Ruralurban Migration In Bangladesh Causes Consequences And Challenges:

Rural-urban Migration in Bangladesh Rita Afsar,2000 Causes, Consequences and Challenges of Rural-urban Migration in Bangladesh Rita Afsar,1995 Attempts to contribute toward greater understanding of the urbanization process in Bangladesh Focuses particularly on the rural urban migration process explaining the causes of mobility and stability and the consequences flowing from that movement for the wellbeing of migrants and their families Migration, Development and Poverty Reduction in Asia Iom International Organization For Migration,2008 Dhaka's Changing Landscape Rita Afsar,Mahabub Hossain,2019-11-05 Between 1991 and 2010 Dhaka s population more than doubled to 15 million Simultaneously the city s contribution to the national economy almost trebled Clearly population growth was accompanied by an unmistakable trend of economic growth and a significant decline in urban poverty and income inequality On the other hand Dhaka s high population density exacerbated serious environmental challenges and it was soon ranked as one of the world s least livable cities In the context of these contradictory signals of rapid urbanization Dhaka s Changing Landscape sets to answer three most intriguing questions Are the poorer segments of urban population which migrate with dreams for better lives benefitting from positive economic trends Are these benefits sustainable Are these benefits creating scope for this group to have a stake in the city s growing prosperity By studying 600 households and applying comparative analysis over a span of 20 years the authors examine demographic and economic trends to understand the patterns scale and complexity of urban poverty income inequality and rural urban migration Going beyond the space and poverty debate they enlighten the readers about the quality of life questions sustainability matters and gender and generational roles and relations necessary to understand qualitative transformation and migrants prospects for a better future Social Science Research in India and the World R. K. Mishra,Jayasree Raveendran,K. N. Jehangir,2015-05-15 A unique and comprehensive study on social science research this book highlights the status issues roadblocks and challenges of the field in India and certain select nations of the world It conducts key cross comparisons with existing literature in the area and discusses aid policies and decisions funding dynamics and quality of research as well as assessment systems in social science research

Urban Poverty in Bangladesh Shahadat Hossain,2010-11-30 The analysis of urban poverty has traditionally been dominated by economic approaches often neglecting the social questions arising from poverty This book seeks to redress the balance and is based on both quantitative and qualitative data collected from different slums in Dhaka City Bangladesh Shahadat Hossain shows that the slum communities experience the highest level of poverty and marginality in the city They remain very much dependent on their families and social networking in their struggle to adapt to urban life This book will be invaluable for those working in the areas of urban studies development studies Asian studies sociology and social policy studies Migration, Urbanization, and Development Richard E. Bilborrow,1998 Internal migration and urbanization are key dimensions of the process of socioeconomic development The unprecedented movement of peoples within the borders of their own countries is one of the greatest transformations witnessed in the 20th century Policy analysts especially those from developing countries where internal migration can be felt at first hand view migration as one of the most important factors affecting the course of development It is within this context that UNFPA convened the Symposium on Internal Migration and Urbanization in Developing Countries in January 1996 in preparation for the United Nations World Conference on Human Settlements in Istanbul in June 1996 The final results of the symposium are found in this book This volume provides a better understanding at global level of internal migration issues of concern to policy analysts

The Construction Precariat Selim Reza, 2020-07-28 Positioned within the discourse of neoliberalism and precarious work this book draws on Guy Standing's notion of the precariat in an examination of the role of recruiting individuals as the key actors in labour recruitment and management practices that produce precarious work conditions Based on extensive empirical work on migrant construction workers and their recruiters in Dhaka the capital of Bangladesh and one of the fastest growing cities in the world it explores the ways in which exploitative employment relationships contribute to various pressures and insecurities amongst migrant workers and limit the scope for labour protection Offering new insights into the field of labour migration by unpacking the interconnections between rural urban labour migration recruitment and precarious employment The Construction Precariat conceptualises the domination of recruiters as producing hyper individualised employment and sheds light on the manner in which this relationship of domination and dependence contributes heavily both to the conditions of precariousness and to the control and exploitation of migrant workers

Remittance Income and Social Resilience among Migrant Households in Rural Bangladesh Mohammad Jalal Uddin Sikder, Vaughan Higgins, Peter Harry Ballis, 2017-09-30 This book examines how migrant remittances contribute to household social resilience in rural Bangladesh Using a mixed methods approach the authors show that remittances play a crucial role in enhancing the life chances and economic livelihoods of rural households and that remittance income enables households to overcome immediate pressures adapt to economic and environmental change build economic and cultural capital and provide greater certainty in planning for the future However the book also reveals that the social and economic benefits of remittances are not experienced equally by all households Rural village households endure a precarious existence and the potentially positive outcomes of remittances can easily be undermined by a range of external and household specific factors leading to few if any benefits in terms of household social resilience

