Running Out, 2008 Pablo Rafael González, 2008 Running Out, 2008 Pablo Rafael González, 2008 The numbers speak for themselves A disastrous worldwide trend over the last 100 years is illustrated in tables graphs and analyses of natural resource reserves vs production and consumption The effects of world income distribution objective limits to economic growth on a finite planet the impossibility of providing full employment on a global scale and the role allotted to the Third World are laid out in black on white Updated tables and a new compact format bring this volume of essential statistics to today s increasingly tense debate The figures add up to an urgent call for a global commitment to alternative energies and conservation measures 2030, the Coming Tumult Richard M. Mosey, 2009 The short term benefits of unlimited growth are driving the American economic and social model right off a cliff The author shows how corporations drown out scientists and global elites prosper during economic collapse He explores the role of monotheistic religions in abetting population growth and downplaying human agency in the current unprecedented crisis and charts the effects of increasing poverty population migration and social tension The Global Energy Challenge Caroline Kuzemko, Andreas Goldthau, Michael

Keating, 2017-10-07 The supply and demand of energy its security and environmental sustainability are increasingly central issues in the contemporary world This broad ranging new text provides an international and interdisciplinary introduction to today s political economic security policy and technological challenges set in a clear historical context Geopolitics of

Kuzemko, 2013-05-07 In the advent of important crises of both climate change and energy supply in security questions are being asked about changes in energy governance Caroline Kuzemko explains how and why change takes place and discusses the convoluted UK energy governance system that has emerged between 2000 and the present day She applies a complex theoretical approach based on new institutional concepts of policy paradigm change but which also utilises concepts of de politicisation and securitization UK energy governance like energy policy elsewhere is moving from one heavily influenced by neoliberal economic ideas to one where state intervention is more commonplace Moreover the new governance system is informed not by one but by multiple perspectives on energy and governance geopolitical climate change and pro market

Encyclopedia of Global Resources Craig Willard Allin, 2010 The topic of our natural resources has become an important issue over the last few years The abundance of some and scarcity of others has sparked many a debate The four volumes in this set discuss not only the aspects of the resources themselves but their economic and social impact as well Plus complimentary online access is provided through Salem Science Library Journal, 2005 The Globalization of Environmental Crisis Jan Oosthoek, Barry K. Crisis of Global Sustainability Tapio Kanninen, 2013-01-04 This concise and informative text provides a critical history of the concept of sustainability and the various institutional measures taken to promote implement and enforce sustainable development proposing new organizational solutions to deal with the crisis of sustainability Crisis of Global Sustainability provides for the first time a compact insider description of the evolution and impact of the Club of Rome a global think tank that produced a groundbreaking 1972 study The Limits to Growth which highlighted the dangers of unrestrained economic growth and possible collapse of global economy during the first decades of the 21st century With recent research confirming the validity of these concerns Kanninen asks whether our overarching concept of thinking on world development today should continue to be global sustainability which implies that we still have enough time to make adjustments in our future policies and action Or should the main paradigm of our thinking shift to global survivability a concept that stresses the absolute necessity of immediate and drastic change both in institutions and policies Many environmentalists green politicians and think tanks are speaking today more loudly than ever about the necessity for a major policy institutional and paradigm change and this work is essential reading for students and scholars alike

Spirituality and Corporate Social Responsibility David Bubna-Litic, 2012-08-28 Religion and spirituality have often been treated with a secular disdain by management theorists Recently the tide has begun to turn and there is a growing openness to cite spirituality in academic analysis and debate and when considering issues of practical concern to those engaged in the actual business of management This provocative book brings together a range of leading thinkers to consider the relationship between spirituality and corporate social responsibility The book's contributors examine spirituality as an inherent dimension of corporate life even if it is only known through its absence and through the negative consequences of this absence on people and the planet With contributors from four continents David Bubna Litic has assembled a range of fascinating perspectives having their origins in traditions that include Christianity Process Theology Hinduism Contemporary Buddhism Deep Ecology Humanism Post Modern and Post Romantic Spirituality Spirituality and Corporate Social Responsibility is a fascinating read for anyone with an interest in ways in which spirituality relates to what is or what should be driving businesses and organizations to more responsible behaviour Institutional Change in Japan Magnus

