The Melancholy of Race Anne Anlin Cheng, 2000-11-30 In this groundbreaking interdisciplinary study Anne Anlin Cheng argues that we have to understand racial grief not only as the result of racism but also as a foundation for racial identity The Melancholy of Race proposes that racial identification is itself already a melancholic act a social category that is imaginatively supported through a dynamic of loss and compensation by which the racial other is at once rejected and retained Using psychoanalytic theories on mourning and melancholia as inroads into her subject Cheng offers a closely observed and carefully reasoned account of the minority experience as expressed in works of art by and about Asian Americans and African Americans She argues that the racial minority and dominant American culture both suffer from racial melancholia and that this insight is crucial to a productive reimagining of progressive politics Her discussion ranges from Flower Drum Song to M Butterfly Brown v Board of Education to Anna Deavere Smith's Twilight and Invisible Man to The Woman Warrior in the process demonstrating that racial melancholia permeates our fantasies of citizenship assimilation and social health Her investigations reveal the common interests that social legal and literary histories of race have always shared with psychoanalysis and situates Asian American and African American identities in relation to one another within the larger process of American racialization A provocative look at a timely subject this study is essential reading for anyone interested in race studies critical theory or psychoanalysis The Melancholy of Race : Psychoanalysis, Assimilation, and Hidden Grief ,2000 Cultural Melancholy Jermaine Singleton, 2015-11-15 A daring cultural and literary studies investigation Cultural Melancholy explores the legacy of unresolved grief produced by ongoing racial oppression and resistance in the United States Using acute analysis of literature drama musical performance and film Singleton demonstrates how rituals of racialization and resistance transfer and transform melancholy discreetly across time consolidating racial identities and communities along the way He also argues that this form of impossible mourning binds racialized identities across time and social space by way of cultural resistance efforts Singleton develops the concept of cultural melancholy as a response to scholarship that calls for the separation of critical race studies and psychoanalysis excludes queer theoretical approaches from readings of African American literatures and cultures and overlooks the status of racialized performance culture as a site of serious academic theorization In doing so he weaves critical race studies psychoanalysis queer theory and performance studies into conversation to uncover a host of hidden dialogues psychic and social personal and political individual and collective for the purpose of promoting a culture of racial grieving critical race consciousness and collective agency Wide ranging and theoretically bold Cultural Melancholy counteracts the racial legacy effects that plague our twenty first century multiculturalism English Ethnicity and Race in Early Modern Drama Mary Floyd-Wilson, 2003-02-20 In English Ethnicity and Race in Early Modern Drama first published in 2003 Mary Floyd Wilson outlines what we might call scientific conceptions of racial and ethnic differences in sixteenth and seventeenth century

English writing Drawing on classical and contemporary medical texts histories and cosmographies Floyd Wilson demonstrates that Renaissance understandings of racial and ethnic identities contradicted many modern stereotypes concerning difference Southerners Africans in particular were identified as dispassionate cool tempered and wise whereas the more northern English were understood to be unruly impressionable and slow witted Concerned with the unflattering and constraining implications of this classically derived knowledge English writers laboured to reinvent ethnology to their own advantage a labour that paved the way for the invention of more familiar racial ideas Floyd Wilson highlights these English revisionary efforts in her surprising and transformational readings of the period s drama including Marlowe s Tamburlaine Jonson s The Masque of Blackness and Shakespeare s Othello and Cymbeline Orozco's American Epic Mary K. Coffey,2020-02-28 Between 1932 and 1934 Jos Clemente Orozco painted the twenty four panel mural cycle entitled The Epic of American Civilization in Dartmouth College s Baker Berry Library An artifact of Orozco s migration from Mexico to the United States the Epic represents a turning point in his career standing as the only fresco in which he explores both US American and Mexican narratives of national history progress and identity While his title invokes the heroic epic form the mural indicts history as complicit in colonial violence It questions the claims of Manifest Destiny in the United States and the Mexican desire to mend the wounds of conquest in pursuit of a postcolonial national project In Orozco s American Epic Mary K Coffey places Orozco in the context of his contemporaries such as Diego Rivera and David Alfaro Siqueiros and demonstrates the Epic s power as a melancholic critique of official indigenism industrial progress and Marxist messianism In the process Coffey finds within Orozco s work a call for justice that resonates with contemporary debates about race immigration borders and nationality The Palgrave Handbook of Psychosocial Studies Stephen Frosh,Marita Vyrgioti,Julie Walsh,2024-05-02 Over the past decades psychosocial studies has demonstrated its strengths and influence across diverse sites of theory and practice it continues to grow as an area of transdisciplinary research that dialogues with psychoanalysis sociology critical psychology cultural studies gender and sexuality studies and postcolonial studies The Palgrave Handbook of Psychosocial Studies is the first Major Reference Work to explore the history and depth of the field and offer a critical evaluation of contemporary theories empirical methods and practices of psychosocial studies With 50 chapters this state of the art collection reflects back on texts that have influenced the development of psychosocial studies from a 2020s perspective explores current major topics with evaluative reviews identifies newly emerging areas of enquiry features a wide range of international psychosocial voices Published chapters can be read and downloaded individually online <https://link.springer.com/referencework/10.1007/978-3-030-61510-9> The Palgrave Handbook of Psychosocial Studies is unique in covering a wide range of psychosocial topics and in being written accessibly from many different perspectives It will appeal to students scholars and practitioner researchers alike Race to Win Derek Daly,2008-02-15 The keys to success and the principles of high performance from world class race car driver commentator and entrepreneur Derek Daly The