Women and Domestic Violence in Bangladesh Laila Ashrafun, 2018-04-17 After the independence of Bangladesh in 1971 the country has experienced large scale transformations owing to national and international migration urbanization the development of many national and international non governmental organizations NGOs and economic dynamism Globalization and economic liberalization have created opportunities to develop sustainable social policies by strengthening the national economy of the country Major progress has been made in closing the gender gap and the Constitution of Bangladesh provides equality of status and opportunity to all its citizens irrespective of sex However domestic violence perpetuated against women is a common phenomenon in Bangladesh This book is a study about domestic violence against women in Bangladeshi society It delineates in particular why and how some women become the victims of domestic violence in the changing socio economic setting of Bangladesh The author explores the multiple contexts in which domestic violence occurs by focusing on the everyday experience of women subjected to this violence The book shows how changing socio economic setting urbanization and the growing demand for female labor influences the phenomenon and experience of domestic violence It demonstrates that domestic violence is entangled in a complex web of institutionalized social relations that necessitates a structural and contextual understanding of the production of such violence in family kinship and gender relations Finally it identifies factors that cause perpetuate and mitigate domestic violence or give strength to women to struggle and raise their voices or take shelter in the law against the perpetrators of domestic violence A novel contribution to our understanding of how gender relationships are differently constituted and contested in the everyday lives of Bangladeshi women both in natal and affinal families this book will be of interest to academics in the field of Sociology Gender and Law and South Asian Studies

Historical Dictionary of Bangladesh Syedur Rahman, 2010-04-27 Bangladesh literally the land of the Bengalis is the most recent addition in 1971 to the independent nations of South Asia It had previously been known as East Pakistan and prior to that it was part of British India It has been inhabited by people of different races and religions and ruled over by different leaders who imposed different regimes It is overpopulated and underdeveloped but there is much more to it than that Bangladesh has a long and oftentimes proud tradition it has produced writers and artists of genius and it is an important outpost of Islam And with a population of some 130 million it is one of the larger countries in the world The fourth edition of the Historical Dictionary of Bangladesh greatly expands on the previous edition through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and over 700 cross referenced dictionary entries on important people places events and institutions as well as significant political economic social and cultural aspects

Addressing Inequality in South Asia The World Bank, 2014-10-08 Inequality in South Asia appears to be moderate when looking at standard indicators such as the Gini index which are based on consumption expenditures per capita But other pieces of evidence reveal enormous gaps from extravagant wealth at one end to lack of access to the most basic services at the other Which prompts the question How bad is inequality in South Asia And why would that matter This book takes a comprehensive look at the extent nature and drivers of inequality in this very dynamic region of the world It discusses how some dimensions of inequality such as high returns to investments in human capital contribute to economic growth while others such as high payoffs to rent seeking or broken aspirations undermine it Drawing upon a variety of data sources it disentangles the contribution that opportunity in young age mobility in adult years and support throughout life make to inequality at any point in time Equally important the book sheds light on the prospects of escaping disadvantage over time The analysis shows that South Asia performs poorly in terms of opportunity Access to basic services is partial at best and can be traced to characteristics at birth including gender location and caste Conversely the region has had a robust performance in terms of geographical and occupational mobility despite its cluttered urbanization and widespread informality Migration and jobs have served disadvantaged groups better than the rest highlighting the importance of the urbanization and private sector development agendas Support falls somewhere in between Poverty alleviation programs are pervasive But the mobilization of public resources is limited and much of it is wasted in regressive subsidies while inter government transfers do not do enough to mitigate spatial inequalities Urban Transformational Landscapes in the City-Hinterlands of Asia Debnath Mookherjee, George M.

