Rural Women And Triple Exploitation In Korean Development:

Rural Women and Triple Exploitation in Korean Development D. Gills, 1999-08-02 This book is a comprehensive analysis of the unrecognized role played and burden borne by rural women during the last four decades of South Korean economic development. It offers a new critical understanding of the crucial role played by rural women in the Korean economic miracle.

Rural Women and Triple Exploitation in Korean Development Dong-Sook Shin Gills, 1999 There is a relative poverty of literature on rural women in South Korea. This book analyses the triple exploitation of rural women as an integral part of the industrialisation process in Korea since the 1960s. It explores the hidden but nonetheless very significant linkages between rural village women, national development and the global economy. Dong Sook Shin Gills argues that rural women's labour systematically subsidised low wage labour in manufacturing export industries upon which economic growth depended. There are many tiers of exploitation: these women are exploited through the subordination of peasant farming to urban industry through developmentalist ideology and through societal patriarchal relations. The book includes analysis of empirical data collected by field survey from rural villages. The author concludes that rural women's labour held up the whole edifice of the economic miracle of South Korea right from the bottom of the heap. Political Economy, Power and the Body G.

Youngs, 1999-10-28 Political Economy Power and the Body is carefully organized to provide an introductory section of three chapters which set out a number of detailed theoretical arguments relevant to the work developed in the next two sections. In this sense the collection should be a major contribution in laying the groundwork in the new area. The strength of the volume lies in the way the individual chapters bring theory and practice together. It could be argued that it represents the maturity of feminist work in international political economy now. The book will be a vital teaching as well as research text especially in international relations, international political economy, women's studies generally. Democracy and Civil Society in Asia: Volume 1

F. Quadir, J. Lele, 2004-03-31 This edited volume brings together a number of well known scholars and activists from various parts of the world to present critical perspectives on recent and long term trends in the economic, socio cultural and political life of the people of Asia and examines the policies and constraints faced by the nation states of the region. It contributes to and enriches the current debates on globalization, the prospects for democracy and sustainable human development. The book offers an incisive assessment of the role of civil society in creating a democratic political culture in Asia.

Japan and the Reconstruction of East Asia D. Kelly, 2001-12-17 Dominic Kelly has written a fascinating study of Japanese policies designed to lead to the reconstruction of East Asia. He presents a detailed picture of Japanese activity in East Asia in the areas of production, finance, security and knowledge and maps out the historical context upon which this activity rests. In doing so, Kelly sheds light on the increasingly powerful but imperfectly understood phenomenon of regionalism. He goes on to identify the major fault line situated beneath both theoretical accounts of Japanese regionalism and real world predictions of its success or failure. Democracy and Civil Society in Asia Fahim Quadir, 2004-03-18 This collection explores the possibilities for expanding and consolidating existing democratic spaces in Asia under the pressure of market reforms. It provides new insights into the prospects for democratic consolidations in the region. The book explores the ways of going beyond the official and elitist discourses on constitutional democracy and economic development. It analyzes the complex challenges of deepening poverty and highlights the obstacles to the empowerment of marginalized communities including women and ethno religious minorities. The authors of this volume suggest ways to engender development through grassroots democracy in the new millennium. State-led Modernization and the New Middle Class in Malaysia A.

Embong, 2002-01-02 Rich in detail and lucidly written, this is the first definitive study of the new middle class in Malaysia. Abdul Rahman Embong examines the emergence and role of the new Malay middle class particularly with regard to democratization and evolution of civil society in Malaysia. As well as exploring variations within the class across the country, the author also draws comparisons with the Malay working class and the middle classes of China, India and elsewhere in East Asia. The Intra-Group Dimensions of Ethnic Conflict in Sri Lanka Kenneth Bush, 2003-12-09 Through an examination of the critical junctures in post colonial Sri Lanka, Kenneth D. Bush refines and advances our understanding of the dynamics underpinning violent and non violent ethnic conflict. The book enables us to understand how the ebb and flow of relations within ethnic groups affects relations between groups for good or for ill. Japan in Crisis S.

