Safety Nets Politics And The Poor Transitions To Market Economies:

Safety Nets, Politics, and the Poor Carol L. Graham, 2010-12-01 Countries worldwide are attempting difficult transitions from state planned to market economies Most of these countries have fragile democratic regimes that are threatened by the high social and political costs of reform Governments and ultimately societies have to make hard choices about allocating scarce public resources as they undergo these transitions A central often controversial and most poignant question is how to protect vulnerable groups and the poor What compensation what safety net will be provided for them Carol Graham argues that safety nets can provide an environment in which economic reform is more politically sustainable and poverty can be permanently reduced However these two objectives frequently involve trade offs as vocal and organized opponents of reform for obvious political reasons often concern governments far more than the poor These organized and less vulnerable groups tend to place heavy demands on the scarce resources available to governments at times of economic crisis Governments that fail to address the social costs of reform meanwhile often face popular opposition that jeopardizes or even derails the entire market transition the results of the September 1993 elections in Poland are a case in point The author examines these trade offs in detail with a particular focus on how political and institutional contexts affect the kinds of safety nets that are implemented For example reaching the poor and vulnerable with safety nets tends to be more difficult in closed party systems such as in Senegal where entrenched interest groups have a monopoly on state benefits In contrast dramatic political change or rapid implementation of economic reform undermines the influence of such groups and therefore can provide unique political opportunities to redirect resources to the poor as in the case of Bolivia and Zambia Rather than focus their efforts on organized interest groups such as public sector

Economic Transition in Eastern Europe and Russia: Realities of Reform, An evaluation of the efficacy of different forms of liberalization since the fall of communism in Eastern Europe in the form of 13 essays on economic and political reforms Following an extensive introductory essay Economic Reform Appropriate Steps and Actual Policies the remaining essays are organized in three parts fundamental components of economic reform specific problems in reform and comparisons and evaluations Annotation copyright by Book News Inc

Portland OR Transforming Post-Communist Political Economies National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Task Force on Economies in Transition, 1998-03-02 This ground breaking new volume focuses on the interaction between political social and economic change in Central and Eastern Europe and the New Independent States It includes a wide selection of analytic papers thought provoking essays by leading scholars in diverse fields and an agenda for future research It integrates work on the micro and macro levels of the economy and provides a broad overview of the transition process This volume broadens the current intellectual and policy debate concerning the historic transition now taking place from a narrow concern with purely economic factors to the dynamics of political and social change It questions the assumption that the post communist economies are all following the same path and that they will inevitably develop into replicas of economies in the advanced industrial West It challenges accepted thinking and promotes the utilization of new methods and perspectives Market Economics and Political Change Juan D. Lindau, Timothy Cheek, 2000-01-01 Does market liberalization promote democracy The accepted answer from scholars pundits and politicians alike has been yes However the contributors to this innovative study of market reforms and political change in Mexico and the People s Republic of China argue that this easy equation is not only empirically uncertain but methodologically flawed Using comparative contextual analysis the contributors carefully identify the elective affinities between these two very different polities to reveal key variables that determine how markets will affect democracy particularly law as the rudder of democracy and the role of political culture in civil society The Political and Social Construction of Poverty Serena Romano, 2014-01-01 This book is the first to examine the social and political construction of anti poverty programs in Central and Eastern Europe which has faced serious hardships as it has transitioned from communist rule to capitalism beset by economic crisis It explores a range of different attitudes held about poverty stricken people and illustrates how the distinction between deserving and undeserving poor has evolved over the years effected by external pressures from groups like the European Union and World Bank By examining poverty policies against the commonly held attitudes about the poor that have influenced them Serena Romano offers a new understanding of the many ways that different post communist welfare states have dealt with and understood citizens facing economic hardship Post-Stabilization Politics in Latin America Carol Wise, Riordan Roett, 2003-07-28 Over the last twenty years Latin America has seen a definitive movement toward civilian rule Significant trade fiscal and monetary reforms have accompanied this shift exposing previously state led economies to the forces of the market Despite persistent economic and political hardships the combination of civilian regimes and market based strategies has proved to be remarkably resilient and still dominates the region This book focuses on the effects of market reforms on domestic politics in Latin America While considering civilian rule as a constant the book examines and compares domestic political responses in six countries that embraced similar packages of reforms in the 1980s Argentina Brazil Chile Mexico Peru and Venezuela The contributors focus on how ambitious measures such as liberalization privatization and deregulation yielded mixed results in these countries and in doing so they identify three main patterns of political economic adjustment In Argentina and Chile the implementation of market reforms has gone hand in hand with increasingly competitive politics In Brazil and Mexico market reforms helped to catalyze transitions from entrenched authoritarian rule Finally in Peru and Venezuela traditional political systems have collapsed and civilian rule has been repeatedly challenged The contributors include Carol Wise University of Southern California Karen L Remmer Duke University Carol Graham Brookings Institution Stefano Pettinato United Nations Development Programme Consuelo Cruz Tufts University Juan E Corradi New York University Delia M Boylan Chicago Public Radio Riordan Roett Johns Hopkins University Mart n Tanaka Institute for Peruvian Studies Lima and Kenneth M Roberts

