Insinga, 2013-02-21 The European Avant Garde Text and Image is an interdisciplinary collection of thirteen essays relating to the study of European Avant Garde movements between 1900 and 1940 The essays cover both literary and artistic subjects across geographical linguistic and disciplinary boundaries Various aspects of the English Irish German French Italian Spanish and Polish avant gardes are explored examining both diverse literary genres such as prose poetry and drama and specific avant garde movements such as Futurism and Surrealism The volume includes a lengthy introductory essay by Prof John J White Emeritus Professor of German and Comparative Literature at King's College London Avant garde studies can be enhanced and developed through dialogue with other disciplines such as translation gender exile and comparative studies Thus the volume is divided into four sections Representations of the Body Translating the Avant Garde Identity and Exile and Comparative Perspectives and the Legacy of the Avant Garde Luis Buñuel Román Gubern, Paul Hammond, 2012-01-04

The turbulent years of the 1930s were of profound importance in the life of Spanish film director Luis Buñuel 1900-1983 He joined the Surrealist movement in 1929 but by 1932 had renounced it and embraced Communism During the Spanish Civil War 1936-39 he played an integral role in disseminating film propaganda in Paris for the Spanish Republican cause Luis Buñuel The Red Years 1929-1939 investigates Buñuel's commitment to making the politicized documentary Land without Bread 1933 and his key role as an executive producer at Film Fono in Madrid where he was responsible in 1935-36 for making four commercial features that prefigure his work in Mexico after 1946 As for the republics of France and Spain between which Buñuel shuttled during the 1930s these became equally embattled as left and right totalitarianisms fought to wrest political power away from a debilitated capitalism Where it exists the literature on this crucial decade of the film director's life is scant and relies on Buñuel's own self-interested accounts of that complex period Román Gubern and Paul Hammond have undertaken extensive archival research in Europe and the United States and evaluated Buñuel's accounts and those of historians and film writers to achieve a portrait of Buñuel's Red Years that abounds in new information Dalí Dawn

Ades, Michael R. Taylor, Montserrat Aguer, 2004 Salvador Dalí Felix Fanes, Fèlix Fanés, 2007-01-01 Discusses Dalí's years in Spain and first years in Paris as a young artist provides a detailed assessment of his revolutionary work and shows how the

Documenting Spain: Artists, Exhibition Culture, and the Modern Nation, 1929-1939, The news media have given us potent demonstrations of the ambiguity of ostensibly truthful representations of public events Jordana Mendelson uses this ambiguity as a framework for the study of Spanish visual culture from 1929 to 1939 a decade marked on the one hand by dictatorship civil war and Franco's rise to power and on the other by a surge in the production of documentaries of various types from films and photographs to international exhibitions Mendelson begins with an examination of El Pueblo Espa ol a model Spanish village featured at the 1929 International Exposition in Barcelona She then discusses Bu uel's and Dal's documentary films relating them not only to French Surrealism but also to issues of rural tradition in the formation of regional and national identities Her highly original book concludes with a discussion of the 1937 Spanish Pavilion where Picasso's famed painting of the Fascist bombing of a Basque town Guernica was exhibited along with monumental photomurals by Josep Renau Based upon years of archival research Mendelson's book opens a new perspective on the cultural politics of a turbulent era in modern Spain It explores the little known yet rich intersection between avant garde artists and government institutions It shows as well the surprising extent to which Spanish modernity was fashioned through dialogue between the seemingly opposed fields of urban and rural fine art and mass culture

