retailers have closed up shop Illuminating recent academic investigations into the lived experience of economic crisis this volume presents a story of an industry in crisis and the narratives of hope creativity and resilience that have emerged in response The ethnographic depth and theoretical contribution to understanding the effects of economic crisis and the transformation of traditional culture will be of broad interest to students academics and the general public Start and Run a Profitable Craft Business William G. Hynes,1986 Profit from the popularity of handmade crafts Make things that sell Find markets for your crafts Making a Living in Crafts Donald A. Clark,2006 Global Markets and Local Crafts Frederick F. Wherry,2008-02-25 Today it is not uncommon to find items in department stores that are hand crafted in countries like Thailand and Costa Rica These traditional crafts now make up an important part of a global market They support local and sometimes national economies and help create and solidify cultural identity But these crafts are not necessarily indigenous Whereas Thailand markets crafts with a long history and cultural legacy Costa Rica has created a local handicraft tradition where none was known to exist previously In Global Markets and Local Crafts Frederick F Wherry compares the handicraft industries of Thailand and Costa Rica to show how local cultural industries break into global markets and conversely how global markets affect the ways in which artisans understand adapt and utilize their cultural traditions Wherry develops a new framework for studying globalization by considering the phenomenon from the perspective of the supplier instead of the market Drawing from interviews and extensive fieldwork shadowing artisans and exporters in their daily dealings Wherry offers a rare account of globalization in motion and what happens when market negotiations do not proceed as planned Considering economic and political forces flows of people and materials and frames that define cultural and market situations as they play out in the artisan communities of these two countries Wherry uncovers how authentic folk tradition is capitalized or created Artisans in Europe, 1300-1914 James R. Farr,2000-08-17 This book is a survey of the history of work in general and of European urban artisans in particular from the late middle ages to the era of industrialization Unlike traditional histories of work and craftsmen this book offers a multi faceted understanding of artisan experience situated in the artisans culture It treats economic and institutional topics but also devotes considerable attention to the changing ideologies of work the role of government regulation in the world of work the social history of craftspeople the artisan in rebellion against the various authorities in his world and the ceremonial and leisure life of artisans Women masters journeymen apprentices and non guild workers all receive substantial treatment The book concludes with a chapter on the nineteenth century examining the transformation of artisan culture exploring how and why the early modern craftsman became the industrial wage worker mechanic or shopkeeper of the modern age
