Surrealism at Play Susan Laxton, 2019-02-14 In Surrealism at Play Susan Laxton writes a new history of surrealism in which she traces the centrality of play to the movement and its ongoing legacy For surrealist artists play took a consistent role in their aesthetic as they worked in with and against a post World War I world increasingly dominated by technology and functionalism Whether through exquisite corpse drawings Man Ray's rayographs or Joan Miró's visual puns surrealists became adept at developing techniques and processes designed to guarantee aleatory outcomes In embracing chance as the means to produce unforeseeable ends they shifted emphasis from final product to process challenging the disciplinary structures of industrial modernism As Laxton demonstrates play became a primary method through which surrealism refashioned artistic practice everyday experience and the nature of subjectivity

Surrealist Ghostliness Katharine Conley, 2020-04-01 In this study of surrealism and ghostliness Katharine Conley provides a new unifying theory of surrealist art and thought based on history and the paradigm of puns and anamorphosis In Surrealist Ghostliness Conley discusses surrealism as a movement haunted by the experience of World War I and the repressed ghost of spiritualism From the perspective of surrealist automatism this double haunting produced a unifying paradigm of textual and visual puns that both pervades surrealist thought and art and commemorates the surrealists' response to the Freudian unconscious Extending the gothic imagination inherited from the eighteenth century the surrealists inaugurated the psychological century with an exploration of ghostliness through doubles puns and anamorphosis revealing through visual activation the underlying coexistence of realities as opposed to life and death Surrealist Ghostliness explores examples of surrealist ghostliness in film photography painting sculpture and installation art from the 1920s through the 1990s by artists from Europe and North America from the center to the periphery of the surrealist movement Works by Man Ray Claude Cahun Brassa and Salvador Dalí Lee Miller Dorothea Tanning Francesca Woodman Pierre Alechinsky and Susan Hiller illuminate the surrealist ghostliness that pervades the twentieth century arts and compellingly unifies the century's most influential yet disparate avant garde movement
