Roman Rule and Jewish Life Hannah M. Cotton, 2022-03-07 Hannah M Cotton's collected papers focus on questions which have fascinated her for over four decades the concrete relationships between law language administration and everyday life in Judaea and Nabataea in particular and in the Roman world as a whole Many of the papers especially those devoted to the Judean Desert documents of the 2nd century CE have been widely cited Others having appeared in less accessible publications may not have received the attention they deserve On the whole rather than addressing the grand narratives of world or national history they look at the texture of life seeking to provide tentative answers to historical questions and interpretations by paying fine attention to the details of literary and especially documentary evidence Taken together they illuminate fundamental often legal questions concerning daily life and the exercise of Roman rule and administration in the early imperial period and especially their impact on life as it was lived in the province and the period where Roman and Jewish history fatefully intersected The volume includes a complete bibliography of her publications

Documentary Sources in Ancient Near Eastern and Greco-Roman Economic History Heather D. Baker, Michael Jursa, 2014-08-31 This volume breaks new ground in approaching the Ancient Economy by bringing together documentary sources from Mesopotamia and the Greco Roman world Addressing textual corpora that have traditionally been studied separately the collected papers overturn the conventional view of a fundamental divide between the economic institutions of these two regions The premise is that while controlling for differences texts from either cultural setting can be brought to bear on the other and can shed light through their use as proxy data on such questions as economic mentalities and market development The book also presents innovative approaches to the quantitative study of large corpora of ancient documents The resulting view of the Ancient Economy is much more variegated and dynamic than traditional primitivist views would
