Motivation, Emotion, and Cognition David Yun Dai, Robert J. Sternberg, 2004-07-13 The central argument of this book is that cognition is not the whole story in understanding intellectual functioning and development To account for inter individual intra individual and developmental variability in actual intellectual performance it is necessary to treat cognition emotion and motivation as inextricably related Motivation Emotion and Cognition Integrative Perspectives on Intellectual Functioning and Development represents a new direction in theory and research on intellectual functioning and development portrays human intelligence as fundamentally constrained by biology and adaptive needs but modulated by social and cultural forces and encompasses and integrates a broad range of scientific findings and advances from cognitive and affective neurosciences to cultural psychology addressing fundamental issues of individual differences developmental variability and cross cultural differences with respect to intellectual functioning and development By presenting current knowledge regarding integrated understanding of intellectual functioning and development this volume promotes exchanges

among researchers concerned with provoking new ideas for research and provides educators and other practitioners with a framework that will enrich understanding and guide practice

Motivation, Emotion, and Goal Direction in Neural Networks Daniel S. Levine, Samuel J. Leven, 2014-01-14

The articles gathered in this volume represent examples of a unique approach to the study of mental phenomena a blend of theory and experiment informed not just by easily measurable laboratory data but also by human introspection Subjects such as approach and avoidance desire and fear and novelty and habit are studied as natural events that may not exactly correspond to but at least correlate with some known or unknown electrical and chemical events in the brain

Motivation, Emotions, and Leadership Richard L. Fulton, Richard C. Maddock, 1998-10-28

Leadership is motivation and motivation is leadership say the authors of this important and unique study The two elements are inseparable but until now no one has actually conceptualized motivation in a useful way to demonstrate and analyze the connection between it and leadership The key for leaders is dealing with the emotions that underlie and activate motivation Maddock and Fulton provide a highly successful proven and replicable approach not only to motivate people but also to train them to lead others The authors develop an 11 level structure of human motivation that defines and describes motivation in simple graphic all inclusive language They then show how leaders can use this motivational hierarchy to solve complex problems in the workplace The result is a blueprint to help executives in all types of organizations manage more effectively and as they do so to motivate and truly lead the people who depend on them for guidance and direction Maddock and Fulton offer several scenarios to show how their ideas work in practice In the vertical fix they demonstrate how motives that get out of synch with each other can be re aligned eliminating the chaos that would otherwise occur In the lateral fix they show how a person who may be functioning at the extreme edge of motivation can be moved back toward the center a place where the person's effect on others is most and best felt Well documented throughout their book will be important reading for training and development professionals specialists in organizational behavior and executives at all levels in public and private sectors

Neural circuits underlying emotion and motivation: Insights from optogenetics and pharmacogenetics Anton Ilango, Mary Kay Lobo, 2015-06-04

Application of optogenetic and pharmacogenetic tools to study the neural circuits underlying emotional valence feeding arousal and motivated behaviors has provided crucial insights into brain function Expression of light sensitive proteins into specific neurons and subsequent stimulation by light optogenetics to control neuronal activity or expression of designer receptors exclusively activated by designer drugs DREADD in specific neuronal populations with subsequent activation or suppression of neuronal activity by an otherwise inert ligand pharmacogenetics provides control over defined elements of neural circuits These novel tools have provided a more in depth understanding into several questions about brain function These include Regulation of sleep wake transition by the interaction of hypocretin neurons of lateral hypothalamus and noradrenergic neurons of the locus coeruleus Regulation of feeding by AGRP and

POMC neurons in arcuate nucleus of the hypothalamus Place preference and positive reinforcement by activation of DA neuron of VTA Place aversion by activation of VTA GABA and lateral habenula neurons Opposing influences on reinforcement by activation of D1 and D2 expressing medium spiny neurons of dorsal striatum and nucleus accumbens The list still grows From cell type specific manipulations to signaling properties in the cell Dietz et al 2012 with unprecedented temporal resolution these tools revolutionize the exploration of pathways connectivity Recent years also witnessed the extension of applying these tools from studying emotional valence and motivated behavior to reactivation of memory c fos based genetic approaches allowed us to integrate light sensitive opsins or DREADD receptor into specific neurons that are activated by certain learning events for example fear Garner et al 2012 Liu et al 2012 In this Research Topic we welcome researchers to contribute original research articles review articles methods and commentary on topics utilizing optogenetic and pharmacogenetic tools to study the neural circuits underlying emotional valence motivation reinforcement and memory We believe the Research Topic will shine light on various questions we have about brain function by using novel optogenetic and pharmacogenetic tools and will hopefully inspire ongoing research to overcome the hurdles of using these tools to advance clinical applications

Cognitive Perspectives on Emotion and Motivation V. Hamilton, Gordon H. Bower, Nico H. Frijda, 2012-12-06 This book presents the contributions of the members of an Advanced Research Workshop on Cognitive Science Perspectives on Emotion Motivation and Cognition The Workshop funded mainly by the NATO Scientific Affairs Division together with a contribution from the British Economic and Social Research Council was conducted at Il Ciocco Tuscany Italy 21-27 June 1987 The venue for our discussions was ideal a quiet holiday hotel 500m high in the Apennine mountain range approached by a mile of perilously steep winding narrow road The isolation was conducive to concentrated discussions on the topics of the Workshop The reason for the Workshop was a felt need for researchers from disparate but related approaches to cognition emotion and motivation to communicate their perspectives and arguments to one another To take just one example the framework of information processing and the metaphor of mind as a computer has wrought a major revolution in psychological theories of cognition That framework has radically altered the way psychologists conceptualize perception memory language thought and action Those advances have formed the intellectual substrate for the cognitive science perspective on mental life