University of New Mexico      Economies in Transition Wing Thye Woo, Stephen Parker, Jeffrey Sachs, 1997 In 1994 the Asia Foundation's Center for Asian Pacific Affairs began a two year project to compare the transitions of selected East European and Asian economies from centrally planned communist systems to market economies The goal was to shed light on the transition process through an understanding of the underlying economic and institutional dynamics This volume is the culmination of that project The volume is divided into three parts In the first part an overview the editors review the authors findings and highlight major themes The second part looks closely at the transition process in seven Asian and East European economies China Vietnam Mongolia Russia Poland Hungary and the Czech Republic The third part contains six comparative studies that explore key elements of the transition process The papers incorporate feedback obtained from meetings with cabinet members and high government officials conferences and seminars in Prague Ho Chi Minh City Hanoi Beijing Ulan Bator and Washington D C Contributors Leszek Balcerowicz Barbara Blaszczyk Peter Boone Yuan Zheng Cao Bruce Comer Marek Dabrowski Georges de Menil Daniel C Esty Gang Fan Boris Federov Roman Frydman Carol Graham Stephen Parker Andrzej Rapaczynski James Riedel Jeffrey D Sachs Baavaa Tarvaa Vinod Thomas Gavin Tritt Adiya Tsend Enkhbold Tsendjav Joel Turkewitz Narantsetseg Unenburen Yan Wang Wing Thye Woo      Income, Inequality, and Poverty During the Transition from Planned to Market Economy Branko Milanovi?, 1998 World Bank Technical Paper No 394 Joint Forest Management JFM has emerged as an important intervention in the management of India's forest resources This report sets out an analytical method for examining the costs and benefits of JFM arrangements Two pilot case studies in which the method was used demonstrate interesting outcomes regarding incentives for various groups to participate The main objective of this study is to develop a better understanding of the incentives for communities to participate in JFM      Backwardness and Modernization: Poland and Eastern Europe in the 16th-20th Centuries Jacek Kochanowicz, 2018-01-31 The subject of this book is the economic backwardness of Poland and Eastern Europe in the modern era The studies in the first part analyse various aspects of the region's economic and social history in the period from the 16th to the 20th centuries such as the nature of peasant economics the character of economic evolution and the ambiguity of social and economic relations between Poland and the West The second part deals with the change following the fall of state socialism Papers in this part argue that for understanding the present it is necessary to take into consideration historical legacies It is also important to look at the process of this recent change comparatively both within Eastern Europe and comparing this region with other parts of the world Professor Kochanowicz's contention in these essays is that the so called transformation has had to cope not only with the effects of state socialism but also with a much longer legacy of backwardness      Political Science Abstracts, 2012-12-06 Political Science Abstracts is an annual supplement to the Political Science Government and Public Policy Series of The Universal Reference System which was first published in 1967 All back issues are still available      Reorganizing Popular Politics Ruth Berins Collier, 2009 A comparative analysis of lower class interest politics in Argentina Chile Peru and social change equity and the democratic representation of the poor in Latin America Recent Latin American governments have turned away from redistributive policies at the same time popular political and social organizations have been generally weakened inequality has increased and the gap between rich and poor has grown Hanging in the balance is the consolidation and the quality of new or would be democracies this volume suggests that governments must find not just short term programmes to alleviate poverty but long term means to ensure the effective integration of the poor into political life The New Politics of Inequality in Latin America bridges the intellectual chasm between on the one hand studies of grassroots politics and on the other explorations of elite politics and formal institution building It will be of interest to students and scholars of contemporary Latin American politics and society and more generally in the vicissitudes of democracy and citizenship in the late twentieth century global system
