Sally's Story My Place For Young Readers:

Sally's Story Sally Morgan, Barbara Ker Wilson, 1995-01-01 My Place is Sally Morgan's rich, zesty and moving story of her childhood and growing up in Perth, Western Australia. Crossover Fiction Sandra L. Beckett, 2010-11-24 In Crossover Fiction, Sandra L. Beckett explores the global trend of crossover literature and explains how it is transforming literary canons, concepts of readership, the status of authors, the publishing industry and bookselling practices. This study will have significant relevance across disciplines as scholars in literary studies, media and cultural studies, visual arts, education, psychology and sociology examine the increasingly blurred borderlines between adults and young people in contemporary society, notably with regard to their consumption of popular culture.

A Companion to Australian Aboriginal Literature Belinda Wheeler, 2013 This international collection of eleven original essays on Australian Aboriginal literature provides a comprehensive critical companion that contextualizes the Aboriginal canon for scholars, researchers, students and general readers.

Cross-Addressing John Charles Hawley, 1996-01-01 Using a cultural studies approach to the question of what constitutes literary study at the end of the twentieth century, the contributors address identity politics in specific cultural instances.

The Pain of Unbelonging Sheila Collingwood-Whittick, 2007 Beyond the obvious and enduring socio-economic ravages it unleashed on indigenous cultures, white settler colonization in Australasia also inflicted profound damage on the collective psyche of both of the communities that inhabited the contested space of the colonial world. The acute sense of alienation that colonization initially provoked in the colonized and colonizing populations of Australia and New Zealand has, recent studies indicate, developed into an endemic existential pathology. Evidence of the psychological fallout from the trauma of geographical deracination, cultural disorientation and ontological destabilization can be found not only in the state of anomie and self destructive patterns of behaviour that now characterize the lives of indigenous Australian and Maori peoples but also in the perpetually faltering identity discourse and cultural rootlessness of the present descendants of the countries Anglo Celtic settlers It is with the literary expression of this persistent condition of alienation that the essays gathered in the present volume are concerned Covering a heterogeneous selection of contemporary Australasian literature what these critical studies convincingly demonstrate is that more than two hundred years after the process of colonisation was set in motion the experience that Germaine Greer has dubbed the pain of unbelonging continues unabated constituting a dominant thematic concern in the writing produced today by Australian and New Zealand authors Soaring with the Sugarbird Lady Dianne Wolfer, 2025-03-04 Imagine flying solo crisscrossing the north west of Australia in your own plane and single handedly delivering lifesaving vaccines to remote communities Robin Miller did this and at a time when most people didn't think women should be pilots at all Her arrival seemed like magic to the outback children who received her polio vaccine on sugar cubes Before long she became known as the Sugarbird Lady And this was just the start of Robin's extraordinary real life adventures

Caught Between Cultures, 2021-07-26 The essays in this collection on Canada the USA Australia and the UK question and discuss the issues of cross cultural identities and the crossing of boundaries both geographical and conceptual All of the authors have experienced cross culturalism directly and are conscious that positions of double vision which allow the to participate positively in two or more cultures are privileges that only a few can celebrate Most women find themselves caught between cultures They become involved in a day to day struggle in an attempt to negotiate identities which can affirm the self and at the same time strengthen the ties which unites the self with others Theoretical issues on cross culturalism therefore can either liberate or constrict the The essays here illustrate how women's writing negotiates this dualism through a colourful and complex weaving of words thoughts and experiences both pleasurable and painful into texts quilts rainbows The metaphors abound The connecting thread through their writing and indeed in these essays is the concept of belonging a theoretical emotional composite of being and longing Home too assumes a variety of meanings it is no longer a static geographical place but many places It is also a place elsewhere in the imagination a mythic place of desire linked to origin Policies of multiculturalism can throw up more problems than they solve In Canada the difficulties surrounding the cross cultural debate have given rise to a state of messy imbroglia Notions of authenticity move dangerously close to essentialist identities Double vision is characteristic of peoples who have been uprooted and displaced such as Australian

Aboriginal writers of mixed race abducted during childhood Passing for black or white is full of complications as in the case of Pauline Johnson who passed as an authentic Indian People with hyphenated citizenship such as Japanese Canadian can be either free of national ties or trapped in subordination to the dominant culture in these visible minorities it is the status of being female or coloured female that is so often ultimately rendered invisible Examination of Canadian anthologies on cross cultural writing by women reveals a crossing of boundaries of gender and genre race and ethnicity and in some cases national boundaries in an attempt to connect with a diasporic consciousness Cross cultural women writers in the USA may stress experience and unique collective history while others prefer to focus on aesthetic links and literary connections which ultimately silence difference Journeying from the personal space of the into the collective space of the we is exemplified in a reading of texts by June Jordan and Minnie Bruce Pratt For these writers identity is in process It is a painful negotiation but one which can transform knowledge into action