Pomeroy, Le Thi Thu Huong, 2023-05-16 In the context of mounting challenges stemming from a rapid transformation of the urban regional landscapes in many Asian countries this book highlights a multifaceted array of issues that increasingly engage the academic and planning communities in search of viable solutions to complex problems facing us Even though cities continue to dominate development studies urbanization of Asia is evolving toward a hybrid urban rural nexus beyond the cities This volume considers these shifting dynamics of Asian urbanization including urban spatial transformations and their ramifications in the context of sustainability and planning Through the lens of a set of empirical studies across diverse disciplines geographies and methodologies yet with an overarching concern for sustainability in varied but interconnected areas such as climate change land use planning infrastructure and urban mobility and quality of life these studies examine a range of important topics e g flooding transportation housing open space green space urban garden and such in city regional settings Together they add insights into varied transformational processes or patterns at work on the urban regional landscapes in a number of Asian countries while offering innovative approaches or alternatives The proposed volume fills a gap in urban regional studies in context of South and Southeast Asia that will be of interest to all stakeholders e g planners administrators academicians and the citizenry particularly those interested in sustainability and planning paradigms It should be a timely and valuable addition to the Asian urbanization literature Bangladeshi Migration to Singapore Md

Mizanur Rahman, 2017-03-07 This book examines international labour migrants in the context of South South migration with a focus on Bangladeshi migration to Singapore Two principal questions in the South South migration are addressed Why and how individuals migrate for work and what impact this temporary form of migration has for migrants and their families The book adopts a relatively new methodological approach to labour migration by linking different phases that migrants undergo in the migration process and by combining migrants in the host country with their families in the origin country This is achieved through identifying and addressing six key areas i migration policy ii social imperatives of migration iii recruitment iv social worlds of the migrants v remittance process and finally vi family development dynamics This book introduces the bari to migration research as a unit of analysis over and above individual and family units The book reveals how social and cultural forces both initiate and perpetuate migration and later on influence bari dynamics

The Future of Asian Feminisms Nursyahbani Katjasungkana,Saskia E. Wieringa,2011-10-18 This book on the future of Asian feminisms confronting fundamentalisms conflicts and neo liberalism is a critical contribution to the rising voices of Asian women s studies scholars and activists It is based on the ongoing research and advocacy work of the Kartini Asia Network founded in 2003 in Manila The five overlapping themes of the network are women gender studies fundamentalisms conflicts livelihood and sexuality Considering that the economic and political weight of the region is growing fast and that the 21st century has been named the Asian century Asia is increasingly recognised as the continent to which economic if not political power will shift in the coming decades The chapters brought together in this volume demonstrate the great diversity of the transversal cultural flow that women s movements within Asia provide Members of the Kartini network stimulate the articulation of a particular Asian voice in women s studies and in the global women s movement Considering the existing patriarchal structures all over the continent a continuum of oppressions enfolds from the global sphere of market exchange to emerging fundamentalisms and to bitter conflicts and struggles around sexualities The present volume provides elements for the critical dialogues that are needed between women in the region between women and men between people in all sorts of strategic positions and between theoreticians in the Global South and the Global North to create a world in which human dignity is not eroded by predatory economic processes and in which democracy diversity pluralism and inclusivity are the guiding principles of governance

Overseas Migration and Its Socio-economic Impacts on the Families Left Behind in Pakistan Izhar Ahmad Khan Azhar,2008 Alternative Development Cathrine Brun,Piers Blaikie,2016-03-23 This book brings together a collection of essays that discuss alternative development and its relevance for local global processes of marginalization and change in the Global South Alternative development questions who the producers of development knowledges and practices are and aims at decentring development and geographical knowledge from the Anglo American centre and the Global North It involves resistance to dominant political economic processes in order to further the possibilities for non exploitative and just forms of development By discussing how to unravel marginalization and voice change through alternative methods actors and concepts the book provides useful guidance on understanding the relationship between theory and practice The main strength of the book is that it calls for a central role for alternative development in the current development discourse most notably related to justice rights globalization forced migration conflict and climate change The book provides new ways of engaging with alternative development thinking and making development alternatives relevant Industrial Labour in an Unequal World Christian Strümpell, Michael Hoffmann, 2023-10-04 The volume scrutinizes the fundamentally uneven character of industrial production and working class formation by bringing together anthropologists specializing on industrial labour in various locations from South America Western and Eastern Europe North Africa and South Asia Through their engagement with Leon Trotsky's concept of uneven and combined development the authors unravel the complex relations that connect and disconnect labour in their sites of research with workers in other places and other times As the contributions likewise reveal the unevenness and combination inherent in industrial developments shape and are at the same time also shaped by the different politics workers in an unequal world pursue as well as the historical experiences and future expectations of workers that inform these With the attention the authors pay to the specificities of ethnographic detail as well as to broader regional and global developments the volume demonstrates the value of long term ethnographic research and is of interest to a wide audience ranging from specialists in the fields of anthropology history sociology and development studies to students and activists
