Aviation and Tourism Anne Graham, Andreas Papatheodorou, Peter Forsyth, 2010 Transport is an essential element of tourism providing the vital link between the tourist generating areas and destinations Good accessibility which is determined by the transport services provided is a fundamental condition for the development of any tourist destination Moreover the transport industry can be a major beneficiary of tourism because of the additional passenger demand that may be generated Aviation is an increasingly important mode of transport for tourism markets Whilst geography has meant that in modern times air travel has always been the dominant mode for long distance travel and much international tourism moves towards deregulation and in particular the emergence of the low cost carrier sector have also increased aviation s significance for short and medium haul tourism trips Thus developments in aviation can have very major implications for many leisure and business tourism markets However the characteristics and needs of leisure travellers are generally so very different from business travellers that this necessitates a separate consideration of these markets if a detailed understanding of the relationship with aviation is to be gained In spite of the obvious closeness between the aviation and tourism industries there are very few specialist texts on this subject Most tourism focused books consider aviation as just one component of the tourism industry which needs to be discussed whereas aviation specialist texts rarely concentrate on just leisure travel In addition there is very little literature that gives a detailed appreciation of the complexities and potential conflicts associated with the development of coherent and effective aviation and tourism policies Therefore it is the aim of this book to fill this important gap which exists with a comprehensive in depth study of the relationship between aviation and leisure travel The book deals exclusively with issues related to the relationship between aviation and leisure travel It does this with an analysis of the theoretical concepts relevant to the subject area combined with a detailed investigation of current practice within the aviation and tourism industries Each chapter is illustrated with case study material that will reinforce the understanding of the issues that are being examined Tourism, Transport and Travel Management M.R. Dileep,2019-03-04

The terms travel and tourism are often used interchangeably in tourism literature This comprehensive textbook provides students with essential knowledge of the intricate relationship existing between travel transport and tourism The book analyses the structure functions activities strategies and practices of each of the sectors in the travel industry such as airlines airports tour operators travel agencies and cruises It is structured into six parts covering all modes of transport air land and water travel intermediation the tour operation business and impacts and prospects for the future International case studies are integrated throughout to showcase practical realities and challenges in the travel industry and to aid students learning and understanding Written in an accessible and engaging style this is an invaluable resource for students of tourism hospitality transport and travel management courses Efficiency and Growth of Ethiopian Air Transport Industry

Tsegay Kaleab Atsbaha,2022-09-19 This book evaluates the efficiency and growth of the Ethiopian air transport sector through careful analysis It provides essential research input for air transport industry practitioners in planning and resource management as well as for academics of advanced efficiency analysis who need to work and study in airports and the airline industry The book analyzes the theoretical and practical implications of air transport growth determinants airports cost and production efficiency including labor use efficiency by taking their respective determinant factors The findings and policy implications of each research work provide important inputs for government policymakers and air transport planners to consider the causality of economic growth versus airlines growth and other determinants to take lessons on the proper resource allocation in the application of airport cost and production efficiency human capital investment cost price of capital and labor inputs during the development and expansion of airports and airlines This book is the first of its kind on the Ethiopian air transport industry and serves as a much needed reference for the African air transport industry as well as other developing countries in terms of airport costs production labor use efficiency and airline growth perspectives Airport Competition Peter Forsyth,David Gillen,Jurgen Muller,Hans-Martin Niemeier,2016-03-23 The break up of BAA and the blocked takeover of Bratislava airport by the competing Vienna airport have brought the issue of airport competition to the top of the agenda for air transport policy in Europe Airport Competition reviews the current state of the debate and asks whether airport competition is strong enough to effectively limit market power It provides evidence on how travellers chose an airport thereby altering its competitive position and on how airports compete in different regions and markets The book also discusses the main policy implications of mergers and subsidies Airports, Cities and Regions Sven Conventz,Alain Thierstein,2014-08-27 Since the emergence of urban systems cities have developed in a mutually inter dependent process of socio economic dynamics and transportation linkages In recent years Airports worldwide have stepped beyond the stage of being pure infrastructure facilities while the complex dynamics that are taking place at and around international airports represent a crucial element in the post industrial reorganisation of urban and regional systems Airports are increasingly recognized as general urban activity centres that is key assets for cities and regions as economic generators and catalysts of investment in addition to being critical components of efficient city infrastructure This book brings together contributions from renowned academic scholars and world leading practitioners to discuss insights gained from theory and practice The first collection of papers reflects upon the general role and future of airports as well as their specific contribution to competitive advantages within a fast changing business and economic landscape The second group of contributions ask about the role airports play within the innovation process that is inherently centred on generating and sharing knowledge The third section of papers investigates the drivers of real estate developments on airport land and in the close vicinity of airports