Cultural Memory and Literature Diane Molloy, 2015-10-20 Cultural memory involves a community's shared memories the selection of which is based on current political and social needs A past that is significant to a national group is re imagined by generating new meanings that replace earlier certainties and fixed symbols or myths This creates literary syncretisms with moments of undecidability The analysis in this book draws on Renate Lachmann's theory of intertextuality to show how novels that blur boundaries without standing in for history are prone to intervene in cultural memory A brief overview of Aboriginal politics between the 1920s and the 1990s in relation to several novels provides historical and political background to the links between and problems associated with cultural memory testimony trauma and Stolen Generations narratives which are discussed in relation to Sally Morgan's My Place and Doris Pilkington's Rabbit Proof Fence There follows an analysis of novels that respond to the history of contact between Aboriginal and settler Australians including Kate Grenville's historical novels The Secret River The Lieutenant and Sarah Thornhill as examples of a traditional approach David Malouf's Remembering Babylon charts how language and naming defined our early national narrative that excluded Aboriginal people Intertextuality is explored via the relation between Thea Astley's The Multiple Effects of Rainshadow Chloe Hooper's The Tall Man and the Royal Commission into Aboriginal Deaths in Custody Kim Scott's Benang from the heart and That Deadman Dance and Alexis Wright's Carpentaria reflect a number of Lachmann's concepts syncretism dialogism polyphony Menippean satire and the carnivalesque Suggested is a new way of reading novels that respond to Australia's violent past beyond trauma studies and postcolonial theory to re imagine a different syncretic past from multiple perspectives

Anthology of Australian Aboriginal Literature Anita Heiss, Peter Minter, 2014-11-30 In a political system that renders them largely voiceless Australia's Aboriginal people have used the written word as a powerful tool for over two hundred years Anthology of Australian Aboriginal Literature presents a rich panorama of Aboriginal culture history and life through the writings of some of the great Australian Aboriginal authors From Bennelong's 1796 letter to contemporary writing Anita Heiss and Peter Minter have selected works that represent the range and depth of Aboriginal writing in English Journalism petitions and political letters from both the nineteenth and twentieth centuries are brought together with major works of poetry prose and drama from the mid twentieth century onward These works voice not only the ongoing suffering of dispossession but the resilience of Australia s Aboriginal people their hope and joy Presenting some of the best most distinctive writing produced in Australia this groundbreaking anthology will captivate anyone interested in Aboriginal writing and culture Investigating Arthur Upfield Carol Hetherington, Kees de

Hoog, 2011-10-18 Arthur Upfield created Detective Inspector Napoleon Bonaparte Bony who features in twenty nine novels written from the 1920s to the 1960s mostly set in the Australian Outback He was the first Australian professional writer of crime detection novels Upfield arrived in Australia from England on 4 November 1911 and this collection of twenty two critical essays by academics and scholars has been published to celebrate the centenary of his arrival The essays were all written after Upfield s death in 1964 and provide a wide range of responses to his fiction The contributors from Australia Europe and the United States include journalist Pamela Ruskin who was Upfield s agent for fifteen years anthropologists literary scholars pioneers in the academic study of popular culture such as John G Cawelti and Ray B Browne and novelists Tony Hillerman and Mudrooroo whose own works have been inspired by Upfield s The collection sheds light on the extent and nature of critical responses to Upfield over time demonstrates the type of recognition he has received and highlights the way in which different preoccupations and critical trends have dealt with his work The essays provide the basis for an assessment of Upfield s place not only in the international annals of crime fiction but also in the literary and cultural history of Australia Decolonizing Trauma Studies: Trauma and Postcolonialism Sonya Andermahr, 2018-10-01 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Decolonizing Trauma Studies Trauma and Postcolonialism that was published in

Humanities Women of Color Elizabeth Brown-Guillory, 2010-06-28 Interest in the mother daughter relationship has never been greater yet there are few books specifically devoted to the relationships between daughters and mothers of color To fill that gap this collection of original essays explores the mother daughter relationship as it appears in the works of African American Asian American Mexican American Native American Indian and Australian Aboriginal women writers Prominent among the writers considered here are Toni Morrison Alice Walker Maxine Hong Kingston Cherrie Moraga Leslie Marmon Silko and Amy Tan Elizabeth Brown Guillory and the other essayists examine the myths and reality surrounding the mother daughter relationship in these writers works They show how women writers of color often portray the mother daughter dyad as a love hate relationship in which the mother painstakingly tries to convey knowledge of how to survive in a racist sexist and classist world while the daughter rejects her mother s experiences as invalid in changing social times This book represents a further opening of the literary canon to twentieth century women of color Like the writings it surveys it celebrates the joys of breaking silence and moving toward reconciliation and growth Travel Writing from Black Australia Robert Clarke, 2015-11-19 Over the past thirty years the Australian travel experience has been Aboriginalized

Aboriginality has been appropriated to furnish the Australian nation with a unique and identifiable tourist brand This is deeply ironic given the realities of life for many Aboriginal people in Australian society On the one hand Aboriginality in the form of artworks literature performances landscapes sport and famous individuals is celebrated for the way it blends exoticism mysticism multiculturalism nationalism and reconciliation On the other hand in the media cinema and travel writing Aboriginality in the form of the lived experiences of Aboriginal people has been exploited in the service of moral panic patronized in the name of white benevolence or simply ignored For many travel writers this irony the clash between different regimes of valuing Aboriginality is one of the great challenges to travelling in Australia Travel Writing from Black Australia examines the ambivalence of contemporary travelers engagements with Aboriginality Concentrating on a period marked by the rise of discourses on Aboriginality championing indigenous empowerment self determination and reconciliation the author analyses how travel to Black Australia has become for many travelers a means of discovering new and potentially transformative styles of interracial engagement
