Shapes" Laura Wright, 2010 This study examines how postcolonial landscapes and environmental issues are represented in fiction Wright creates a provocative discourse in which the fields of postcolonial theory and ecocriticism are brought together Laura Wright explores the changes brought by colonialism and globalization as depicted in an array of international works of fiction in four thematically arranged chapters She looks first at two traditional oral histories retold in modern novels Zakes Mda's The Heart of Redness South Africa and Ngugi wa Thiong'o's Petals of Blood Kenya that deal with the potentially devastating effects of development particularly through deforestation and the replacement of native flora with European varieties Wright then uses J M Coetzee's Disgrace South Africa Yann Martel's Life of Pi India and Canada and Joy Williams's The Quick and the Dead United States to explore the use of animals as metaphors for subjugated groups of individuals The third chapter deals with India's water crisis via Arundhati Roy's activism and her novel The God of Small Things Finally Wright looks at three novels Flora Nwapa's Efuru Nigeria Keri Hulme's The Bone People New Zealand and Sindiwe Magona's Mother to Mother South Africa that depict women's relationships to the land from which they have been dispossessed Throughout Wilderness into Civilized Shapes Wright rearticulates questions about the role of the writer of fiction as environmental activist and spokesperson the connections between animal ethics and environmental responsibility and the potential perpetuation of a neocolonial framework founded on western commodification and resource based imperialism process rather than just learning the interfaces and the how of it all Along the way you ll create Flash content that includes traditional animation techniques as seen in full length animated features and ActionScript based interactive animation such as custom web site interface designs You also learn how to combine both traditional animation techniques and ActionScript to create feature rich Flash assets from the ground up Co authored by educational developers with years of experience creating compelling content interfaces and applications Flash 8 Projects for Learning Animation and Interactivity offers a content driven approach that is also inspiration driven You learn because you re accomplishing something tangible not because you think you need to know how a tool works If you want to understand how various features of Flash come together to create a final end design this book provides you with both the insight and the know how The Shape of Sounds Timothy B Layden,2010-11-16 The Shape of sounds is a series of sound and visual art developed by synesthetic artistThe work explores how the invisible world of sound can manifest itself in visually through an overlapping of the senses Disney's
