Andrew Carpenter,1998 This pioneering anthology introduces many previously neglected eighteenth century writers to a general readership and will lead to a re examination of the entire canon of Irish verse in English Between 1700 and 1800 Dublin was second only to London as a center for the printing of poetry in English Many fine poets were active during this period However because Irish eighteenth century verse in English has to a great extent escaped the scholar and the anthologist it is hardly known at all The most innovative aspect of this new anthology is the inclusion of many poetic voices entirely unknown to modern readers Although the anthology contains the work of well known figures such as John Toland Thomas Parnell Jonathan Swift Patrick Delany Laetitia Pilkington and Oliver Goldsmith there are many verses by lesser known writers and nearly eighty anonymous poems which come from the broadsheets manuscripts and chapbooks of the time What emerges is an entirely new perspective on life in eighteenth century Ireland We hear the voice of a hard working farmer s wife from county Derry of a rambling weaver from county Antrim and that of a woman dying from drink We learn about whale fishing in county Donegal about farming in county Kerry and bull baiting in Dublin In fact almost every aspect of life in eighteenth century Ireland is described vividly energetically with humor and feeling in the verse of this anthology Among the most moving poems are those by Irish speaking poets who use amhran or song meter and internal assonance both borrowed from Irish in their English verse Equally interesting is the work of the weaver poets of Ulster who wrote in vigorous and energetic Ulster Scots The anthology also includes political poems dating from the reign of James II to the Act of Union as well as a selection of lesser known nationalist and Orange songs Each poem is fully annotated and the book also contains a glossary of terms in Hiberno English and Ulster Scots      The Sailors' Magazine and Seamen's Friend ,1891

Letters of Robert Browning to Miss Isa Blagden Robert Browning,1923      Dearest Isa Robert Browning,2014-08-19

Robert Browning's friendship for Isabella Blagden was almost as remarkable as was his love for Elizabeth Barrett. After Elizabeth's death June 1861 Browning went to England to educate their son but he hoped eventually to return to Italy principally so that he might be near his friend Isa. He asked her to write to him once a month on the twelfth promising to answer her letter on the nineteenth. The fulfillment of this obligation resulted in a correspondence which is remarkable from the standpoint of continuity. Most collections of letters suffer from their fragmentary form; there are no continuing threads of interest which hold them together. Not so the letters which Browning wrote to Miss Blagden. They are not in the great English letter writing tradition being obviously written for Isa rather than for posterity but they are filled with the most intimate and interesting sort of gossip and informal exchanges of ideas which give them a character all their own. One hundred and fifty-four letters from Browning to Isabella Blagden are known to be in existence; all of them are included in the present volume together with copious explanatory notes and an illuminating introduction. Edward C McAleer has approached every detail of his editorial task with thoroughness, imagination and skill. His notes will add immeasurably to the pleasure of reading the letters in addition to making a substantial contribution to the world's knowledge of Browning and his associates.
