Parents And Mentally Handicapped Children Pelican S:

Parents as Partners in the Education of Their Handicapped Child Peter J. Mittler, Peter J. Owsley, 1980 Mental Health Interventions with Preschool Children Robert D. Lyman, Toni L. Hembree-Kigin, 2013-11-11 Preschool children have been largely neglected in the mental health treatment literature although research has established that many behavioral and emotional disorders in children result from events occurring during the preschool years or are first manifested during this period This has occurred for several reasons Traditional psychoanalytic thinking has considered preschoolers to be too psychologically immature for complete manifestations of psychopathology and the limited language abilities of young children have complicated assessment procedures and made them less appropriate for treatment approaches that are largely verbal in nature In addition the developmental complexity of the preschool period has deterred many researchers from investigating clinical issues with this age group Partly as a result of the lack of information on preschoolers in the literature practitioners have historically been uncomfortable in conducting assessments and initiating treatment with young children They have often adopted a wait and see attitude in which formal mental health diagnosis and treatment are not implemented until after the child's entry into school Unfortunately such a delay may mean wasting the time during which mental health interventions can be maximally effective Recently this attitude has changed and practitioners now recognize the need for assessment and treatment of behavioral and emotional disorders early in life What they require to assist them in the timely delivery of such services is information about assessment and treatment procedures specifically designed for preschoolers and with demonstrated efficacy with that age group Art Therapy and Learning Disabilities Stephanie Bull, Kevin O'Farrell, 2012-05-04 In this book Stephanie Bull and Kevin O'Farrell bring together practising clinicians who provide an insight into using contemporary art therapy with people with learning disabilities The authentic voice of people who have learning disabilities is central to the book and case examples snapshots of thoughts dialogue photographs and artwork are included to ensure that the subjects' voices are heard The book covers having a learning disability loss and bereavement attachment and separation infantilisation fear powerlessness self and identity This accessible and thought provoking book is essential reading for anyone involved with people with learning disabilities including art therapists psychotherapists counsellors students and carers Monographic Series Library of Congress, 1976

Helping Children with Ill Or Disabled Parents Julia Segal, John Simkins, 1996 The authors explore the range of issues that can arise when a parent falls ill or becomes disabled focusing on what children need to know issues of dependency and separation the role of teachers and schools the child's sense of responsibility and how to help children cope with their feelings Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Institutional Care and the Mentally Handicapped Andy Alaszewski, 1986 Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1979 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965-70 Municipal Review , 1975 Intellectual Disability in Health and Social Care Stacey Atkinson, Joanne Lay, Su

McAnelly, Malcolm Richardson, 2014-09-16 Many practitioners within health and social care come into contact with people with intellectual disabilities and want to work in ways that are beneficial to them by making reasonable adjustments in order to meet clients needs and expectations Yet the health and wellbeing of people with learning disabilities continues to be a neglected area where unnecessary suffering and premature deaths continue to prevail This text provides a comprehensive insight into intellectual disability healthcare It is aimed at those who are training in the field of intellectual disability nursing and also untrained practitioners who work in both health and social care settings Divided into five sections it explores how a wide range of biological health psychological and social barriers impact upon people with learning disability and includes Six guiding principles used to adjust plan and develop meaningful and accessible health and social services Assessment screening and diagnosis of intellectual disability across the life course Addressing lifelong health needs Psychological and psychotherapeutic issues including sexuality behavioural and mental health needs bereavement and ethical concerns The changing professional roles and models of meeting the needs of people with intellectual and learning disabilities Intellectual Disability in Health and Social Care provides a wide ranging overview of what learning disability professionals roles are and provides insight into what health and social care practitioners might do to assist someone with intellectual disabilities when specific needs arise

Instructional Patterns for Maximizing Human Potential California. Bureau of Homemaking Education, 1978 Mental Hygiene, 1959 An Introduction to Counselling Skills for Special Educational Needs Brenda Mallon, 1987 An introductory course suitable for professionals in health social services education and the voluntary services who are involved in counselling people with special educational needs American Book Publishing Record Cumulative, 1950-1977 R.R. Bowker Company. Department of Bibliography, 1978 Nursing Times, 1988-07

Subject Catalog Library of Congress, The Education of Slow Learning Children A. E. Tansley, R. Gulliford, 2018-09-03 Originally published in 1960 The authors of this text examine ways in which both ordinary schools and special needs schools can further develop suitable education for pupils with special needs including improved post school guidance This title aims to provide a guide to teachers in deciding the aims of their teaching and to assist in the planning of their teaching methods British Medical Journal, 1908 Social Work and Human Problems: Casework, Consultation and Other Topics Elizabeth E. Irvine, 2016-06-06 Social Work and Human Problems Casework Consultation and Other Topics is a five part book that first discusses the aspects of casework in social work Part II details the consultation and mental health education Parts III and IV elucidate the needs of client groups with special problems as well as the values and knowledge for social work The last part explains the psycho social aspects of adolescence and anxiety The significant contributions of Donald Winnicott are also shown Anthropology and the Riddle of the Sphinx Paul Spencer, 2025-07-01 Originally published in 1990 Anthropology and the Riddle of the Sphinx Paradoxes of Change in the Life Course seeks to relate the problems of maturation and ageing to the life course as a whole As it is treated here the riddle posed by the sphinx asks What is it that changes as we age and is concerned with the enigmas of this total process Ultimately the ways in which we experience these problems stem from our view of ageing and the contradictions of society itself The essays in this volume consider aspects of this problem with reference to a variety of cultures The young the mature and the elderly have distinctive identities but they form a continuum whose profile is culturally constructed Anthropology and the Riddle of the Sphinx Paradoxes of Change in the Life Course is intended as a contribution to the growing literature on ageing deliberately broadening the topic in the search for a wider understanding This volume aims to stimulate interest in neglected aspects of the ageing process within social anthropology and to present an anthropological point of view to others who have an interest in problems associated with the life course It will be of particular value to the students of social anthropology and medical sociology It was originally published as part of the ASA Monographs series <https://www.routledge.com/ASA+Monographs/book/series/SE0127>

Disabled Children Anne Borsay, 2015-10-06 This volume of essays attempts to identify the shared experiences of disabled children and examine the key debates about their care and control The essays follow a chronological progression while focusing on the practices in a number of different countries
