Motherhood Experience Institution Theology Concilium:

From Women's Experience to Feminist Theology Linda Hogan, 2016-10-06 What are the implications of adopting a primacy of praxis position in feminist theology How can we respect the diversity of women's experience while retaining it as a useful analytic category Do these twin resources of women's experience and praxis together imply that feminist theology is ultimately relativist Through an analysis of the work of some of today's key feminist theologians Christian womanist and post Christian Linda Hogan considers these and other methodological questions Motherhood, Experience, Institution, Theology #206 (6/1989) CONCILIUM theology in the age of renewal, 1989 The Making of American Liberal Theology Gary J. Dorrien, 2006-01-01 In this first of three volumes Dorrien identifies the indigenous roots of American liberal theology and demonstrates a wider longer running tradition than has been thought The tradition took shape in the nineteenth century motivated by a desire to map a modernist third way between orthodoxy and rationalistic deism atheism It is defined by its openness to modern intellectual inquiry its commitment to the authority of individual reason and experience its conception of Christianity as an ethical way of life and its commitment to make Christianity credible and socially relevant to modern people Dorrien takes a narrative approach and provides a biographical reading of important religious thinkers of the time including William E Channing Ralph Waldo Emerson Horace Bushnell Henry Ward Beecher Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Charles Briggs Dorrien notes that although liberal theology moved into elite academic institutions its conceptual foundations were laid in the pulpit rather than the classroom Christian Theology in Practice Bonnie J. Miller-McLemore, 2012-02-02 For the past fifty years scholars in both pastoral and practical theology have attempted to recapture human religious experience and practice as essential sites for theological engagement redefining in the process what theology is how it is done and who does it In this book Bonnie J Miller McLemore shows how this trend in scholarship has led to an expanded subject matter alternative ways of knowing and richer terms for analysis in doing Christian theology Tracing more than two decades of her own search for a more inclusive discipline one that truly grapples with theology in the midst of life Christian Theology in Practice shows not only where Miller McLemore herself has traveled in the field but also how pastoral and practical theology has developed during this time Looking forward Miller McLemore calls on the academy and Christian congregations to disrupt conventional theological boundaries and to acknowledge the multiplicity of shapes and places in which the wisdom of God appears Marriage After Modernity Adrian Thatcher, 1999-01-01 This book offers nothing less than a new vision for Christian marriage at a time of unprecedented social and theological change It breaks new ground in drawing on earlier traditions of betrothal and informal marriage in welcoming some forms of pre marital cohabitation and provides a new defence of the link between marriage and procreation by sketching a theology of liberation for children Christian principles for the use of contraception by married and not yet married couples are restated and a comprehensive theology of marriage is worked out based on re worked biblical models Marriage as a Christian sacrament mutually administered in a lifelong partnership of equals is affirmed A chapter on divorce brings new light to bear on legitimate theological grounds for the parting of the ways The question of whether marriage is a heterosexual institution is addressed and particular attention is paid throughout the book to overcoming the distorting effect of the overwhelming androcentric bias of much Christian thought on marriage to the experience of wives and to all those women and men for whom marriage is not their vocation

Mothering as a Metaphor for Ministry Emma Percy, 2016-04-15 Drawing together original research which weaves together ideas from theology philosophy feminism and writing on mothering and child development Emma Percy affirms and encourages aspects of good practice in ministry that are in danger of being overlooked because they are neither well articulated nor valued Offering a fresh look at parish ministry this book uses a maternal metaphor to provide an integrated image of being and doing The metaphor of mothering is used to explore the relational aspect of parish ministry which needs to value particularity and concrete contingent responsiveness Percy suggests virtues that need to be cultivated to guard against the temptations to intrusive or domineering styles of care on the one hand or passive abnegation of responsibility on the other Parish ministry cannot be understood in terms of tangible productivity different ways of understanding success and evaluating priorities need to be developed The book suggests ways of being good enough clergy who can find the right balance between caring for people and communities whilst encouraging and acknowledging the maturity of others

In the Embrace of God Ann O. Graff, 2005-01-26 Since Karl Rahner posited the importance of the nature of the human as the starting point for theological reflection the field of Christian anthropology has been one where very basic questions and much creative theologizing have been focused For example liberation theologians have had much to say about the presumptions inherent in classical definitions of human being and have pointed up the vital idea of social location as an integral part of human experience Theological anthropology has come to be of vital interest to Christian feminists as well As in other disciplines the study of what is human tends to either ignore gender or to favor one as normative In the quest to understand the totality of human experience it is necessary to view it from lived experience At the same time and deeply embedded in the Christian tradition is the recognition that human beings come from God are going to God and dwell in the embrace of God In the Embrace of God provides a well organized clearly focused volume of original essays by North American feminist theologians encompassing the major areas of theological anthropology In addressing the meaning of creation and end time fall and redemption sin and grace pain and suffering sexuality and ecology these contributors offer fresh insights and helpful new ways to approach the rich complexities of human experience

A Culture of Life Tina Beattie, 2000

God as Communion Patricia Fox, 2001 God As Communion explores ancient and new meanings of the symbol of God as Trinity and brings the Christian traditions of West and East into dialogue Through an exploration of the works of two contemporary theologians Fox retrieves this central Christian symbol and uncovers its transforming power for the Church and world today