Oxford Handbook of Shakespeare and Race, 2024-01-04 Premodern critical race studies long intertwined with Shakespeare studies has broadened our understanding of the definitions and discourse of race and racism to include not only phenotype but also religious and political identity regional national and linguistic difference and systems of differentiation based upon culture and custom Replete with fresh readings of the plays and poems The Oxford Handbook of Shakespeare and Race brings together some of the most important scholars thinking about the subject today The volume offers a thorough overview of the most significant theoretical and methodological paradigms such as critical race theory feminist and postcolonial studies a dynamic look at intersections of race with queer trans disability and indigenous studies and a vibrant array of new approaches from ecocriticism to animality and human rights from book history to scholarly editing and repertory studies and an exploration of Shakespeare and race in our contemporary moment through discussions of political activism pedagogy visual arts film and theatre Woven through the collection are the voices of practicing theatre professionals who have grappled with the challenges of race and racism both in performance and in the profession itself Appropriating Blackness E. Patrick Johnson, 2003-08-13 A consideration of the performance of Blackness and race in general in relation to sexuality and critiques of authenticity Gender Protest and Same-Sex Desire in Antebellum American Literature David Greven, 2016-04-22 Expanding our understanding of the possibilities and challenges inherent in the expression of same sex desire before the Civil War David Greven identifies a pattern of what he calls gender protest and sexual possibility recurring in antebellum works He suggests that major authors such as Margaret Fuller Edgar Allan Poe Herman Melville and Nathaniel Hawthorne consciously sought to represent same sex desire in their writings Focusing especially on conceptions of the melancholia of gender identification and shame Greven argues that same sex desire was inextricably enmeshed in scenes of gender role strain as exemplified in the extent to which The Narrative of Arthur Gordon Pym depicts masculine identity adrift and in disarray Greven finds similarly compelling representations of gender protest in Fuller s exploration of the crisis of gendered identity in Summer on the Lakes in Melville s representation of Redburn s experience of gender nonconformity and in Hawthorne s complicated delineation of desire in The Scarlet Letter As Greven shows antebellum authors not only took up the taboo subjects of same sex desire and female sexuality but were adept in their use of a variety of rhetorical means for expressing the inexpressible Indiscretions, 2015-06-29 In the West once apparently progressive causes such as sexual equality and lesbian and gay emancipation are increasingly redeployed in order to discipline and ostracize immigrant underclass subjects primarily Muslims Gender and sexuality on the one hand and race culture and or ethnicity on the other are more and more forced into separate mutually exclusive realms That development cannot but bear on the establishment of queer and postcolonial studies as separate academic specializations among whom relations usually are as cordial as they are indifferent This volume inquires into the possibilities and limitations of a parceling out of objects alternative to the common scheme crude but often apposite in which Western sexual subjectivity is analyzed and criticized by queer theory while postcolonial studies takes care of non Western racial subjectivity Sex race always already distinguished yet never quite apart Roderick A Ferguson has described liberal pluralism as an ideology of discreteness in that it disavows race gender and sexuality's mutually formative role in political social and economic relations It is in that spirit that this volume advocates the discreet hence judicious and circumspect reconsideration of the in discrete realities of race and sex Contributors Jeffrey Geiger Merrill Cole Jonathan Mitchell and Michael O'Rourke Jaap Kooijman Beth Kramer Maaïke Bleeker Rebecca Fine Romanow Anik Imre Lindsey Green Simms Nishant Shahani Ryan D Fong and Murat Aydemir

