Morash, 2023-03-09 The words of its writers are part of the texture of Dublin an invisible counterpart to the bricks and pavement we see around us Beyond the ever present footsteps of James Joyce's characters Leopold Bloom or Stephen Dedalus around the city centre an ordinary looking residential street overlooking Dublin Bay for instance presents the house where Nobel Laureate Seamus Heaney lived for many years a few blocks away is the house where another Nobel Laureate W.B. Yeats was born Just down the coast is the pier linked to yet another Samuel Beckett from which we can see the Martello Tower that is the setting for the opening chapter of Ulysses But these are only a few Step by step Dublin A Writer's City unfolds a book lover's map of this unique city inviting us to experience what it means to live in a great city of literature The book is heavily illustrated and features custom maps House Hold Ann Peters, 2014-02-12 Like the house built by Ann Peters's father on a hill in eastern Wisconsin House Hold offers many views cornfields and glacial lakes fast food parking lots and rural highways Manhattan apartments and Brooklyn brownstones Peters revisits the modern split level where she grew up in Wisconsin remembering her architect father Against the background of this formative space she charts her roaming story through two decades of New York City apartments before traveling to a cabin in the mountains of Colorado and finally purchasing an old farmhouse in upstate New York More than a memoir of remembered landscapes House Hold is also an expansive contemplation of America a meditation on place and property and an exploration of how literature shapes our thinking about the places we live A gifted prose stylist Peters seamlessly combines her love of buildings with her love of books She wanders through the rooms of her past but also through what Henry James called the house of fiction interweaving personal narrative with musings on James Willa Cather William Dean Howells Paule Marshall William Maxwell and others Peters reflects on the romance of pastoral retreat the hazards of nostalgia America's history of expansion and land ownership and the conflicted desires to put down roots and to hit the road Throughout House Hold she asks how places make us who we are
