State of the Urban Youth, 2010/2011, 2010 This report is based on data from UN HABITAT's Global Urban Indicator Database as well as surveys of and focus group discussions with selected representative groups of young people in five major cities located in four developing regions: Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Mumbai, India; Kingston, Jamaica; Nairobi, Kenya; and Lagos, Nigeria. ix State of the World's Cities 2008/9 Un-Habitat, 2012-05-04 Cities are perhaps one of humanity's most complex creations, never finished, never definitive. They are like a journey that never ends. Their evolution is determined by their ascent into greatness or their descent into decline. They are the past, the present, and the future. Cities contain both order and chaos. In them reside beauty and ugliness, virtue and vice. They can bring out the best or the worst in humankind. They are the physical manifestation of history and culture, and incubators of innovation, industry, technology, entrepreneurship, and creativity. Cities are the materialization of humanity's noblest ideas, ambitions, and aspirations, but when not planned or governed properly, can be the repository of society's ills. Cities drive national economies by creating wealth, enhancing social development, and providing employment, but they can also be the breeding grounds for poverty, exclusion, and environmental degradation. The 21st Century is the Century of the City. Half of humanity now lives in cities, and within the next two decades, 60 per cent of the world's people will reside in urban areas. How can city planners and policymakers harmonize the various interests, diversity, and inherent contradictions within cities? What ingredients are needed to create harmony between the physical, social, environmental, and cultural aspects of a city and the human beings that inhabit it? This report adopts the concept of Harmonious Cities as a theoretical framework in order to understand today's urban world and also as an operational tool to confront the most important challenges facing urban areas and their development processes. It recognizes that tolerance, diversity, social justice, and good governance, all of which are interrelated, are as important to sustainable urban development as physical planning. It addresses national concerns by searching for solutions at the city level. For that purpose, it focuses on three key areas: spatial or regional harmony, which examines the main drivers of urban growth in the developing world and explores the spatial nuances of economic and social policies; social harmony, which presents and analyzes new data on urban inequalities worldwide and describes the types of shelter deprivations experienced by slum dwellers in developing world regions and environmental harmony which examines the role of cities in the climate change debate and the impact of global warming on the most vulnerable cities The report also assesses the various intangible assets within cities that contribute to harmony such as cultural heritage sense of place and memory and the complex set of social and symbolic relationships that give cities meaning It argues that these intangible assets represent the soul of the city and are as important for harmonious urban development as tangible assets Harmony within cities argues the report is both a journey and a destination Published with UN HABITAT    Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 1986: Legal Services Corporation United States. The Needy and the Neglected in Developing Societies. Zacchaeus Ogunnika,Joyce Moody Edwards,2016-09-22 This book utilizes sociological imagination to analyze and describe the issue of the neglected majority in human society It focuses on how the poor and underclass including women and the disable are perceived and treated by the society and the response of the dominant class to the condition of those neglected It attempts to see through some approaches through which the affected and the neglected especially women can help ameliorate their own neglect by the authority The book saw disability as not a liability but a challenge which can be overcome by the affected The major interesting idea in the book is the authors belief that the neglect should not believe in the utopic idea that the social system as it is constituted will come to their rescue The authors instead assert that the success of the neglected class remains with the neglected themselves By a concerted effort disability will become ability and women by cooperating in women development organizations will overcome the limitation placed on them by the society
