Computational Logic in Multi-Agent Systems Jürgen Dix,Joao Leite,Guido Governatori,Wojtek Jamroga,2010-08-12 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 11th International Workshop on Computational Logic in Multi Agent Systems CLIMA XI held in Lisbon Portugal in August 2010 The 14 papers included in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 31 submissions The purpose of the CLIMA workshops is to provide a forum for discussing techniques based on computational logic for representing programming and reasoning about agents and multi agent systems in a formal way CLIMA 2010 featured two thematic special sessions on norms and normative multi agent systems and logics for games and strategic reasoning Integrated Network Management VIII Germán Goldszmidt,Schönwälder Jürgen,2013-06-05 Welcome to 1M 2003 the eighth in a series of the premier international technical conference in this field As IT management has become mission critical to the economies of the developed world our technical program has grown in relevance strength and quality Over the next few years leading IT organizations will gradually move from identifying infrastructure problems to providing business services via automated intelligent management systems To be successful these future management systems must provide global scalability for instance to support Grid computing and large numbers of pervasive devices In Grid environments organizations can pool desktops and servers dynamically creating a virtual environment with huge processing power and new management challenges As the number type and criticality of devices connected to the Internet grows new innovative solutions are required to address this unprecedented scale and management complexity The growing penetration of technologies such as WLANs introduces new management challenges particularly for performance and security Management systems must also support the management of business processes and their supporting technology infrastructure as integrated entities They will need to significantly reduce the amount of adventitious bootless data thrown at consoles delivering instead a cogent view of the system state while leaving the handling of lower level events to self managed multifarious systems and devices There is a new emphasis on autonomic computing building systems that can perform routine tasks without administrator intervention and take prescient actions to rapidly recover from potential software or hardware failures ECOOP '93 - Object-Oriented Programming Oscar M. Nierstrasz,2003-05-16 It is now more than twenty five years since object oriented programming was inve ed actually more than thirty years since work on Simula started but by all accounts it would appear as if object oriented technology has only been discovered in the past ten years When the first European Conference on Object Oriented Programming was held in Paris in 1987 I think it was generally assumed that Object Oriented Progr ming like Structured Programming would quickly enter the vernacular and that a c ference on the subject would rapidly become superfluous On the contrary the range and impact of object oriented approaches and methods continues to expand and spite the inevitable oversell and hype object oriented technology has reached a level of scientific maturity that few could have foreseen ten years ago Object oriented technology also cuts across scientific cultural boundaries like perhaps no other field of computer science as object oriented concepts can be applied to virtually all the other areas and affect virtually all aspects of the software life cycle So in retrospect emphasizing just Programming in the name of the conference was perhaps somewhat short sighted but at least the acronym is pronounceable and easy to remember This year's ECOOP attracted 146 submissions from around the world making the selection process even tougher than usual The selected papers range in topic from programming language and database issues to analysis and design and reuse and from experience reports to theoretical contributions