Maswood, 2002-08-06 The long postwar economic boom in Japan ended in the early 1990s. Since then, the Japanese economy has stagnated and a series of reforms have failed to initiate economic growth. S. Javed Maswood focuses on the period after the Asian Crisis and looks at the measures that have been taken to revitalize the banking sector and to overcome regulatory and administrative impediments to economic growth. Including analysis of the latest data from Japan, this is an important study of Japan's political economy and the implications of Japan's economic slowdown for regional and global economic prosperity. Peace and Security in the Asia-Pacific Sorpong Peou, 2010-04-15 Demonstrating that none of the various perspectives under review has emerged as the clear winner in the struggle for theoretical hegemony in security studies, this book shows that eclectic perspectives like democratic realist institutionalism can better explain peace and security in the Asian Pacific. The Asian Pacific has emerged as one of the most important regions in the world, causing scholars to pay increased attention to the various challenges old and new to peace and security there. Peace and Security in the Asia Pacific: Theory and Practice is a comprehensive critical review of the established theoretical perspectives relevant to contemporary peace and security studies in the light of recent experiences. Illuminating ongoing debates in the field, the book covers some 20 theoretical perspectives on peace and security in the Asian Pacific, including realist, liberal, socialist, peace and human security, constructivist, feminist and nontraditional security studies. The first section of the book discusses perspectives in realist security studies; the second part covers perspectives critical of realism. The author's goal is to assess whether any of the perspectives found in nonrealist security studies are capable of undermining realism. His conclusion is that each theoretical perspective has its strengths and weaknesses leaving eclecticism as the best way to understand the region's dynamics

Marginalization in Urban China F. Wu, C. Webster, 2010-10-28 This book covers social inequalities in Chinese cities and provides comparative perspectives on inequality and social polarization neoliberalization and the poor the change of property rights rural to urban migration and migrants enclaves deprivation and residential segregation state social security and reemployment training programs

The Political Economy of Capital Market Reforms in Southeast Asia X. Zhang, 2011-09-13 In this book Xiaoke Zhang addresses two fundamental political and policy questions why do politicians have heterogeneous incentives to pursue public regarding policies through capital market reforms and why do they differ in their abilities to initiate and implement market reform policies decisively and resolutely

China and the Global Political Economy S. Breslin, 2007-06-15 China in the Global Political Economy considers one of the most pressing issues of the Twenty First century the relationship between domestic configurations of power and globalized production processes in shaping the process and implications of China's re engagement with the global economy

Japanese Modernity and Welfare R. Vij, 2007-11-13 Challenging conventional thought on the nature of welfare and civil society in modern Japan Ritu Vij offers an original theoretical and historical interpretation of both Drawing upon a neo Hegelian understanding of the formation of modern subjectivity in political economy this book uncovers a specific pattern of welfare provision in Japan

Chinese Capitalisms Y. Chu, 2010-01-13 In Chinese Capitalisms experts examine the rise of capitalism on China and Taiwan analyzing impacts exerted by global capitalism Chinese civilization and remnants of socialist practice In focusing on these they also address longstanding issues such as Weber's China Thesis state business relationships and China's civil society among others

China's Automotive Modernization G. Chin, 2010-01-29 As a window for understanding the relationship between globalization and the state's pursuit of national industrial development this book examines how and why the Chinese government succeeded in leveraging China's international competitive advantages to modernize the country's automotive industry

The Politics of Economic Regionalism K. Cai, 2010-01-20 While major theories of economic regionalism in the existing literature are primarily constructed to explore institutionalized regional integration European integration in particular the analytical framework developed in this work explains the unique process and pattern of regional integration in East Asia

The Political Economy of East Asia K. Cai, 2016-04-30 In a systematic study of the political economy of East Asia Cai adopts an historical perspective alongside a contemporary focus exploring East Asia's development since the late 19th century Following similar paths to economic development East Asian states have achieved economic success integrating themselves into a regional economy

Korea's Globalization Samuel S. Kim, 2000-06-19 This book explores Korea's globalization and its impact on all aspects of Korean society