Blomström, Sumner La Croix, 2006-08-21 This is a new analysis of recent changes in important Japanese institutions It addresses the origin development and recent adaptation of core institutions including financial institutions corporate governance lifetime employment and the amakudari system After four decades of rapid economic growth in Japan the 1990s saw the country enter a prolonged period of economic stagnation Policy reforms were initially half hearted and businesses were slow to restructure as the global economy changed The lagging economy has been impervious to aggressive fiscal stimulus measures and has been plagued by ongoing price deflation for years Japan's struggle has called into question the ability of the country's economic institutions originally designed to support factor accumulation and rapid development to adapt to the new economic environment of the twenty first century This book discusses both historical and international comparisons including Meiji Japan and recent economic and financial reforms in Korea Scandinavia Switzerland and New Zealand placing the current institutional changes in perspective The contributors argue that contrary to conventional wisdom that Japanese institutions have remained relatively rigid there has been significant institutional change over the last decade

Flexible Crossroads Roger Hayter, 2011-11-01 British Columbia's forest economy is at a crucial crossroads Its survival Roger Hayter argues rests on its ability to remain flexible and open to innovation a future by no means assured given recent policy initiatives and the current contested nature of British Columbia's forests Flexible Crossroads looks at the contemporary restructuring of British Columbia's forest economy demonstrating how both resource dynamics the transition from old growth to managed forests and industrial dynamics changing technology and global market forces have shaped this transformation Conceptually the restructuring is portrayed as a shift from a commodity based cost minimizing production system Fordism to a more product differentiated value maximizing production system informed by the imperative of flexibility The first part of the book provides global and historical perspectives by situating British Columbia's forest economy within the wider context of global industrialization the history of resource dynamics and the current shift from Fordist to more flexible systems of production In the second part Hayter assesses the extent to which British Columbia's forest economy is enacting this shift by focusing on factors such as foreign ownership the strategies and structure of MacMillan Bloedel the role of small firms trade relations employment and labour relations forest community development environmentalism and resource use and innovation policy Flexible Crossroads will appeal to geographers political economists and forestry professionals as well as to students of British Columbia's economy and forest economies generally

Courvisanos, 2012-05-01 Reflection on the history of opinion and its application to our contemporary world and controversies over technology and our environmental difficulties is the distinguishing feature of the thoughtful economist If the reader of this book is moved to reflect on the work of Schumpeter and Kalecki the author of this book will have succeeded Even more important than this if the reader of this book comes to a changed and deeper understanding of how technology changes in our faltering capitalist economies and of how the environment is affected by production and may be improved with better ways of satisfying our personal and productive needs then the author will have done an even greater service to his profession and humanity From the foreword by Jan Toporowski School of Oriental and African Studies University of London UK Jerry Courvisanos provides us with a timely analysis of the forces behind the crises of capitalism and the tendency towards ecologically unsustainable growth He draws on the work of two of most creative if not most recognized economists of the 20th Century Michal Kalecki and Joseph Schumpeter In place of mainstream analysis with its emphasis on marginal conditions for optimisation around well defined equilibrium we have a world of innovation structural change creative destruction business cycles financial crises changing income distribution and many other inconvenient developments that plague modern economies From the foreword by Harry Bloch Curtin University Australia Cycles crises and innovation are the major economic forces that shape capitalist economies Using a critical realist political economy approach the analysis in this fine work is based on the works of Micha Kalecki and Joseph Schumpeter both of whom identify these three dynamic forces as plotting the path of economic development Jerry Courvisanos thought provoking book examines how the rise of capital through investment enshrines innovation in profit and power which in turn determines the course of cycles and crises The author concludes by arguing for strategic intervention by transformative eco innovation as a public policy path to ecologically sustainable development This interdisciplinary book will appeal to economists innovation and entrepreneurship based scholars postgraduate students studying the political economy of both innovation and entrepreneurship regional development planners and economic development policymakers Anyone with a general interest in economics politics and innovation or looking for a path out of the economic and ecological morass of current capitalism will also find much to interest them in this book Choice , 2007-03
