Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress,Library of Congress. Office for Subject Cataloging Policy,2012 Stumbling Colossus David M. Glantz,1998 Drawing on evidence never before seen in the West including combat records of early engagements David Glantz claims that in 1941 the Red Army was poorly trained inadequately equipped ineptly organized and consequently incapable of engaging in large scale military campaigns and both Hitler and

Stalin knew it He provides a complete and convincing study of why the Soviets almost lost the war that summer dispelling many of the myths about the Red Army that have persisted since the war and soundly refuting Viktor Suvorov's controversial thesis that Stalin was planning a preemptive strike against Germany

The Role of the Soviet Union in the Second World War Boris Sokolov, 2013-04-24 This book investigates several controversial issues regarding the role of the Soviet Union and the performance of the Soviet government and Red Army to which the author provides some provocative answers The primary question explored by the author however regards the effectiveness of both the Red Army and of the Soviet military economy Dr Sokolov argues that the chief defect of the Soviet military economy was the disproportionate emphasis on the production of tanks and aircraft at the expense of transportation means and the means of command and control This leads the author to look at the role of Lend Lease during the war Through the delivery of radio sets trucks jeeps locomotives fuel explosives and so on the author concludes that Lend Lease was critical to the Red Army and that the Soviet Union would not have been able to wage a long war against Germany without the Lend Lease supplies a conclusion that defies decades of Soviet claims to the contrary Finally the author looks at the still very controversial and hot topic of Red Army losses in the war which was taboo for decades arguing that this is an effective measure of the Red Army's military performance He and other scholars have estimated that the Red Army's losses were on the scale of 27 million three times larger than the official estimates and approximately 10 times greater than the German losses on the Eastern Front He argues that such horrendous casualties and such an unfavorable ratio for the Red Army were the result of the relatively low value placed on human life in both the Russian Empire and the Soviet Union and the much more destructive nature of the Soviet totalitarian regime as compared with the Third Reich which cowed the Soviet generals and officers into total subservience Due to the elimination of all political opposition and the total control over people's lives soldiers and civilians could not protest against the crude tactics that resulted in such a very high rate of losses Dr Boris Sokolov is a prolific author and a member of the Russian branch of PEN International which celebrates literature and promotes freedom of expression In 2008 Dr Sokolov was forced to resign as Professor of Social Anthropology from his post at the Russian State Social University in Moscow at the demand of President Medvedev's administration after publishing an article about the 2008 Russian Georgian War The author of 69 books as of 2012 his work has focused on the history of the Second World War and has also written biographies of such prominent military and political leaders as Bulgakov Stalin Molotov Beria Tukhachevsky Rokossovsky and Zhukov In addition he has written numerous articles on history philology political science and economics A prominent specialist in the problems of military losses military economy and strategy he has given lectures in Russia Estonia Latvia and Denmark and his books and articles have been translated into numerous languages He currently resides in Moscow and is working on a biography of Marshal Rodion Malinovsky Stuart Britton is a freelance translator and editor residing in Cedar Rapids Iowa He has been responsible for making a growing number of Russian titles available to readers of the English language consisting primarily of memoirs by Red Army veterans and recent historical research concerning the Eastern Front of the Second World War and Soviet air operations in the Korean War Notable recent titles include Valeriy Zamulin's award winning Demolishing the Myth The Tank Battle at Prokhorovka Kursk July 1943 An Operational Narrative Helion 2011 Boris Gorbachevsky's Through the Maelstrom A Red Army Soldier's War on the Eastern Front 1942-45 University Press of Kansas 2008 and Yuri Sutiagin's and Igor Seidov's MiG Menace Over Korea The Story of Soviet Fighter Ace Nikolai Sutiagin Pen Sword Aviation 2009 Future books will include Svetlana Gerasimova's analysis of the prolonged and savage fighting against Army Group Center in 1942-43 to liberate the city of Rzhev and more of Igor Seidov's studies of the Soviet side of the air war in Korea 1951-1953

The People's War Robert W. Thurston, Bernd Bonwetsch, 2000 The People's War lifts the Stalinist veil of secrecy to probe an almost untold side of World War II the experiences of the Soviet people themselves Going beyond dry and faceless military accounts of the eastern front of the Great Patriotic War and the Soviet state's one dimensional heroic People this volume explores how ordinary citizens responded to the war Stalinist leadership and Nazi invasion Drawing on a wealth of archival and recently published material contributors detail the calculated destruction of a Jewish town by the Germans and present a chilling picture of life in occupied Minsk They look at the cultural developments of the war as well as the wartime experience of intellectuals for whom the period was a time of relative freedom They discuss women's myriad roles in combat and other spheres of activity They also reassess the behavior and morale of ordinary Red Army troops and offer new conclusions about early crushing defeats at the hands of the Germans defeats that were officially explained as cowardice on the part of high officers A frank investigation of civilian life behind the front lines The People's War provides a detailed balanced picture of the Stalinist USSR by describing not only the command structure and repressive power of the state but also how people reacted to them cooperated with or opposed them and adapted or ignored central policy in their own ways By putting the Soviet people back in their war this volume helps restore the range and complexity of human experience to one of history's most savage periods Hitler's Japanese Confidant Carl Boyd, 1993 In 1940 the US Army Signal Intelligence Service broke the Japanese diplomatic code In 1975 Oshima Hiroshi Japan's ambassador to Berlin during World War II died never knowing that the hundreds of messages he transmitted to Tokyo had been fully decoded by the Americans and whisked off to Washington providing a major source of information for the Allies on Nazi activities