Emotion Explained Edmund T. Rolls, 2005 What produces emotions Why do we have emotions How do we have emotions Why do emotional states feel like something This book seeks explanations of emotion by considering these questions Emotion continues to be a topic of enormous scientific interest This new book a successor to The Brain and Emotion OUP 1998 describes the nature functions and brain mechanisms that underlie both emotion and motivation Emotion Explained goes beyond examining brain mechanisms of emotion by proposing a theory of what emotions are and an evolutionary Darwinian theory of the adaptive value of emotion It also shows that there is a clear relationship between motivation and emotion The book also examines how cognitive states can modulate emotions and in turn how emotions can influence cognitive states It considers the role of sexual selection in the evolution of affective behaviour It also examines emotion and decision making with links to the burgeoning field of neuroeconomics The book is also unique in considering emotion at several levels the neurophysiological neuroimaging neuropsychological behavioural and computational neuroscience levels

Emotion and Decision Making Explained Edmund T. Rolls, 2014 What produces emotions Why do we have emotions How do we have emotions Why do emotional states feel like something What is the relation between emotion and reward value and subjective feelings of pleasure These are just some of the question considered in this book written by a leading neuroscientist in this field Teacher Motivation Paul W. Richardson, Stuart A. Karabenick, Helen M.G. Watt, 2014-05-30 Teacher Motivation Theory and Practice provides a much needed introduction to the current status and future directions of theory and research on teacher motivation Although there is a robust literature covering the theory and research on student motivation until recently there has been comparatively little attention paid to teachers This volume draws together a decade of work from psychological theorists and researchers interested in what motivates people to choose teaching as a career what motivates them as they work with students in classrooms the impact of intrinsic and extrinsic forces on career experiences and how their motivational profiles vary at different stages of their career With chapters from leading experts on the topic this volume provides a critical resource not only for educational psychologists but also for those working in related fields such as educational leadership teacher development policy makers and school psychology The Brain, Emotion, and Depression Edmund T. Rolls, 2018-06-28 There are myriad questions that emerge when one considers emotions and decision making What produces emotions Why do we have emotions How do we have emotions Why do emotional states feel like something What is the relationship between emotion reward value and subjective feelings of pleasure How is the value of good represented in the brain Will neuroeconomics replace classical microeconomics How does the brain implement decision making Are gene defined rewards and emotions in the interests of the genes Does rational multistep planning enable us to go beyond selfish genes to plans in the interests of the individual The Brain Emotion and Depression addresses these issues providing a unified approach to emotion reward value economic value decision making and their brain mechanisms The evolutionary adaptive value of the processes involved in emotion the neural networks involved in emotion and decision making and the issue of conscious emotional feelings are all considered The book will be valuable for those in the fields of neuroscience neurology psychology psychiatry biology animal behaviour economics and philosophy from the advanced undergraduate level upwards and for all interested in emotion and decision making Affective Learning in Digital Education Andreas Gegenfurtner, Luke Kutszik Fryer, Sanna Järvelä, Susanne Narciss, Judith Harackiewicz, 2021-03-01 Psychology for Medicine Susan Ayers, Richard de Visser, 2011-07-08 As the fundamental importance of psychological aspects of medical practice becomes ever more evident and a correspondingly greater knowledge of psychology is required of medical graduates books like this one must become essential reading for all medical students Michael Sharpe MD FRCP FRCPsych Professor of Psychological Medicine University of Edinburgh It s a great textbook the application to Medicine is nicely outlined and the case studies illustrating the points further are brilliant It s easy to read and follow and really highlights the importance of Psychology in Medicine I will definitely be recommending this text to my students Dr Harbinder Sandhu Health Psychology Institute of Clinical Education University of Warwick This first of its kind comprehensive textbook covers all the psychology an undergraduate medical student needs to know The authors show the importance of applied psychological theory and evidence to medicine and offer enough depth on the subject to span an entire degree Split into four sections the book is a unique mix of psychological theory and evidence with implications for clinical practice clinical tips and case studies Psychology and Health covers core topics such as stress symptom perception health behaviour and chronic illness Basic Foundations of Psychology explores areas of biological developmental cognitive and social psychology relevant to medicine Body Systems psychological research specific to body systems including cardiovascular respiratory gastro intestinal immunology and reproduction Health Care Practice covers clinical skills and practice including chapters on evidence based medicine communication skills and psychological intervention With a full colour text design each chapter follows the same accessible format which includes summaries learning objectives case studies research examples applications to clinical practice further reading and short answer questions They include the latest psychological theory and research evidence

An Attributional Theory of Motivation and Emotion Bernard Weiner, 2012-12-06 For a long time I have had the gnawing desire to convey the broad motivational significance of the attributional conception that I have espoused and to present fully the argument that this framework has earned a rightful place alongside other leading theories of motivation Furthermore recent investigations have yielded insights into the attributional determinants of affect thus providing the impetus to embark upon a detailed discussion of emotion and to elucidate the relation between emotion and motivation from an attributional perspective The presentation of a unified theory of motivation and emotion is the goal of this book My more specific aims in the chapters to follow are to 1 Outline the basic principles that I believe characterize an adequate theory of motivation 2 Convey what I perceive to be the conceptual contributions of the perspective advocated by my colleagues and me 3 Summarize the empirical relations reach some definitive conclusions and point out the more equivocal empirical associations based on hypotheses derived from our particular attribution theory and 4 Clarify questions that have been raised about this conception and provide new material for still further scrutiny In so doing the building blocks if any laid down by the attributional conception will be readily identified and unknown jurisdictions of present and future peers can then better determine the value of this scientific product
