Conti, Kevin J. Wetmore, Jr., 2022-03-01 The macabre as a process and product has been haunting the theatre and more broadly performance for thousands of years In its embodied meditations on death and dying its thematic and aesthetic grotesquerie and its sensory rich environments macabre theatre invites artists and audiences to trace the stranger darker contours of human existence In this volume numerous scholars explore the morbid and gruesome onstage from freak shows to the French Grand Guignol from Hell Houses to German Trauerspiel from immersive theatre to dark tourism stopping along the way to look at phantoms severed heads dark rides haunted mothers and haunting children dances of death and dismembered bodies From Japan to Australia to England to the United States the global macabre is framed and juxtaposed to understand how the theatre brings us face to face with the deathly and the horrific Heads Will Roll, 2012-01-20 The decapitation motif recurs in nearly all medieval and early modern genres from saints lives and epics to comedies and romances yet decollation is often little regarded save as a marker of humanity that is as the moment mortality exits or inhumanity that is as the moment the supernatural enters However as a seat of reason wisdom and even the soul the head has long been afforded a special place in the body politic even when separated from its body proper Capitalizing upon the
