages of transformation of forest landscapes in European Russia during the Holocene are briefly reviewed in connection with the development of the production economy of people