Manhood in Hollywood from Bush to Bush David Greven, 2009-12-07 A struggle between narcissistic and masochistic modes of manhood defined Hollywood masculinity in the period between the presidencies of George H W Bush and George W Bush David Greven's contention is that a profound shift in representation occurred during the early 1990s when Hollywood was transformed by an explosion of films that foregrounded non normative gendered identity and sexualities In the years that have followed popular cinema has either emulated or evaded the representational strategies of this era especially in terms of gender and sexuality One major focus of this study is that in a great deal of the criticism in both the fields of film theory and queer theory masochism has been positively cast as a form of male sexuality that resists the structures of normative power while narcissism has been negatively cast as either a regressive sexuality or the bastion of white male privilege Greven argues that narcissism is a potentially radical mode of male sexuality that can defy normative codes and categories of gender whereas masochism far from being radical has emerged as the default mode of a traditional normative masculinity This study combines approaches from a variety of disciplines psychoanalysis queer theory American studies men's studies and film theory as it offers fresh readings of several important films of the past twenty years including Casualties of War The Silence of the Lambs Fight Club The Passion of the Christ Auto Focus and Brokeback Mountain

Queer/Early/Modern Carla Freccero, 2006-01-16 In Queer Early Modern Carla Freccero a leading scholar of early modern European studies argues for a reading practice that accounts for the queerness of temporality for the way past present and future time appear out of sequence and in dialogue in our thinking about history and texts Freccero takes issue with New Historicist accounts of sexual identity that claim to respect historical proprieties and to derive identity categories from the past She urges us to see how the indeterminacies of subjectivity found in literary texts challenge identitarian constructions and she encourages us to read differently the relation between history and literature Contending that the term queer in its indeterminacy points the way toward alternative ethical reading practices that do justice to the aftereffects of the past as they live on in the present Freccero proposes a model of fantasmatic historiography that brings together history and fantasy past and present event and affect Combining feminist theory queer theory psychoanalysis deconstruction and literary criticism Freccero takes up a series of theoretical and historical issues related to debates in queer theory feminist theory the history of sexuality and early modern studies She juxtaposes readings of early and late modern texts discussing the lyric poetry of Petrarch Louise Labé and

Melissa Ethridge David Halperin's take on Michel Foucault via Apuleius's The Golden Ass and Boccaccio's Decameron and France's domestic partner legislation in connection with Marguerite de Navarre's Heptameron Turning to French cleric Jean de Lery's account published in 1578 of having witnessed cannibalism and religious rituals in Brazil some twenty years earlier and to the twentieth century Brandon Teena case Freccero draws on Jacques Derrida's concept of spectrality to propose both an ethics and a mode of interpretation that acknowledges and is inspired by the haunting of the present by the past

Encountering Crises of the Mind, 2018-09-24 Mental health and madness have been challenging topics for historians The field has been marked by tension between the study of power expertise and institutional control of insanity and the study of patient experiences This collection contributes to the ongoing discussion on how historians encounter mental crises It deals with diagnoses treatments experiences and institutions largely outside the mainstream historiography of madness in what might be described as its peripheries and borderlands from medieval Europe to Cold War Hungary from the Atlantic slave coasts to Indian princely states and to the Nordic countries The chapters highlight many contests and multiple stakeholders involved in dealing with mental suffering and the importance of religion lay perceptions and emotions in crises of mind Contributors are Jari Eilola Waltraud Ernst Anssi Halmesvirta Markku Hokkanen Kalle Kananoja Tuomas Laine Frigir n Susanna Niiranen Anu Rissanen Kirsi Tuohela and Jesper Vaczy Kragh Thamyris Overcoming Boundaries:

Ethnicity, Gender and Sexuality. Nanny M. W. de Vries, Jan Best, Constitutive Visions Christa J. Olson, 2013-11-15 In Constitutive Visions Christa Olson presents the rhetorical history of republican Ecuador as punctuated by repeated arguments over national identity Those arguments as they advanced theories of citizenship popular sovereignty and republican modernity struggled to reconcile the presence of Ecuador's large indigenous population with the dominance of a white mestizo minority Even as indigenous people were excluded from civic life images of them proliferated in speeches periodicals and artworks during Ecuador's long process of nation formation Tracing how that contradiction illuminates the textures of national identity formation Constitutive Visions places petitions from indigenous laborers alongside oil paintings overlays woodblock illustrations with legislative debates and analyzes Ecuador's nineteen constitutions in light of landscape painting Taken together these juxtapositions make sense of the contradictions that sustained and unsettled the postcolonial nation state African American Cinema Through Black Lives Consciousness Mark A.