Marvelous Encounters Willard Bohn, 2005 The concept of poesie critique poetry that possesses both a poetic and a critical function has an extensive history in modern literature Written in response to another work of art be it a painting a film a poem or a piece of music the critical poem comments on the latter in various ways but refuses to abandon its poetic mission Marvelous Encounters examines surrealist poets writing in French Spanish and Catalan who experimented with this intriguing genre The first three chapters are concerned with the French surrealists who began to cultivate critical poetry toward the end of World War I Chapter 2 considers how Louis Aragon and Philippe Soupault appropriated the critical poem as they reviewed books of poetry and films starring Charlie Chaplin Chapter 3 which examines how Benjamin Peret and Paul Eluard conceived of critical poetry analyzes their response to poems by Tristan Tzara and paintings by Giorgio de Chirico and Joan Miro Chapter 4 is devoted entirely to Andre Breton The Screen in Surrealist Art and Thought Haim Finkelstein, 2017-07-05 An interrogation of the notion of space in Surrealist theory and philosophy this study analyzes the manifestations of space in the paintings and writings done in the framework of the Surrealist Movement Haim Finkelstein introduces the screen as an important spatial paradigm that clarifies and extends the understanding of Surrealism as it unfolds in the 1920s exploring the screen and layered depth as fundamental structuring principles associated with the representation of the mental space and of the internal processes that eventually came to be linked with the Surrealist concept of psychic automatism Extending the discussion of the concepts at stake for Surrealist visual art into the context of film literature and criticism this study sheds new light on the way film thinking permeates Surrealist thought and aesthetics In early chapters Finkelstein looks at the concept of the screen as emblematic of a strand of spatial apprehension that informs the work of young writers in the 1920s such as Robert Desnos and Louis Aragon He goes on to explore the way the spatial character of the serial films of Louis Feuillade intimated to the Surrealists a related mode of vision associated with perception of the mystery and the Marvelous lurking behind the surfaces of quotidian reality The dialectics informing Surrealist thought with regard to the surfaces of the real with walls doors and windows as controlling images are shown to be at the basis of Andre Breton's notion of the picture as a window Contrary to the traditional sense of this metaphor Breton's window is informed by the screen paradigm with its surface serving as a locus of a dialectics of transparency and opacity permeability and reflectivity The main aesthetic and conceptual issues that come up in the consideration of Breton's window metaphor lay the groundwork for an analysis of the work of Giorgio de Chirico Ren Aguitte Max Ernst Andre Aragon and Joan Mir he concluding chapter considers The Crucified Mind Robert Havard, 2001 Why is the Spanish input to Surrealism so distinctive and strong What do such renowned figures as Dal Bu uel Lorca Aleixandre and Alberti have in common This book untangles the issue of Surrealism in Spain by focusing on a consistent feature in Spanish avant garde poetry art and film of the late twenties and thirties its supersaturation in religion A repressive religious upbringing typically under the Jesuits intensifies both the paranoiac and the mystical Surrealism's twin pillars which were already deeply ingrained in the Spanish psyche Striking examples are Lorca's prophetic voice in New York Dal and Bu uel's Eucharistic transformations Alberti's Loyolan material mysticism Alberti is the fulcrum of this study since his poetry goes the full distance of Surrealism's evolution from Freudian catharsis to metaphysical transcendence until it expires in a Marxist reaction to church bound tradition when his nation convulses in civil war the surrealist ethos in Spain is not reducible to measuring how closely it imitates French theory It is more serious than the French says Alberti and its bearings are found on a cross of mental suffering and in a journey out of hell that made real art in practice ROBERT HAVARD is Professor of Spanish University of Wales Aberystwyth Monográfico Salvador Dalí Jordi Jové, 2006 El presente n mero de Scriptura pretende analizar algunos aspectos de la obra de Salvador Dal con la finalidad de dar a conocer al artista que se esconde detr s del personaje h bil y productivamente construido por el propio interesado Los distintos art culos presentan estudios que ayudan a entender la obra daliniana tanto art stica como literaria

Federico Garcia Lorca and the Culture of Male Homosexuality Ángel Sahuquillo, 2007-05-31 Spain in the twentieth century gave birth to an array of astounding artistic and literary talent including the passionately iconoclastic writer Federico Garcia Lorca But his works were ill received in the homophobic atmosphere of institutionalized Spanish criticism Because of this atmosphere even today s critics have effectively marginalized and disavowed intimations of homo affectivity and homoeroticism in the great Spanish works This book first appeared in Spain in 1991 as counter discourse against those prevailing ideological structures Before its appearance no significant work had focused on the position of Spanish culture towards homosexuality or on how homosexuality could affect the works of canonical writers Engaging with homosexuality as an imperative source of meaning in artistic work this volume rigorously studies the works of Federico Garcia Lorca and several of his marginalized homosexual contemporaries including Emilio Prados Luis Cernuda Juan Gil Albert and Salvador Dali The study relies on the textual evidence presented by these authors to define the homosexual culture as one plagued by the realities of rejection fear of the law self doubts the lack of an authorized language with which to convey emotions the awareness of disgust around the individual the need to accept marginality to find sexual or emotional satisfaction and the knowledge of one s own social divergence all of which have an enormous influence on any artist s work With this new and updated translation this work offers English speaking readers the opportunity to focus on formal aspects of literary expressions of homosexuality
